SOCIETY

The Shippington Sewing Club was entertained this week at the home of Mrs. H. J. Lockwood. Those present were Mrs. C. Hill, Mrs. A. Wickstrom, Mrs. J. P. Bonham, Mrs. B. B. Yancy, Miss W. H. Harland, Mrs. H. Putman, Mrs. E. H. Yancy, Mrs. G. W. Nehrbass and Mrs. Y. B. Finnell. Mrs. Carl Adams of Klamath Falls was a visitor at the club meeting. The afternoon was spent in needlework, and luncheon was served by the hostess.

A jolly time was had at the home of Mrs. J. P. Bonham Tuesday afternoon, when the kiddies of Shippington met to celebrate the fifth anniversary of Miss Blanche Bonham. Those present were Alton Francis, Roy Central, Grant Harland, Melvin Bonham, George Nehrbass, Una Lockwood, Dorthea Nehrbass, Evelyn Francis, Lucille Francis, Cordelia Central, Blossom Parker, Lucille Harland, Phoebe Thornton, May Thornton, Ester Wickstrom and Mary Finnell. Ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Bonham and the afternoon was enjoyably spent in games.

A very unique and enjoyable evening was had on Thursday evening in the bachelor apartments of Ralph Lorillard Carter, in the Page-Stratton building. Mr. Carter was host to Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Evans of Calburn, Canada, and their daughter, Miss Mabel Evans, of this city. Mr. Carter had, unassisted, prepared the refreshments for the evening, and also surprised his guests with several novelties in the way of entertainment. Members of the local Circle of Women of Woodcraft will give a masque ball at the west hall in I. O. G. F. building Tuesday evening, April 6th, which promises to be largely attended, and is certain to be a big success. Invitations are now being issued for the affair.

Miss Maude Baldwin entertained members of the Bridge Club at two tables of bridge Thursday afternoon at the Hotel Baldwin, when the guests were Mrs. Charles F. Stone, Mrs. Clarence H. Underwood, Mrs. Wesley O. Smith, Mrs. Frederick H. Mills, Mrs. Will W. Baldwin, Mrs. Claude Chastain and Mrs. Charles I. Roberts. Mrs. Underwood won the prize, and after a delightful afternoon devoted to bridge, the hostess served a dainty luncheon.

The Leisure Hour Club was entertained this week by Mrs. Thomas F. Hampton, the usual enjoyable afternoon of 50¢ being the program, with the honors going to Mrs. Will Houston. Mrs. Hampton served splendid refreshments during the afternoon to the club members, who are Mrs. Earl Whitlock, Mrs. Andrew Mrs. Louis G. Van Hampton, Mrs. Philip Will Houston, Mrs. Mrs. M. B. West, Mrs. Mrs. Elbert H. Hall, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Mrs. O. W. Robertson, Mrs. Mrs. Bert E. Mrs. Fred Schallack.

Thirty or forty people pleasant dancing party White Pelican hotel dining room Tuesday evening, an attendance. Mrs. J. A. Y. Tindall furnished and throughout the evening was served.

"First Aid to the Drowning" the topic at a meeting of the Splash Club last night, at Jester, the ever accomplished was used as the drawing. The fact that Jester is in much in the water as a punster, made the demonstration lightfully realistic and following the swim at the luncheon was enjoyed, and were Miss Alice Dunham, Jorie Weeks, Miss Claude H. Miss Elsie Law, Mrs. Joe P. Brett, John Glenn Jester.

Moving Pictures

Tonight and tomorrow the Orpheus presents the film version of Charles Dickens' masterpiece, "David Copperfield," declared by critics to be the greatest picture being exhibited to the public today. This production is in seven parts, replete with beautiful scenes. To the admirers of Dickens a treat is in store, as this is considered one of the greatest works of this famous writer. Though this production has always been shown at advanced prices, the Orpheus will not raise, as the management wishes to adhere to the one price admission policy as far as possible.

Dr. Cyrus Townsend Brady, author of many famous books, and writer of many famous photoplays, is the author of the Star theater attraction that will be presented today and tomorrow. The title of the picture is "The Better Man." The story of the tremendous struggle between two clerical men for the world's two greatest prizes. Mr. Brady has received much favorable comment on the production. Wm. Courtleigh is seen in the leading role. The production is in four parts. In addition one reel of topical and industrial subjects will be shown, the concluding number in the "Hearst Bell News Pictorial."

Don't buy an automobile until you have tried the new Maxwell, now being demonstrated at White Pelican garage. This is the best automobile buy in the market, has electric starter and lights. For camping purposes it is ideal, as it makes down like a Pullman. The price is $2200 at Klamath Falls.

NEWS OF PEOPLE AT SHASTA VIEW

ENJOYABLE BIRTHDAY PARTY IS HELD—INDUSTRIAL CLUB IS STARTED WITH A MEMBERSHIP OF 25 BOOFTERS. (Herald Special Service) SHASTA VIEW, March 27.—Last Saturday a birthday party was given in honor of Earl Wilson's seventh birthday at the home of his parents. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. A. Turner of Klamath Falls, and daughters, Etta and Maude, Mrs. C. M. Kirkpatrick and children, Beth and Eliza, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Short and children, Blanch, Francis, Floyd and Sonnie, Hazel, Beulah and Cecil Hunt, Henry Adams and Antonio Cravenack. The youngsters had a good time in games, races, etc. Candies, popcorn and nuts were served in the afternoon. All departed for home wishing their young friend many more happy birthdays. Lester Balboe of Klamath Falls sojourned in this vicinity one day this week. F. L. Chitwood made a trip to Bonanza Monday, preparatory to proving up on his homestead. F. H. Jones has just completed his new house and has moved into it. Ross and Nettie Coak have gone to Washington to remain indefinitely. Alna Coak and Anna Polvin visited Shasta View school recently. County Agricultural Glazier and State Agent Harrington of the industrial work were at Shasta View last Wednesday. Mr. Harrington gave an excellent talk to the school on industrial work, and an enthusiastic club of twenty-three members was formed. The officers elected were: Joe Nicka president, Pauline Ferguson president, Ethel Brockbridge secretary treasurer. Quite a number are anxious to have children at the local school. Quite a number were present at Sunday school last Sunday. Next Sunday will be regular preaching services conducted by Rev. H. H. Adams at 10:00.

Elaborate American Dancing Frock

This elaborate dancing frock was made in the United States. The war in this way has been of benefit to American fashions. In the more elaborate American gowns of the season rather daring combinations are found; not alone in colors, but in fabric. A fascinating gown shown with a light foundation in white and blue, delicately embroidered with double tulle has a wide gathered skirt and an enormous bustle bow of silk net. One can readily picture the charming effect made by such a delightful combination. The bodice is extremely delicate indeed, there is very little bodice to the gown at all, for the high waist-like hips all but a glimpse of the main foundation with cap sleeves and dainty bolers effect. The double tulle and below is delicately embroidered in crystal and amber beads, part of a spider design that there are ropes of large amber beads that are daintily fastened on either shoulder and around the girdle, with ample length to drop to one side, displaying a novel headed tassel.
