Editorial by Senators Root, Page and McCumber Prevent Action, But It Is Expected That the Senate Will Pass the Bill Late This Afternoon—Pearce Wants Probe on Its Merits

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—When it appeared today that the senate would pass the new budget bill, the measure was tied up as a result of a filibuster by Senators Root, Page and McCumber against the consideration of that portion of the measure which creates a department of labor. It is expected that the bill will pass the senate, however, late this afternoon.

Senator Perkins of Pennsylvania moved in the senate today that a committee be instructed to investigate campaign contributions and examine the charges against him. He said he would seek action on the motion in the senate this afternoon.

PYTHIANS PLAN TO HAVE RALLY

SIX KNIGHTS CONTEMPLATE ACTING AS HOST TO NEIGHBORING LODGES AT FAIR TIME. WHEN WOODMEN HAVE LOW RATES

At the next weekly meeting of the members of Klamath Lodge No. 99, Knights of Pythias, the members will discuss plans for the annual rally which has been a feature of the lodge life here the past few years. The idea as it stands now is to have members of neighboring lodges come here to meet with the Klamath Falls contingent, and stir up a good time generally. It is possible that brethren from Ashland, Grants Pass, Dorris and Yreka will be invited. Sixteen Knights may be asked also. The get-together will probably be held about the time of the Klamath county fair and log rolling of the Woodmen of the World.

Two years ago the Knights had a big time here, acting as host for the Ashland, Grants Pass and Medford lodges. At that time an excursion was given to the Upper Lake, which was largely attended.

GIRL HAPPY; GRADY IS SAD

MAN WHO SWORE BRIDE WAS OVER AGE WILL HAVE TO FACE PERJURY CHARGE—THE BRIDE IS ENJOYING HERSELF

HOOD RIVER, Aug. 2.—Miss Vivian E. Shumway, the pretty 16-year-old daughter of C. C. Shumway, a wealthy farmer residing near Ranier, Ore., who recently ran away with Marian R. Neal and came to Hood River and was married, is living happily in her new Hood River home, but things are not so smooth for H. P. Grady, who swore before the county clerk that the young woman was of lawful age. Her father has been in Hood River and has lodged a complaint with the district attorney, charging Grady with perjury.

Miss Maude Rippey, who last year had charge of the primary grade in the Riverside school, and who has been assigned to the same grade for this year, arrived from her Medford home last night. Tomorrow Miss Rippey will accompany Miss Lois Meyer to the Meyer home near Long Lake, where the two teachers will enjoy themselves until the school term opens.

Ewauna Encampment No. 46, I. O. O. F., will hold its regular bi-weekly session in Odd Fellows' hall. Visiting brothers are invited to meet with the camp.

Victim of Fall From Pole was Storekeeper and Not a Trained Electrician, is the Claim Made

A coroner's inquest is being held this afternoon to fix the responsibility for the death of Horace Cox. Upon the result of this investigation will depend to a certain extent the question of starting suit against the California-Oregon Power Co.

Friends of the young man declare that it will be shown that his death was due directly to the rules of the company, and that a damage suit for a large sum will be successfully prosecuted.

The young man, a favorite among his associates and an aspirant for legal honors, is very well known in the Klamath country, and his death has come as a distinct shock to the community.

Considerable interest is being taken in the inquest this afternoon, and it is expected that some startling facts will be brought out. That young Cox was engaged as a storekeeper for the company, but that he was required at times to perform the hazardous duties of a lineman will be brought out, it is claimed. In this event, local attorneys say that the power company may be made to pay dearly for the young man's death.

TWO BISHOPS TO VISIT CITY

SCADDING EXPECTED TO PASS THROUGH HERE TOMORROW AND PADDOCK SCHEDULED TO HOLD SERVICES VICE REV. COLLINS

Bishop Scadding of the Episcopal church for the diocese of Oregon, is expected to arrive here tomorrow, accompanied by Mrs. Scadding, to make a trip to Upper Lake Klamath for an outing.

Bishop Robert L. Paddock, who presides over the Eastern Oregon diocese, is to be here for Sunday, when he will begin holding services in the Church of the Redeemer in the stead of Rev. Henry C. Collins, who is away on his vacation. Bishop Paddock, who comes here from Lakeview, where he spent last Sunday with communicants of the faith, will conduct services for the Klamath Falls Episcopal congregation until the return of Rev. Collins, who is expected to be away three Sundays. Rev. Collins has been sojourning toward The Dalles on horseback.

John Shook, the Yonah Valley rancher, was in the city today from his home near Dairy.

Dropping head first from an electric light pole on the corner of Ninth and Bush streets, Horace Cox, 29 years of age, was instantly killed at 5:45 Wednesday afternoon.

Young Cox was storekeeper for the California-Oregon Power company. Just before the fatal accident he called at the home of Jack Pringle, lineman, with the information that a primary was down. Mr. Pringle started at once with Cox to repair the damage, caused by the high wind, but when near the scene of the accident Mr. Pringle started back to get some tools.

When he was returning he saw young Cox climbing a pole. The 2200 volt line was lying so that it could swing across a telephone wire. Young Cox came in contact with the phone line just at the high voltage wire swung over, thereby completing the circuit.

The shock caused him to loosen his hold and he fell head first to the ground, a distance of about 12 feet, striking the top of his head on a rock.

Mr. Pringle hurried to his assistance, but the unfortunate young man gave no sign of life. Death must have been instantaneous.

Horace Cox's father was Dr. Horace Cox, who for years was situated on the Klamath Indian Agency, while his mother, before her marriage to Dr. Cox, had been Miss Daisy Paine. Her mother, Mrs. Snyder, now past 80 years of age, lives in Portland, where she continues in active business at the Goodnough building.

Two years after the death of Horace's mother, Dr. Cox married Miss Maude Brandenburg, daughter of Mrs. Nellies Brandenburg and sister of the present postmaster of Klamath Falls, Clyde K. Brandenburg, and Floyd Brandenburg.

The young man is survived by an older sister, Lucille, who is Mrs. Cal Dunning of Berkeley, Calif. She is—

During the last of the examination Colonel Poorman, however, became angered because of being accused by the district attorney of making contradictory statements, and declared that the men were in fit condition to make the march, declaring that he had observed that they were not too tired in the evening after they had received their pay to leave camp.
