| The dinner party, included the princlpal as host and Miss Fletcher as bost- ess, numbered twelve. A six course dinner was sarved and to say it was good does not begin to do justice to the splendid repast.  The arrangement of the table was unique: the dishes delicious; the adpearance of the rooom elegant and the service elmply perfect.  Nothing was omitted that would add to the pleasure and satisfaction of the guests.  At the close of the dinner the class was requested to appear in a body, which they did, and Dr. Daly, chairman of the school board, wus asked to express to the class and their teacher our appreciation of the sumptuous feed to which we had been served.  This the Dr, did in his usual happy manner, and were it not for limited space would be worthy of reproduction.  The preparation and the serving of the dinner was whally the work of the class, and for this too much credit cannot be given them.  In the training of this class Mrs. Gardner has proven that she is fully qualified to fill the position to which she has been chosen.  This is the first, but we hape not the last, demonstration of the working of the Domeatic Science department in our High School.  In all, guests teachers and class about twenty six persons were partakers of this bounteous repast at an expense of about 28 cents per plate, counting the supplies at the average market rates. But as aome of the supplies were contributed by members of the class the real outiay in money was about 7 or 8 cents per plate. This is mentioned that one may refleet upon the inexpensiveness of a splendid dinner when prepared under proper aupervision. $\qquad$ One of the guests.  The Antlers Club met Tuesday evening to perfect organization, but owing to the non-arrival of certain necessi- | dent and Miss White, Secretary. Regular meetings of the Circle will be held on the evening of the third Friday of each month, at whioh all parents are invited, and it is hoped that at least one of the parents of each family will joun.  These circles have been doing much to promote the child-welfare in many schools throughout the country. One o the best means of properly rearing child is for the parents to te chums the child. The co-ordinate work teacher and parents will be ahown and result in the uplift of the children a thus well pay for the time spent these circles. There are many things to be suggested at there meetirg waich we hope to speak of in the future.  The meeting was preceded by an interesting program: Music by Miss Cole which was excellentiv rendered. A drill by four little girls-Leah Beall, Fern Abletrom, Aenid Light and Kuth Steele. They sang and acted "Coming through the Rye." They were tranned and reh carsed by Miss Hall. Mrs. Cope- land's solo was fine. Misses Eernard and O'Neil furnished one of their beat duets. Mra. Varrell, who is alwaye ready to help, sang in her best form. The Examiner commends this oragnization to the public and trusts und feels that it's one of the beat circles in the state.  Presbyterian Meetings  If you have not attended the meetings being held by the Presbyterian ehurch at the M. E. Church you have been the looser. The strange sermons by Dr. Anderson and the good music have caused the attendance and the interest to grow each night. Tueniny night Mrs. Farrell sang a beautiful solus Last night Mrs. White aang so am not only to Dlease the audiencebat to touch their hearts. Tonıgbt Mra, Zinlth will sing snd tomorrow Mrs, N. day evening music will be tuxplahed by a ladies quartette. |
