

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. White tendered a party to the A. W. W. Club and their friends Thursday evening at their home in the Hot Springs addition. This affair was unique from the fact that everything was on the order of patent medicines, and the large number of guests who attended the entertainment were arrayed in medicinal decorations. The home was decorated in the various forms of medical advertisements, and added very effectively to the uniqueness of the occasion. Among the various games and pastimes of the evening a guessing contest called forth a great deal of merriment, it being the task of each to guess what medicine was represented by those present. Another form of amusement for the evening's program was the arrangement of various medicine bottles in a cabinet, and these were given to those as prescriptions for their complaints. This being one of the ways of serving the punch, as each person who announced his ailment received one bottle of the fluid, and created no little amount of amusement among the guests. Following the evening's entertainment there was served a light supper. The menu cards for this were gotten up in the style of drug advertisements, and the different articles of food were represented as medicines that were to be found in the drug store. The supper consisted of sandwiches and salad for the first course, and following this was ice cream and then coffee. The sugar was in the form of capsules, thus adding to the originality of the occasion. Mr. Delsell went through the process of describing the virtues of what each represented, and his allegory on these proved to be amusing as well as unique. Dr. F. M. White gave a short address, which was followed by the awarding of prizes to the different winners. Those who received prizes were Mrs. Sites, Mr. Goeller and Mr. Wattenburg. The entertainment was a pronounced success, and when the clock struck 12, at which time the guests departed, it was with the expression that they had had a most enjoyable evening. Those who took part in the evening festivities were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. White, hostess, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Goeller, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Summers, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Faught, Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Cummings, Mrs. Geo. Hurns, Mrs. M. Sargeant, Mrs. H. Nnewham, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dunbar, Mrs. Sites, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Delsell, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Ramsby, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wattenburg, and the Misses Ruth and Hattie White.

A pleasant moonlight party was Thursday night enjoyed by a host of young folks of this city, the Ewauna, piloted by Tom Williams, being the vehicle and the prettiest surroundings of the river forming the setting. Those in the party were: Miss Clara Rounsevell, J. Hardin Carter, Miss Wave Lindsey, Mrs. Barbara Gader, Harold Feese, Glenn B. Garrett, Miss Elizabeth Houston, Miss Margaret Dunbar, Joseph Skelton, Kathrine Williams, Donald Worden, James Lyttle, Margaret Williams and Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Gregory.

The Ewauna took the party at a rattling speed as far as Teeters' Landing, and then returned to the city by way of the island. This method of outing will no doubt become popular in Klamath Falls.

Your eyes need glasses. Dr. Hermann, eyesight specialist, will be at the Hotel Livermore, from Monday, April 15, to Sunday, April 21. 41f
