JAPANESE FAIL TO SMUGGLE IN

TWO YEARS STIRRING SEA ADVENTURES ENDS IN HOMEWARD TRIP — WERE CAUGHT AWAY WITH ESKIMOS

United Press Service

TOKYO, Sept. 1.—(By mail)—Six Japanese sailors in court told an exciting story and a sad one of their efforts to smuggle themselves into the United States. They finished their story in jail, a place less disagreeable than several into which their misfortunes had thrown them in the course of the past year.

The six are the remnant of the crew of the cockle boat Daiyai, sixty tons, which left Japan in June, 1914. Right from her home port the Daiyai's troubles began. Battered by bad weather, she had to put back for repairs before getting out of sight of land. On the second attempt twenty days out the captain died. Forty-three days out, while rough weather continued, Unimak Island, in the Aleutian group, was reached. A submerged rock, as the sailors endeavored to make a landing, tore the Daiyai to pieces.

The sailors were thrown on the shore and into the hands of a party of Eskimos. The natives were kind, and made themselves hosts to the refugees from that day, August 19, until May 5. In the spring the Eskimos started on their annual trip to the main land to get ammunition and fishing gear. A storm drove them back, and the son of the Japanese captain was drowned.

The first evidence of good luck was seen in the arrival of a British steamer early in May, to trade for furs. The Japanese asked for passage to Seattle, apparently leading the officer to believe that America was their home, and although they could not promise to pay for their passage, it was given them. But on the way one of the sailors let slip the fact that they were endeavoring to smuggle themselves into the United States, and were not honest fishermen at all. The welcome hands that awaited them at Seattle were those of the immigration authorities. After a few days in jail the Japanese consul found passage for them on a returning vessel.

AUSTRIA WANTS PEACE WITH U. S.

TOO BUSY TO INTERFERE WITH INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS OF UNITED STATES, SAYS CARL W. ACKERMAN

By CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

VIENNA, Sept. 16.—Austria has never and never will interfere with the international affairs of America. She is too busy with European affairs to bother with strikes in America.

"But whatever our inquiry shows, we will consider the recall request purely personal, and won't permit it to interfere with our friendship for America," is the statement of a high official.

DOG ORDINANCE BRINGS IN FUNDS

ONE HUNDRED AND TWO DOG LICENSES HAVE BEEN ISSUED. PRISONERS WILL WORK ON STREETS IN TWO WEEKS

The city is making quite a good thing out of her dog population. The dog ordinance that was just recently put in force has already resulted in 102 dog owners paying their license fee.

For every male dog owned in this city the city is to get $1.50, and for every female, $2. Also, if any one harbors a dog and doesn't pay the license fee, he is subject to a fine, according to the chief of police.

Another new ordinance that has been recently put in force is that pool rooms have to close at 12 o'clock. So far this ordinance has been strictly obeyed.

A departure that will take place in the next two weeks is the working of prisoners by the city. The prisoners will be put to street work, etc.

PHYSICAL QUIZ FOR CHILDREN

DOCTORS TO MAKE MEDICAL PHYSICAL EXAMINATION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN, SAYS R. H. DUNBAR

By R. H. DUNBAR

Realizing that many of the pupils of the city schools are handicapped in their work from the fact that their physical condition is such as will not permit the pupil to accomplish the results desired, a plan has been worked out by the school board, the city health officer and the superintendent of schools whereby each pupil will undergo a thorough medical examination twice a year. A card will be made out in triplicate, one of which will be delivered to the parents, one filed in the office of the city health officer and one in the office of the school superintendent.

This card will state clearly the results of the examination and will make recommendations to the parent in case medical or personal attention is found necessary. This card will in no way direct the parent as to whom shall be consulted, leaving that entirely to the choice of the parent. In no way will this card compel any parent to take action, but rather it will call the attention of the parents to the true physical condition of the children under their care.

We feel certain that all parents will appreciate this effort to bring to their attention the exact physical condition of their children.

Agriculturist Glaisyer today. "We have enough products that an exhibit building could be made a permanent source of advertising and profit to this section."

Fred Fleet and Louis Jacobs of the Commercial Club say Klamath Falls needs an exhibit building. In fact, all the Klamath Falls business men who were questioned agreed. The plan is already so far along that good locations for a small building for the purpose of exhibiting county products is already being suggested. At present either the court house lot or some place near the depot have been most prominently suggested.

"Alfalfa, Sudan grass, fruit—all sorts of crops—could be displayed at an advantage," said Mr. Glaisyer.
