

Bandages for Serbians' Wounds Have Great Trip

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

SALONIKA, Greece, Jan. 20.—(By mail).—The battered package that ever arrived for wounded soldiers on any battlefield has at least reached Salonika. This will be of interest to the ladies of Flat Rock, North Carolina, who sent it.

Its wrappings are torn; its wax seals broken and smashed, but its contents, twelve pounds of cotton bandages, carefully prepared by the southern ladies, are intact.

The stamps and other markings tell the story of its travels. It was mailed at Flat Rock on noon, August 23. It reached New York two days later and was put on the Greek steamship "Athena." At sea the steamship took fire. All the passengers were saved and so was the mail.

There is a typewritten paster on the package which says, "The damage to this package occurred on board the S. S. Athenal, which vessel was on fire and abandoned at sea, September 19. All the mail was saved. E. M. Morgan, postmaster, New York City."

Again the package was started from New York on another and luckier boat and after a long journey it has reached the American consulate at Salonika. The Flat Rock ladies intended the bandages for Serbian soldiers, but with the exception of inaccessible Serbian troops in Montenegro, the Serbian army is dispersed.

Since the Flat Rock ladies put their package into the Flat Rock postoffice last August, the Serbian army has practically been wiped out. The French Red Cross has taken the package and it will be used to staunch French instead of Serbian blood.

Tax Collection Starts at the Office of Sheriff Low

Collection of the 1915 taxes is now on at the sheriff's office. The books were turned over by the assessor in time to allow the beginning of collections yesterday afternoon.

Already several taxpayers have paid the levies fixed by the county court, and during the coming few weeks there will be a good sized rush. According to the tax laws, the first half of all taxes legally levied and charged shall be paid on or before the 5th day of April following, and the second half on or before the 5th day of October following.

Interest shall be charged and collected on any tax or half of a tax not so paid at the rate of 1 per cent per month or fraction of a month until paid. (Interest at said rate applies to the first half if not paid by April 5th, to the second half if not paid by October 5th.) All taxes remaining unpaid on the 5th day of October next following shall become delinquent, and on the 5th day of November next following a penalty of 5 per cent shall be charged and collected thereon. In addition to the interest provided herein. Any day after the expiration of six months after the taxes charged against real property are delinquent the sheriff shall have the right, and it shall be his duty, upon demand and payment of the taxes, penalty and interest, to make out and issue a certificate or certificates of delinquency against such property.

The following provision of the 1915 laws concerns collection of delinquent personal taxes: On or as soon as practicable after the 5th day of October in each year the tax collector shall proceed to collect all taxes levied in his county upon personal property, which have not been paid before said day. He shall levy upon sufficient goods and chattels, belonging to the person, firm or corporation or association charged, to pay such delinquent taxes, together with interest, accruing interest, penalties and other lawful charges.

Whenever after delinquency, in the opinion of the tax collector, it becomes necessary to charge the tax on personal property against real property, such tax collector shall select for the purpose some particular tract or lots of real property owned by the person, firm, corporation or association owing such personal property tax, and shall note upon the tax roll opposite such tract or lots the said tax on personal property, and said tax shall then be a lien on such real property, and shall be enforced in the same manner as other real estate taxes.

Moving Pictures

Positively the most wonderful motion picture ever shown, will be the attraction at the Houston opera house Sunday afternoon and evening. This is the nine reel Vitagraph spectacle, "The Battle Cry of Peace," which is not only the masterpiece of the Vitagraph studios, but also the peer of all realistic films, not excepting "The Birth of a Nation."

Preparedness is the question of most vital importance to the people of the United States. Preparedness is the theme treated in a most gripping way in this film. "Prepare, not for, but against war," is its cry.

All of the tremendous resources of the Vitagraph studio were put at the disposal of Commodore J. Stuart Blackton, when he conceived the wonderful sermon-picture following a reading of Hudson Maxim's marvelous book, "The Defenseless America," and in addition, an army of several thousand soldiers, an aerial fleet of seventeen aeroplanes, dirigibles, a navy of all types from submarines to super-dreadnaughts, to say nothing of thousands of other super-numeraries are used. Officials high in government, army and naval circles have assisted in the work in every way, and the result is a multi-reel photoplay which has played to packed houses in the cities at $2 per seat, a feature that has received the hearty commendation of press, pulpit and public officials.

Major General Wood, former Secretary of War Garrison, Colonel Roosevelt, Admiral Dewey, Hudson Maxim, Governor Goldsboro of Maryland, Dr. Lyman Abbott, Dudley Field Malone, Mayor Thompson of Chicago—these are a few of the men who have given hearty endorsement to this great film, and who have urged every red blooded American to see it, and draw his own conclusions.

The productions Sunday will have all the realistic effects which tended to augment the gripping appeal of the picture in the big cities. A special score of music was written for the production, and the Peerless orchestra, Klamath Falls' favorite musical organization, is busily engaged in rehearsing. The score is by no means an easy one, but in the hands of Mrs. Ora Fitzpatrick, and Messrs. Harry, Borel, R. A. Mitchell, Oscar Brennan and Clair Arnold, the intensity of its power and beauty will be artistically brought out.

"The Battle Cry of Peace" is the highest price photoplay production ever shown in Southern Oregon.

In the title role of "The Pretty Sister of Jose," Frances Hodgson Burnett's charming and picturesque romance, and Maude Adams' former starring vehicle, the dainty star, Marguerite Clark attains one of her greatest screen triumphs. The role is one in which every resource and power of the magnetic little star is brought into effective play. As the tlay, exquisite Spanish girl of a thousand moods and whims who has vowed never to lose her heart but who, when finally conquered by the handsome Sebastiano, loves truly and devotedly. Miss Clark is utterly incomparable. With her fascinating dark beauty and charming grace of form and motion, Miss Clark is exceptionally adapted to the role of the dainty little dark-eyed belle of Madrid. The rapidly changing development of the story, with its wealth of color and romance, has resulted in a thoroughly unusual photoplay. Tonight and Saturday night at the Star.
