KLAMATH FALLS, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1908.

DAIRY EXPERT COMPLIMENTS NORTHWEST.

(Special Correspondence.)

Hon. F. H. Scribner, President of the Wisconsin Buttermakers' Association, but more especially honored in the Pacific Northwest as the breeder of "Loretta D." (belonging to the W. S. Ladd estate, Portland, Oregon), the cow that won first prize in the hundred and twenty day milking test at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904, has said:

"There is no spot in the United States that can excel Oregon and Washington in dairying. This is my conclusion after spending six weeks in the former state and thoroughly investigating several of her beautiful valleys, and after an extended trip through Washington. I wish to say to the dairymen and farmers of this section, relative to its dairy possibilities, that I fear they don't fully appreciate the wonderful opportunity here for the raising of feeds best adapted to the dairy industry, and the excellent climatic conditions for the growth and development of stock. You should here reach the climax of productiveness."

Mr. Scribner's Wisconsin farm of eighty acres supports, under his skillful management, ninety head of stock.

Even more successful than former displays was the Eighth Biennial Fruit Fair at Hood River. A very large delegation went from Portland by special train on Saturday.

Harper's Weekly is planning a series of articles on the Pacific Northwest to appear in early issues, and J. K. Mumford, one of America's most prominent magazine writers, is personally gathering the data now.

Hon. John Barrett, Director of the International Bureau of American Republics, will spend this week in Washington and Oregon, making addresses at Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane, and Portland. In Portland he spoke on "Oregon's Opportunities in the Pacific."

"If the community wants to get desirable immigration it's certainly within the province of the ministers to help," is an idea that promises to bear fruit in many Northwestern cities most active in presenting their claims to the country at large. Among his other announcements the minister asks his congregation for addresses of friends at distant points, and the commercial body co-operates by sending attractive literature and letters.

Rendered destitute by a fire which destroyed $500,000 worth of property in Blabec, Arizona, already staggering under the loss of the great flood of a few months ago, its business men are planning to abandon the townsite. Only dynamite saved the city from total destruction when the flames which started in the Grand Hotel swept through the city. First two blocks on each side of Main street went and then the fire, leaving the business quarter, leaped into the residential section practically consuming every house for blocks.

With practically 1000 delegates in attendance from all parts of the country, the National Grain Dealers' Association is in session at St. Louis. A. E. Reynolds, the president, figured largely on the opening session. The plan to establish federal inspection of grain promises to be one of the important topics. The project was voted down at last year's session, but will be brought up again. The discussion will practically align the east against the west. Grain grades higher in the west at the point of shipment, and on arrival in the east is regraded. With federal inspection and uniform grading eastern buyers would have to accept the grading at shipment. They oppose the plan for this reason. "Trading in grain futures is another subject on which the convention may speak positively."

Matrimonial knots tied in haste will often stand even the gentlest tugs of adversity.

A Chicagoan is troubled by the fact that he has inherited a million dollars. He does not know what to do with the money. Take it first, old man; there will be plenty of time for worrying about it afterward.

A little boy of eight years, attending school away from home, wrote a letter to his sister, from which the following extract is taken: "We had a spelling match in school today, and I spelled all the boys down and won the meddle."—November Delineator.

Considering that moustaches are all out of style it seems as though Michael J. McBride of Jamaica, N. Y., put too high a price on his. Some of his friends shaved off his moustache as a joke, and he is suing them for $2000 damages, alleging his moustache was worth that much to him.

For the first time in the history of the nation professional actors gave a performance within the precincts of the White House. On Friday night and Saturday morning the Ben Greet players gave performances upon the White House lawn. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the Washington Playground Association.

Jean Arent of Hamilton, Ind., was granted a divorce from his wife because she was a Holy Roller, and stayed out late at nights to pray. The judge decided that there should be praying within reason. The next day after getting the divorce, Arent married a woman whose only qualification was that she had never said a prayer in all her life.

The Western Union Telegraph company, which has just paid a cash dividend of 1 per cent, is declared to have had its revenues decreased $4,274,194 during the fiscal year ending June 30 because of a strike of its telegraphers and general business depression. Despite drastic economies, the company's net revenues were only $2,402,997, a decrease of $2,490,925. During the year its messages decreased in number 12,433,264.

Gus Hahlich was sued for 5 cents in a justice's court in Indianapolis, Ind., last week, by William Riley, a street car conductor. The suit is the smallest demand for damages ever filed in the state. Riley alleges that Hahlich issued tickets bearing upon their backs a design very similar to tickets issued by the street car company. Such a ticket was palmed off on Riley by a passenger. Riley had to make good with the company.

Skirmishes that followed the refusal of the Chinese war office to permit a detachment of the Japanese soldiers to pursue a band of Chinese marauders across the Korean line into China, bids fair to lead to serious complications between China and Japan. Unless a satisfactory explanation is made, the Japanese in several northern Korean garrisons will hereafter disregard boundary lines in their clashes with the Chinese. The Chinese attacked the police station in Kantao, occupied by Japanese soldiers, and in the fighting that followed, the Chinese were routed, after several had been killed. The commander of the garrison requested permission to cross after the Chinese but it was refused. The foreign office has called on Peking for an explanation.

We usually attribute our dreams to something we have eaten. Green apples, for instance, are blamed for many of the small boy's midnight troubles. A New York man has just completed an airship that is based on an idea that came to him while he slept. Are we to understand from this that he had float for supper the night before.

Freaks vs. Novelties

IF WE OFFERED YOU A SUIT WITH A SHEET IRON VEST AND BRASS CUFFS ON THE COAT, YOU'D LAUGH IT, AND SO WOULD WE—IF YOU HAD BOUGHT THAT KIND OF A SUIT. SOME MAKERS ARE FINDING A FEW SHORT-SIGHTED MERCHANTS WHO WILL OFFER THE PUBLIC THE HYSTERICAL CREATIONS WHICH THEY FOIST UPON THEM.

FRIEND MADE CLOTHES and ALMA MATER STUDENT STYLES are the most advanced styles made—they are the first to bring out the novelties of the looms and the dyers, while their own designing represents the newest ideas in tailoring. Every garment they make is intended for gentleman's wear—not for walking sign boards. If you want to be conspicuous, don't buy your clothes here—If you want your clothes neat, perfect fitting, stylish and in good taste we'd like to serve you. Our novelties are not freakish—and we show more of them than any store in the city.
