THE EXAMINER IS THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF LAKE COUNTY

VOL. XXXIV.

LAKEVIEW, LAKE COUNTY, OREGON, AUGUST 14, 1913.

NO. 33

NO DAIRY STOCK ON REGULAR TRAIN

Dunaway Says N.-C.-O. Will Give Special Care To Stock.

Owing to the fact that it is likely that several shipments of dairy cattle will be made to Lakeview during the coming fall, an effort was made to have the N.-C.-O. management attach the cars to the regular passenger train, thus avoiding lay-overs and much trouble and inconvenience. In reply General Manager Dunaway states that it is impossible to handle stock on that train, owing to the speed required to satisfy the public, and further that in case of accident the railroad company would be in bad with every one. There are always two sides to a question, and in this instance it would seem that the railroad company got off right. While the shippers of dairy cattle would be greatly benefitted to have their cattle brought in in 12 hours, instead of being compelled to stop over en route, yet none will contend that should an accident befall the passenger train when hauling a car load of cattle but that the railroad company would be censured severely for making a "stock train out of the passenger."

However, Mr. Dunaway adds that his company will give special attention to shipments of dairy stock and endeavor to get them through in good shape. He also requests that the company be given several days' notice of the arrival of the shipments, in order that preparations may be made for their care en route to Lakeview.

Death Changes Schedule

Senator Joseph F. Johnston of Alabama died last week at his apartments in Washington. His death weakens the democratic majority on the administration tariff bill in the senate, though party leaders insist that there still will be no serious difficulty in passing the measure.

In the democratic senate caucus it was declared that 44 senators said they would support the bill on its final passage. At that time Senators Randall and Thornton of Louisiana were the only one to declare they would vote against the bill because of the caucus alignment, democratic leaders figured that the vote on the tariff bill, without defections from each side, would be 49 to 47 for its passage. The death of Senator Johnston leaves the calculation 48 to 47.

ENVOY LIND WILL STUDY CONDITIONS

President Outlines Some Actions To Be Taken Toward Mexico.

John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, arrived safely in Mexico City Sunday night, and the Washington officials have been assured of his courteous treatment in Mexico. Administration officials have declared that no further steps would be taken in carrying out the policy of the United States toward Mexico until Mr. Lind has made a careful study of the situation there.

While Mr. Lind was enroute to the Mexican capital a long conference was held between President Wilson and Secretary Bryan at Washington and the senate foreign relations committee brought no change in the attitude of the administration toward Mexico. However, the president took the senators into his confidence far enough to outline the following:

That John Lind, his special envoy to Mexico City, does not bear any solution of the present situation, but goes to continue this government's effort to induce Provisional President Huerta to redeem his promise for free and constitutional elections.

That under no circumstances does the administration propose to recognize the Huerta government.

That Mr. Lind has gone to Mexico City to be the "eyes and ears" of the Washington administration on the ground, and to explain the attitude of this government when he has fully familiarized himself with the situation; that by withdrawing Ambassador

Wilson and sending Mr. Lind the president planned to have a man on the ground who was in sympathy with the administration here, and was in no sense a factor in the situation in Mexico City.

While the president disclosed no definite plan for the pacification of Mexico, the implication remained that upon Lind's reports would depend to a large extent the future policy of this country.

There was practically no talk of lifting the embargo on the importation of arms into Mexico, which some members of the committee believe would put a speedy end to the difficulties.

President Wilson was firmly of the belief that intervention will not be necessary and some members of the committee, who went to the white house disturbed in mind, came away with the belief that perhaps much of the recent talk in the senate had been unwarranted.

It was reiterated after the conference that Mr. Lind's movements will be left largely to his discretion, after he had talked with William Bayard Hale and other close friends of the administration familiar with the situation in the Mexican capital.

Forest Lands Eliminated

Senator Chamberlain, who has been urging the elimination of agricultural lands from Oregon National forests has been notified that by the Forest Service that 350,000 acres in Paulina forest, near Cresson and La Pine will be eliminated and opened to general public entry immediately, also 60,000 acres in Deschutes forest, along the Deschutes River. The service also will revoke the order against listing agricultural lands within the Siuslaw forest. This will make available for entry all agricultural lands in the Siuslaw forest suitable for agriculture or grazing.

IRISH WILL GIVE PICNIC LABOR DAY

Many Events Being Planned Which Will Be Open To All.

At a meeting held Monday night by the Ancient Order of Hibernians it was decided to have a big picnic at the Hog Ranch, Camas Prairie, on Labor Day. This picnic will be open to the public, and as a means of entertainment a long list of sports to include horse racing, jumping contests, foot races, recitations, singing, band playing, etc. is now being made up. All who come are requested to bring along their lunches. There will be no admission fee charged, and every person who desires is entitled to enter any of the events. Those who attended the big picnic given last year by the Irish residents of the county will look forward to this year's event with much interest, and for the list of events, prizes, etc. should watch the next issue of this paper.

RAINBOW TROUT ARE LIBERATED

Eggs Hatch Successfully and over 100,000 Fish are Planted.

Of the one hundred and ten thousand rainbow trout eggs recently received from Crescent Lake, it is estimated that one hundred thousand of the trout in the fingerling stage were liberated in the various streams of the county. The longest haul made in planting the trout was to Anna River at Summer Lake. Quite a few were lost in removing them to that place but other from this practically all the fish were safely liberated.

Among the streams which were stocked were Crane Creek, Thomas Creek, Cottonwood, Crooked Creek, Twelve Mile, Deep Creek, Chewaucan River, Ana River and other streams of the county. By stocking these streams with Rainbow trout it is quite likely that in a few years that this section will become a favorite retreat for anglers and campers. It will take these fish about two years to attain a size which will permit of their being caught under the laws of Oregon.

LAKE WILL HOLD FAIR

BOARD WILL BE APPOINTED BY THE COUNTY COURT

Details To Be Arranged and Program and Premium List Outlined In Near Future --Dates About October 1st

Lake County is to hold a fair this year. This is the encouraging information given out by County Judge Daly, but inasmuch as details have not been arranged no definite information can be given out as yet. A Fair Board of three will be appointed by the County Court, Judge Daly has requested Commissioner Anderson, who resides at Lake, to name one member from the northern part of the county, and until he is heard from no other members will be appointed.

Under an act of the 1913 legislature Lake County is entitled to $536.93 for County Fair purposes which will be sufficiently argued by a county appropriation to defray expenses of the fair. Aside from the agricultural exhibits, it is probable that premiums will also be given for livestock exhibits, which would most likely prove a strong feature of the fair owing to the extensiveness of the stock raising industry in Lake County. The exact dates have not been set, but the fair will probably be held in the early part of October. The full program and premium list will be published in the Examiner as soon as they are arranged.

GOOSE LAKE MAY HAVE STEAMBOAT

Capt. Jones of Chicago is Investigating Plan for N.-C.-O.

Captain Stephen Jones of Chicago recently arrived at Fairport, and spent a couple of days in Lakeview the first of the week. Capt. Jones came out at the request of the officials of the N.-C.-O. Railway to investigate the proposition of putting a boat on Goose Lake.

President Dunaway of the road was considering the idea of a scow to be used in diverting tonnage from the west side of the lake to Fairport, but Capt. Jones, since making an inspection of the lake, making soundings, etc. states that he will recommend a

KLAMATH MEETING ASSURED SUCCESS

Delegates Going From Lakeview are Requested to Register Names.

The annual meeting of the Central Oregon Development League at Klamath Falls next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday promises to be highly successful and the attendance will largely exceed that of any previous meeting. A splendid program has been prepared, including addresses by prominent men throughout the State, among them being Governor West, William Hanley, President Campbell, of the Eugene State University, Dr. B. Daly and numerous others, while the Oregon Agricultural College will have a large representation present, including Dr. W. J. Kerr, Dr. Withycombe and several professors. Tillman Reuter, the well known dry farming expert, "Farmer" Smith, of the O.-W. R. & N. Co., and many other specialists will also be present.

The program will also include two sessions of domestic science institute, one session of Women's clubs institute, four sessions of farmers' institutes, four business sessions of Development League, and two large public evening meetings.

There will be a large attendance from Lake County, and all who expect to go over are requested to register at the Examiner office. A number of cars will go over, and it is possible that there will be some vacant seats. Therefore, if you desire to attend the meeting leave your name at this office, and if possible arrangements will be made for transportation. All owners of cars intending to make the trip are especially urged to register, inasmuch as special arrangements are to be made for the arrival in the Falls.

STOCK COMPANY ATTRACTS CROWDS

Foster-Elliott Troupe Closes Successful Engagement in Lakeview.

The Foster-Elliott Stock Company finished their six nights engagement in Lakeview Tuesday evening and yesterday departed for Surprise Valley, where they will spend the next couple of weeks, returning here for two nights, August 30 and 31.

Their closing bill Tuesday evening was a reproduction of Marie Correll's masterpiece, "Thelma." While the company made decidedly good in their other performances, we might say that the play, "Thelma," was a dip from the ridiculous to the sublime in comparison with the bills that have

WILLIS DUNIWAY SUDDENLY DIES

R. A. Harris is Appointed State Printer---State in Embarrassing Position.

Willis Scott Duniway, State Printer, died last week in Portland. He had been suffering from valvular heart trouble for about 17 years, but his health did not break down until three years ago. He was a native son of the state of Oregon and was a son of Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway who has been one of the most prominent women in the state.

Mr. Duniway had long been in the public eye, for he had been identified for many years with important political and economic movements. He was an effective public speaker and a competent public official. He was very much in earnest in his efforts to secure reforms in the public printing and he succeeded over strenuous and often acrid opposition.

James E. Godfrey of Salem first loomed up as the successor to Mr. Duniway's office, but on the day of the latter's funeral Governor West appointed R. A. Harris, recently state printing expert to fill the vacancy. Under a law passed at the session of the Legislature in 1911 the appointee will serve as State Printer until January 1, 1915, at a salary of $4000 a year. An act passed at the 1913 session, which will become operative January 1, 1915, provides for a State Printer at a salary of $1800 a year.

The legislature of 1911 passed a flat salary bill for the state printer which was to become effective January 1, 1915, when Mr. Duniway's term of office would have expired. Soon after the close of the session of the legislature they initiated a bill to put the flat salary into effect at once. It was defeated in every county.

The Legislature at the recent session passed a bill providing for a new system in state printing, part of which may be let by contract. Mr. Duniway urged after the passage of this measure the repeal of the one of 1911, arguing that should he die or another emergency arise, under the old set the state would have to purchase a printing plant, which would become useless when the law providing for the contract system becomes effective January 1, 1915. The law repealing the measure was passed, but the Governor vetoed it, announcing that it might be the means of a referendum being invoked on the 1913 law restoring the old system.

The House passed the bill over the veto, but the Senate sustained it by a small vote.

An appropriation of $2000, for the purchase of a printing plant was made by the flat salary bill. Whether an attempt will be made to purchase the plant of Mr. Duniway or a new one will be obtained has not been divulged. However the law makes it mandatory that a plant be provided, and under the law it will be of no use to the state after January 1, 1915.

Exhibit Tags Ready

The Examiner has received a number shipping tags from C. C. Chapman, secretary of the Oregon Development League, which will carry material for the Oregon State Exhibit at the Eastern Land Shows to Portland by freight without cost to the sender. In case of perishable products the tags also carry the material as baggage, checks to be forwarded to the Portland office by mail.

The time is here to begin preparing exhibits for the Land Shows, as nearly all products have reached the proper stage for best shipping. Anyone wishing to send exhibits can get the tags by calling at this office.

NATIONAL HIGHWAY OFFICIAL VISITS

A. L. Westgard Says Lakeview is On Natural Route.

Mr. A. L. Westgard and wife and chaffeur arrived in Lakeview Saturday evening in a large touring car. Mr. Westgard is vice-president of the National Highway Association and is touring the country in the interest of good roads everywhere. The party spent the night here and Sunday in company with County Judge B. Daly made a trip over the roads north of town.

Wide interest is being created by Mr. Westgard's trip and every town and city is anxious to share in the good word that the Highway Association is planning to do. His trip through this country is of vast significance, and he stated to Dr. Daly that Lake County is situated on the logical route for the highway across the state of Oregon, coming from The Dalles

MARKET FOR LAMBS BRISK IN NEVADA

Five-Month Lambs Bring $3.50 Per Head--Market Unsupplied.

The Reno Gazette gives the following concerning the mutton market in Nevada:

With the movement of Nevada stock to eastern and western markets begun and shipments of spring lambs made, it is estimated that already agents of wholesale packers have purchased three quarters of a million dollars worth of lambs in this state.

These lambs are going east and west in about equal proportions, but Chicago seems to have a slight preference over San Francisco.

Nevada spring lambs are selling at $3.50 per head, although only four to five months old. They are on a par with forced fed spring chickens, and with ducklings which are nearly full size at the tender age of four to five weeks. They are said to average about 40 pounds dressed now.

The big markets at Kansas City, Chicago and the west cannot get enough of them at this time of the year.

KELT'S DEER HELD VERY MUCH LEAD

Camping Party Returns After Enjoyable Outing on Chewaucan.

Filled with thrilling tales of exciting hunting and fishing expeditions [and imbued with the fascinations of jungle life, the camping party composed of Mrs. James McShane and daughter, Ester, Miss Nettie Holbrook, Mrs. Wm. Gunther, Loyd Ogle, Kelton Gunther, Eldon Carrey and George Whorton, returned to town last Saturday evening after having spent two weeks in the Little Chewaucan country.

The boys report good fishing but such pastime was too tame to satisfy their lofty ambitions and the most of their time was spent in trailing the festive deer. However, their searches were fruitless in this respect and all they returned home with were sun-burned faces and improved appetites. A near tragedy occurred when one young man almost made a target of himself for another by being suspected for a deer, but this near catastrophe lost all phases of seriousness when it was learned that a real buck posed for seven shots before the same young man who was behind the gun in this case. Apparently the deer did not realize his imminent danger as after the bombardment ceased, tiring of remaining so long in one position, he peacefully meandered to other quarters.

The trip was enjoyed immensely by all who participated and the vacation proved of benefit to all concerned.

A. O. H. Hold Picnic

The picnic held last Sunday at Camas Prairie under the auspices of the local division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was attended by about one hundred of the Irish residents of the county, with their families. The affair was in the form of a lunch basket social. The program of entertainment consisted of several very interesting horse races, jumping contests, foot races and other sports—in all of which some very good records were made. Recitations and speeches by some of the boys were also on the schedule, and all who participated were warmly applauded. Altogether the day was a very enjoyable one, and one which will be remembered for some time to come by the members of the A. O. H. and their countrymen.

CHICAGO IS HOT BURG, SAYS SMITH

Parisian Owners Return After Buying Swell Line of Millinery.

"I did not see them carry out six victims of heat and prostration a minute in Chicago but it was not enough to make me do what Spareribs is always trying to do—Call a taxi!—and beat it for the nearest depot and tell the engineer to pull her wide open and go as fast as he liked as long as he would bring us back to Lake County."

Thus ruminated J. Chas. Smith, of the Parisian Millinery, who returned last Thursday evening in company with Mrs. Smith from the Windy City where they went several days since to purchase their fall stock of millinery.

"While in Chicago I backed up as close as I could to the ice trust," explained Smith, "but even the blocks of congealed water radiated heat. I hailed a passing mint julep, and my thermometer went clear over the hurdles. I tried buttermilk, but some how couldn't enjoy it parboiled."

"I saw people go out and fall into the lake with their clothes on. They would come out steaming like a hot towel. The nights were worse than the days. No breeze, no air, no rest, no comfort, no nothing, but heat, hellish and persistent."

"The sun made a perfect batting average for about ten successive days and felled his position without an error."

Mr. Smith also added "we bought a line of millinery and ladies' furnishings that is the best ever, which will soon be on display at the Parisian."
