The department of home economics of the Women's Library Club, which department is under the direction of Mrs. C. V. Fisher, held its first meeting in the basement of the Library Club building Friday, at which time plans for the work to be carried on were outlined. The fact that fifteen new members were received into the Library Club at this meeting attests the interest women are taking in the new lines of work taken up by the organization. Mrs. Bert C. Thomas, who formerly had charge of domestic science work in Indiana schools, led Friday's meeting. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Clara Elmer, in charge of home science work in the local grade schools, and who made a number of valuable suggestions. The next session of the organization will be held October 23, when "The House" will be the subject discussed. Meetings will be held alternate Fridays, and at the following meeting "The Chemistry of Cooking" will be taken up, the lectures to be supplemented by demonstrations of cooking.

The Women's Library Club is in receipt of an application from the county library to place a case of books in the Women's library, as one of the deposit stations. This has been referred to the library board for consideration.

Cards, dancing, and an impromptu "birthday rush" were features of a highly enjoyable affair given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Evans in Hot Springs Addition Thursday night. After invitations had been issued, it was learned that the date was also the birthday anniversary of one of the guests, Miss Ruth Saucerman. At the party she was the surprised recipient of a shower of kitchen utensils—a shower so big that the elongated upper extremities of A. Oehler were taxed for carrying capacity on the homeward trip. After cards had been enjoyed, dancing was in order, and during the evening dainty refreshments were served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Sid B. Svans, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Darling, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bellman, Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell M. Long, Miss Ruth Saucerman, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bellman, Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. West, Mr. Albrecht Oehler, Miss Jennie Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lewis.

The evening was spent pleasantly in playing a variety of games, and at a late hour a supper was served, following which the happy throng dispersed, wishing Mr. Icenbice many more happy returns of the day.

Arriving at Saint Cloud late Thursday evening, an assemblage of twenty couples made up for lost time by dancing well into the morning hours. After the supper served at midnight, Commodore Nosler's Mechanical Opera company was marshalled into the gallery, and this caused animated rivalry between these wooden ladies and the fair guests, as to who made the best appearance. The gentlemen were required to decide this, and although the visitors outnumbered them four to one, the "singers" got the decision. This, of course, caused a lot of merriment, but in the mind of the Commodore, the most pleasing incident was the "ten thousand miles away" stepped off by a couple of expert dancers. The step was appropriately appropriate, as six months ago the lady was in Nome, Alaska, and the gentleman in South Africa, verily "ten thousand miles away."

The members of the new Fort-nightly Club spent a very pleasant afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles S. Moore. Auction bridge was played at two tables, and to Mrs. E. R.
