When the button was turned in Washington it was suddenly followed by a muffled roar of the discharge of sixteen hundred pounds of dynamite which sent a shower of rock, mud and water into the air, spreading out as it went upward, the whole heavily veiled in a cloud of smoke. It was considered by experts as a remarkably clean explosion. A section of the dyke sixty feet wide was lifted bodily from its bed and its component parts scattered far and wide.

On Tuesday of this week Mr. Churchill enjoyed his 51st birthday, Mrs. M. Barry, Plush. an incident which by the way he kept from his friends and associates who were here attending the institute.

Mr. Churchill paid high tribute to Lakeview's school system, and said that when the agricultural branch is added to the course of studies, which the board has promised for next year. we will have as good a high school as there is in the state, not excepting the largest cities.

During the number of years that Mr. Churchill was superintendent of the Baker City, now Baker, schools he made that city famous throughout the entire west for its modern and superior educational facilities. On his present tour over the state attending county institutes, the one thought he is endeavoring to impress upon the mind of instructors is "teach the child and not the subject." He is one of, it not the best, educators in the west. a pointer which Oregon voters will doubtless remember when the time for next election comes.
