CITY COUNCIL MET LAST NIGHT

MANY MATTERS DISCUSSED AT LENGTH WHICH AFFECT THE CITY—DOTY ADVOCATES CITY PURCHASE SEWER PIPE

The plan of the city purchasing sewer pipe to sell to residents of the city that are forced to connect with the sewers in the clean-up campaign being waged, was suggested last night by Councilman Doty. He claimed the city could purchase it cheaper and sell it cheaper, and that owing to the financial condition of many residents not connected up, it would relieve them of considerable hardship. It was referred to the street committee for investigation.

The Business Men's Association presented a communication requesting the appointing of a local official as weights and measure inspector.

Permission to place a street banner over Main street announcing the dates of the state fair at Salem was read.

An invitation to the mayor to appoint delegates to the Pan American Road Congress to be held in Oakland this fall was read. Street and park problems are to be given special attention at the convention.

A hydrant near the rear of the Lakeside Inn, which is said to have been fenced up so that it is not possible to use it, was referred to the fire committee.

The liquor license of I. F. Tabor was refused and returned for further filing out of proper papers.

A complaint that the dike erected at Shippington to keep back the waters of the lake in the spring was in danger of breaking was brought up and referred to the wharves and water front committee for investigation.

The street to the cemetery was ordered repaired and put into first class condition, due to a complaint.

Permission to cut the pavement on Sixth street for the connecting up with the sewer for a warehouse was granted.

John Coleman was appointed street superintendent by Mayor Mason, which was confirmed. He is to take office as soon as F. R. Stahlman's period runs out.

The bonds of the police and other city officials which had not been passed upon by the council were ordered investigated. Though part of the qualification, some of the bonds have never been placed.

The question of furnishing a parking place for automobile tourists was presented by Will Lee of this city, but no official action was taken.

ARCTIC WEDDING HELD IN SOUTH

IN TRUE ESKIMO STYLE THE GROOM CATCHES HIS BRIDE IN RACE, WHICH MAY NOT HAVE BEEN STRICTLY ON THE LEVEL

United Press Service
OCEAN PARK, Calif., Aug. 17.—With ceremonies never before seen outside the Arctic Circle, Miss Selalok, Eskimo belle of Etah, Greenland, was married here to Mr. Kauvechna, wealthy merchant of that place, by the Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of a fashionable Los Angeles church.

The bride and groom are both members of an Eskimo colony here. The first feature of their wedding was the issuance of invitations inscribed on the skins of short haired seals. In these "bids" Mr. Kauvechna modestly describes himself as being the richest man in the world, his loads of treasure being measured only in terms of codfish, blubber and whale oil. He sent these invitations to the mayors of all cities near Ocean Park.

On the happy wedding day the pair was joined by Rev. Lee in the most approved, legal, American fashion. But that was only the beginning.

Next Mr. Kauvechna had to overhaul his bride in a footrace. Until he had done that they were not wed, in the estimation of the Eskimos.

So the race was on! The bride sprinted. The bridegroom sprinted. She ducked and dodged—right into his arms.

Benson Day Is Held at Expo

holdings for approximately $4,000,000. Benson has five children.

Since retiring from business, Benson has devoted practically all of his time and energy to matters beneficial to the public. First he donated forty bronze drinking fountains to the city of Portland. These fountains are to be found on almost every downtown corner in the City of Roses, four streams of water pouring out to assuage the thirst of the passerby.

Intensely interested in good roads from boyhood, having driven ox teams in the wilderness, Benson has spent thousands of dollars in investigating the best methods of highway construction, and has given his knowledge without charge for the benefit of the public.

He gave $10,000 to the state to build a road around Shell Rock on the Columbia River highway, and conducted and financed the campaign for the construction of the famous boulevard itself. He is chairman of the advisory committee of the state highway commission, and is at present fathering a campaign to bond the state for $10,000,000 to complete and maintain a chain of permanent state highways.

Benson has always been a great lover of children, and realizing that he never during his youth had the opportunities of education, recently he gave the city of Portland $100,000 for the establishment of a trades school for boys and girls.

MILLER ORDINANCE IS HUNG UP

ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR A SIDEWALK ON ESPLANADE IS TURNED DOWN—COUNCIL FORCE WALKS WITH NO COIN

Can the city of Klamath Falls force the construction of sidewalks and to what extent can the council go? was the big question threshed out by the council last night.

The city charter amply provides for this work, but under a statute Councilman Doty contended that such builders could ask and get ten years' time on such work. This would necessitate the city putting up the money, and it was discovered that no fund had been allowed in the budget for such work.

If it were taken out of the general fund where would the limit be on such work? As a result the ordinance of Councilman Miller providing for the construction of a sidewalk on Esplanade street across the Southern Pacific right of way, a lot owned by E. J. Murray and the United States government ditch property was tabled for a week.

National Geographers Here

A party of members of the National Geographical Society, accompanied by their wives, arrived in the city last night in a private car, on their way to Crater Lake. Today they were taken to the Lava Beds in Paul Johnson's car. Tomorrow they will be taken to Crater Lake by the Commercial Club, where they will be met by representatives of the Medford club.

COMBINE FORCES IN DARDANELLES

LAND AND SEA FORCES UNITE IN TERRIFIC ASSAULT ON THE TURKISH DEFENSES ON GALLI-POLIN PENINSULA

ATHENS, Aug. 17.—A concerted assault by the allied land and sea forces against the Turkish positions on Gallipoli peninsula was begun at dawn yesterday, and is continuing, according to Mitylene dispatches. British reinforcements landed north of Gaba Tepe, are receiving their baptism of fire in charge against the Turkish trenches and doubt half a mile from shore. For the first time in several weeks practically every big unit of the Allied French fleet is in action. Four British ships are engaged with the Turkish forces from inside the Dardanelles while other warships are shelling the Turkish land forces from a point of view. With fresh troops the English eventually plan to blow their way across the Gallipoli to the narrow, and make short work of the campaign on the southern tip of the peninsula.

The last transports, according to advices received here, were heavily laden with field artillery suitable for work amid the Turkish ravines, and carried large supplies of a new kind of wire snippers for cutting through the heavy Turkish wire defenses.

SALEM, Aug. 17.—Photographs of different phases of Oregon's exhibit at the Educational Palace at the Panama Pacific exposition are to be used in a special bulletin to be published by the United States bureau of education on rural schools, according to an announcement made today by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchhill.

"I have received a request for photographs of various phases of the exhibit for this purpose, and it pleases me, as it shows that the exhibit is attracting national attention," he declared in making the announcement.

The request was made by E. H. Fought, specialist in rural education at Washington, D. C., who has been making a study of the Oregon exhibit and, who has charge of preparing the bulletin for the government.

Further, Superintendent Church announced, the report for the past week from Mrs. W. E. Buxton, who represents the state department of education at the exposition, shows that 130 people from all parts of the United States left special requests for literature on the Oregon school system.

ANKENY CANAL GETS ATTENTION

DISCUSSION OF CANAL STARTS IN COUNCIL AND SEVERAL EXPRESS THEMSELVES IN FAVOR OF CLOSING IT

Without warning the Ankeny canal became the principal topic of discussion last night by the council in general and a number of the members expressed themselves as in favor of forcibly closing the ditch. Many complaints are being heard on account of the water running in the streets.

Councilman Doty has been registering a complaint at every meeting, and last night the general discussion was suddenly turned on the ditch. The filling up of the ditch was advocated, as well as other means. City Attorney Groesbeck stated that the canal was there before the town, and some other means would legally have to be taken. A discussion, review and forecast was given on the situation.

Mayor Mason announced that he had been working on the proposition, and would have something to report at the next meeting. He is going to investigate farther.
