CHINESE GOVERNMENT IS PANIC STRICKEN BY PROGRESS OF REBELLION, AND PLAGUE AND FLOOD ADD TERRORS

It is believed that Yuanshi Kai is waiting to ascertain the rebel strength and if the rebel success continues, will join them. If it does this means that nearly the entire army joins the rebellion.

Thirteen transport trains left here carrying 30,000 troops, destination unknown.

The Yangtze is again flooding, and thousands are reported as perishing from starvation. A pestilence is raging, and at one place the death rate is reported at 200 daily.

A Shanghai cable says: It is reported that rebels are planning to attack Woosung forts, and the Kiangnan arsenal. If they succeed it means probably that they will invade Shanghai. Communication to Hankow is interrupted. Refugees say the main rebel force is encamped about Wuchang and building breastworks. They have 140 field guns.

AUCTION SIGNALS END OF HOSTELRY LAKESIDE INN OUT

OF BUSINESS, AND FURNITURE OF ALL KINDS GOES UNDER THE HAMMER—MARKS CITY'S FORWARD TEND

An auction sale held at the Lakeside Inn this morning by Mrs. M. McMillan to dispose of the furniture of the old hostelry marks the closing of one of the oldest stopping places in Klamath Falls, and also emphasizes that the business center of the city is rapidly advancing farther to the east.

The passing of the Lakeside Inn, which has writ its fair share of history in this town, and the intended removal of the Livermore to Main and Fourth streets in a few weeks, with the opening of the new White Potters Hotel about the same time mark an important epoch in the hotel life of Klamath Falls.

This morning's event attracted considerable attention and attendance, as there are a great many people in the city desirous of getting various items for household equipment for less than they can be bought now.

Mrs. McMillan caused some of the staid natives of the burg some amusement by the human calculator who was sent abroad through the highways and byways to make known that the auction sale was held upon them.

The crier was a colored man in a buggy. His double accomplishment of ringing a large and appetizing dining bell at the same time he poured forth oratory on the subject of the auction caused many a housewife to hurry to the front window to see what was doing and led to much merriment among pedestrians down town.

County Commissioner Guy Merrill was auctioneer for the event, and the sounds of his voice struck the west bank of hills beyond the river and flew up Main street with reverberations that told the story in no uncertain way. There was everything for sale that one could reasonably ask for, and sales were numerous. Tables both for bedroom stands and for dining; all sorts of chairs, dishes, bedding, beds, bodysprings, mattresses and many other staple items of domesticity were up for the highest bidder.

Mayor Fred T. Sanderson viewed the proceedings, but did not buy anything. The council needs about a dozen more chairs, thinks the mayor, and his visit to the sale was probably prompted by this thought. A good many city folks were on hand to make the occasion lively this morning, and the country people are expected to take part in the proceedings this afternoon.

Mrs. M. McMillan, proprietor of the Lakeside Inn, has been conducting the place for the past seven years, and proposes, with her daughter, to take a well deserved rest.

Two Men Have Right Eyes Taken Out By Physicians In San Francisco

H. E. Winward of Langell Valley had his right eye removed on Thursday last by Dr. W. A. Martin in San Francisco. Mr. Winward had been accompanied to the Golden Gate city some days before that by Dr. C. V. Fisher of this city, who had been treating the injury, and desired to have the assistance of the San Francisco specialist in consultation and treatment. Dr. Fisher returned to this city Friday, leaving Winward in care of Dr. Martin, who determined that to try to save it would be futile.

Mr. Winward, who is a ranchman in Langell Valley, had an accident some weeks ago while doing some farm work. He was assisting another man who was chipping a piece of rabbit metal from a piece of farm machinery when a fragment of the metal struck him in the eye, and later infection started an ulceration which Dr. Fisher thought might possibly be stopped, and in the hope of this accomplishment he took the patient to

TYPHOID VICTIM, FIFTH OF MALADY

Lars Eric Highberg, native of Sweden, died at an early hour this morning of typhoid fever, making the fifth victim to succumb to this affliction since cases of it became numerous in this city.

He was a single man, 28 years, 4 months and 28 days old, and had been a laborer at the construction camp of Erickson & Peterson company on the new railroad beyond Chiloquin. His cousin, A. Peterson of San Francisco, came Saturday night to look after the sick relative, and will start back to that city tomorrow with the body.

San Francisco, where, with his fellow physician it was found that repeated cauterizations failed to stem the progress of the infection. The removal of the eye was decided upon by Dr. Martin after Dr. Fisher had returned to this city.

Dr. Fisher made a second trip to San Francisco with Dr. G. C. Mitchell, whose right eye was pierced by the tines of a pitchfork over a week since, when Dr. Mitchell was doing some choring in his barn. In conference with Dr. Martin it was determined the better policy to remove the eye, of which the sight could not be restored, and the two physicians performed the operation on Saturday. Dr. Fisher has returned to this city.

Mrs. L. M. Davis, who has been visiting with Mrs. E. Hoagland of the Oregon House, expects to leave about the last of the month for Long Beach, where she will spend the winter months.
