GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

TO DARKEN THE HAIR AND RESTORE GRAY AND FADED HAIR TO ITS NATURAL COLOR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hair before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its luster, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

National Dyers and Cleaners Association Will Advocate a Battle Similar to That Battle for the Pure Food

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—Wanted—A Dr. Wiley to fight for "pure cloth."

This might stand as a permanent "ad" for certain manufacturers, dealers and various associations dealing in goods for wearing apparel, now lining up to drive from the market the deadly "adulterated fabric," which is fast eating great holes in the pocketbook of the ultimate consumer, or see that it is branded, and not passed off as a "pure food."

The National Dyers and Cleaners Association jumped boldly into the fight at the recent convention in St. Louis by passing a resolution favoring legislation to brand adulterated goods. They have pledged to their support other associations whose members handle fabrics in different ways and together with various manufacturers and dealers associations will send a committee to Washington to work for a national law requiring the branding of adulterated goods, just the same as the pure food law requires the branding of adulterated foods.

"The average housewife does not know that 50 per cent of the silk sold over the counters is adulterated," said W. D. Wade, chairman of the committee on resolutions of the Dyers Association in St. Louis. "The general impression is that silk does not

 While it thoroughly cleanses, it also prevents bacterial action—nourishes and stimulates the roots of the hair—removes all dandruff—preserves the natural beauty and color of the hair.
