CONCERNING OUR SCHOOLS

Matters of Interest to Pupils, Patrons, Teachers, Taxpayers

Editor's Note—In this department it is the intention of The Herald to present as much as possible concerning the schools of Klamath county, and which concerns not only the teachers and pupils, but the board of directors and all other persons in each district. In order to make it serve this purpose in the most possible manner, the co-operation of each school district is urged, and we will be glad to get before our readers things that the schools are interested in. Please send them in. They will be welcomed.

OFFICIAL LIKES KLAMATH SCHOOLS TWO NEW SCHOOLS BECOME STANDARD FAIRVIEW HAS MADE PROGRESS

STATE FIELD WORKERS GREATLY IMPRESSED WITH PROGRESSIVE SPIRIT IN RURAL DISTRICTS OF COUNTY

"I saw much of interest in all of the Klamath county schools I have visited, and it is indeed gratifying to note the progress that is being made and the awakened interest in school matters being taken by patrons," said L. P. Harrington, field worker for the state department of education, who is here in the interests of the Industrial Club work.

"I have taken many pictures here, some showing the old and new buildings in each district, and these contrasting views will be made into stereopticon slides for use in state lectures. Klamath county has reason to be proud, not only of her splendid high school, which is considered a state model, but in the grade schools of both city and country."

While he is working for the state industrial projects, maintained and supervised by the Oregon Agricultural College, Mr. Harrington, in all parts of the county under the Klamath reclamation project is urging the pupils to enter the contest started by the Klamath Water Users Association, in which three colts, three calves, three pigs and three pens of turkeys are to be given the children raising the best potatoes, wheat, oats and barley, the best of seed to be furnished the children by the association.

"The two projects can be carried on admirably together," he said. "The state contests are practically the same, and the winners in the water users' competition can also enter for the state prizes. The object of the work is the same in both cases—the providing of intensive and extended courses in agriculture for the young people."

The state industrial projects include sewing, baking, canning, vegetable gardening, poultry raising, dairy herd record keeping, pig raising, corn potato, fruit, field pea and bean growing, seed grain selection and farm and home handicrafts.

REMOVED PINK GROVE, HENLEY AND SUMMERS DISTRICTS MAKE REQUIREMENTS AND RECEIVE CERTIFICATES

Two more schools have received state standard certification for the improvements, etc., around buildings, application to study and good attendance. These are Summers school and Henley school. Miss Bertha Ewell, whose excellent plan for furnishing hot lunch to the pupils attending the Summers school has been commented upon in this column, has received great assistance from the board of directors of District No. 31 in bringing her school to standard. Miss Ethel Hawkhurst is teacher of the Henley school, and this year has marked a commendable improvement in all lines at the district.

The standard school requirements were decided by the state board of education last summer. When each requirement is met by a district, it is marked with a star, and when all are met, a certificate will be issued by the county school superintendent. The requirements follow:

FLAG—Must be flying, weather permitting.
SCHOOL HOUSE—Properly lighted, equipped with teacher's desk and chair; desks for pupils properly adapted and placed; suitable blackboards; window shades in good condition.

HEATING AND VENTILATING—Jacketed stove properly situated, minimum requirement; window boards or some other approved method of ventilating.

ROOMS—Attractive at all times. STANDARD PICTURE—One new one, unless three are already in the room, framed.

GROUNDS—To be clean, free from paper, etc. At least three features of play apparatus. Walks if necessary. SITUATION—Pure drinking water, either drinking fountain or covered tank and individual drinking cups; individual, family or paper towels. Outbuildings—At least two good ones, to be sanitary at all times and free from marks.

TEACHER—Must maintain good order at all times, supervise the playground; have her work well prepared; follow state course of study; take at least one educational journal; have program posted in room; keep register in good condition; be neat in attire. LIBRARY—Good selection of books from state list. Care for the books. Books kept upright in good condition and recorded according to rules specified by Oregon state library and required by law.

ATTENDANCE—Average 82 per cent for year and not to exceed 2 per cent in tardiness per year. LENGTH OF TERM—Not less than eight months of school each year.

ILLUSTRATED TALKS ON ALASKA THURSDAY

Tomorrow night at the Pine Grove school, Elder S. D. Harlan of this city will flash stereopticon scenes of Alaska, while W. E. Soehorn and J. I. Johnstone will talk on the wonderful northern country. Both men resided there for several years. No charge will be made for the lectures.

LOVE FINE ORGANIZING AN AUDUBON SOCIETY

A short time ago the people of Love Fine, Oregon, No. 27, organized an Audubon Society, choosing for a name "The Love Fine Audubon Society" and elected the following officers:

GROUNDS FENCED, WELL DRESSED AND TREES TO BE PLANTED—INTERIOR RECEIVING ATTENTION

The Fairview school, district 36, has made splendid progress during the year. The board has purchased a good wood-house, fenced grounds (which, by the way, are an up-to-date school), a well being drilled on the grounds. Plans are made to set out trees to further improve the grounds.

A new book case has been purchased and hung on the wall and other conveniences have been added here and there. Fairview soon have a model school plant. The teacher is Miss Esther Andrews, and the school officers are as follows: Chairman, John Maloney; directors, J. H. Barnes and O. Clark, Robert Cheyne.

German Raider Dresden Is Finally Sunk by the Britons

The German cruiser Dresden, the only one of Vice Admiral von Spee's squadron which escaped after the battle with the British fleet off the Falkland Islands in December, has been sunk. The Dresden was destroyed off Juan Fernandez Island, west of Chile.

The Dresden escaped from Sir John Jellicoe's British squadron after the Falkland Islands battle December 8, in which three German cruisers were destroyed. It sailed south, and later sank the British merchant ship, the 490-ton steamer, the Esmeralda, and was finally sunk by the British battleship Hood on January 15.
