

Easter Offerings Are You Prepared for Easter?

We Invite Your Inspection of Our EASTER OFFERINGS

Men's Fine Spring Suits, Furnishings, Spring and Summer Styles in Headwear, New Creations in Walk-Over Shoes

Don't buy your Summer Clothes until you have seen the values we are offering for $15, $20 and $25. All the new models—Norfolks, Patch Pocket Outing Styles, Box Suits and English models. Clothes from the House of Kuppenheimer; Clothes from the Royal Tailors. Outfit your Easter Wants at this big store for men.

K. K. K. STORE, Leading Clothiers and Hatters

Moving Pictures

The South before the war! What engaging incidents may be conjured in those feudal times when family hate burned deep into the vengeful heart and made good men brutes and murderers because of traditions they must obey. By attending the Orpheus theater tonight, one will be awarded by views of "The Grip of Jealousy," the most sensational film of the season, in which are embodied incidents, based on fact, that show the tense and dominating passion of hate and jealousy, contrasted with the sweetness of woman's love and devotion.

LOUISE LOVELY IN "THE GRIP OF JEALOUSY"

Tonight and tomorrow night a great two-feature bill will be shown at the Star theater for the usual price of one admission. By numerous requests the management has decided to show "Hypocrites" as a return engagement. This wonderful picture will be remembered by many and is classed as a leading production. "At Bay," a Pathe Gold Rooster production in five reels, featuring Florence Reed, will be proclaimed as one of the best of these popular features. These two five-reel features makes a program you can't afford to miss, but you must come early as but one show will be given. "Hypocrites" will be shown last.

Brighten up your home inside and out. "Acme Quality Paints, Enamels, Stains, Varnishes, Kalsomine, Aluminum Enamel, Furniture Polish and brush will do it. Get booklet with full instructions.

WILLIS-JOHNSTONE CO.

The advertisements in this paper reach the entire community.

Unpreparedness of Army Shown

(Continued from page 1)

This expedition is only an excursion to punish a bandit. Yet we are compelled to ask as a favor the use of the railroads to keep our forces from starving."

United Press Service

U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, DUBLAN, Mex., April 3.—"American army aviators in Mexico are encountering conditions never faced before," said Captain Foulis of the aero squad. "The Sierra Madres create shifting winds and dangerous air pockets. The land altitude of one mile in the air, as they are only equipped for a maximum altitude of two miles. Despite this, and despite the rough landing places, there has been no serious mishap. A land altitude of nearly two miles, which we will encounter further south, will undoubtedly test our men and machines to the utmost."

INDUSTRIAL CLUB WORK INTERESTS

WORKER FROM COLLEGE FINDS MUCH INTEREST AMONG BOYS AND GIRLS OF KLAMATH COUNTY SCHOOLS

Much interest is being manifested in the industrial club work in the schools of Klamath county as a result of the visits being made by H.C. Seymour, state leader for this branch of educational activity.

Mr. Seymour in his visits to the schools, explains the work contemplated, and the possibilities of club accomplishments. He leaves the organization to the school, pointing out that organization should be affected only where there are plenty of "stickers" to carry through the plans outlined.

Thursday, Seymour visited Klamath Falls schools, and Friday, he visited the Summers, Miller Hill, Mt. Lake and Fairview schools. Friday night, he held a meeting at the Spring Lake school, where he gave an interesting illustrated lecture upon the work. The school was crowded to full capacity. Besides Seymour's talk, County Agriculturist H. Roland Galsayer talked upon the school fair plans for the coming fall. A program was rendered under the direction of the Spring Lake Parent-Teachers' association.

Mr. Seymour's program for this week follows:

Monday, April 3—9:30, at Pine Grove; 10:30, Olene; 1:15, Dairy; 3:00, Hildebrand; 8:00 p. m., Bonanza, evening illustrated lecture.

Tuesday, April 4—9:30, Upper Pos Valley; 10:30, Shasta View; 1:30, Malin; 3:00, Gale; 8: p. m., evening illustrated lecture at Merrill.

Wednesday, April 5—9:30, Lone Pine; 10:30, Midland; 1:30, Plevna; 8:00 p. m., evening illustrated lecture at Keno.

Teachers are asked to invite patrons and parents to be present at all scheduled meetings.

A long line of ladies' auto gloves just received.

29-12 BRADLEY HARNESS CO.

Grafonola Club Sale at Shepherd's.

"A Business Man for President"

T. Coleman du Pont

"The business man in politics" is soon to exemplify, when the boom of T. Coleman du Pont of New York and Delaware for the republican presidential nomination will be formally launched.

Town Topics

Mrs. Hurn Better. Mrs. George Hurn, who has been ill for the past three weeks, is able to sit up now.

Veghte Recovers. Earl B. Veghte of the Sportsman's Equipment company, is out again after an illness of several weeks.

In from Olene. W. R. Brotherton, a well known resident of the Olene-Pos Valley section, is in the county seat today on business.

South to Meet Buyer. H. N. Moe, of Moe & Co., left yesterday for San Francisco, to meet representatives of New York firms and purchase additional Easter stock for his ladies' and misses, ready to wear departments.

New Dodge Owners. The following local people have recently purchased Dodge cars from W. T. Shive: Chester Avery, Mrs. M. J. Beebe, W. F. Johnson of the Klamath creamery, Henry Stout and H. F. Stuckey of Pelican City.

Carlson Visits. P. C. Carlson, who has passed up the purveying of slabs and block wood for the tilling of the soil, was in today from his ranch, the old Mendenhall place, four miles from Klamath Falls. He figures on buying an adjoining tract in a few days.

Mortenson Visits. Jacob Mortenson, father of our own H. D. Mortenson, and a heavy stockholder in the Pelican Bay Lumber company, is here from Oak Park, Ill., for a short visit. Mr. Mortenson is also interested in the firm which will soon erect a big sawmill at Silverton.

At the Pavilion Meetings

Yesterday was the greatest day so far in the Mathis-Veasby meetings being conducted at the Pavilion, a total of about 1,800 being present at the three services. A movement is beginning among the men of the town, quite a number having already decided to lead the Christian life.

The morning sermon was taken from the scene recorded in II Kings, 6:5-7, where the sons of the prophets undertook to build a house from the beams cut from trees cut by the River Jordan. While they were doing this, the ax head of one fell into the river, and he cried, "Alas, my master, for it was borrowed." From this the evangelist got the idea of the keen edge of Christian life and its loss. In beginning he took occasion to condemn the churches and people who will live in fine homes, have fine schools and public buildings, all good in themselves, and worship in any old kind of a box called a church. He said there were various ways that one might lose a keen edge. The handle might get shrunken in the warm weather of the summer and the ax be thus lost, as when church people leave church on Sundays during the summer and take excursions into the country, and by fall find their religious life dried up so that it takes half the winter to get them back into normal condition.

The main part of the sermon was based upon the fact that three wedges are necessary to keep an ax on its handle—a large center wedge to keep the ax on, and two smaller wedges to keep the center wedge in place. The three wedges were prayer, Bible reading and christian activity. Prayer is the vital thing in the Christian life, but neither it nor Bible reading will keep a Christian life without activity. Church members lose the keen edge because the preacher does not happen to suit them, or the church is not sociable, or they don't like the plans of the church, or they are continually moving from place to place. At the close of the sermon quite a number who were church members but not affiliated with the churches here, came forward and signified their intention to send for their certificates of transfer.

About three hundred men came out to hear Mr. Mathis at the meeting for men only in the afternoon. The sermon was upon boose and tobacco, and the hearty applause showed that the sentiment of the meeting was with the speaker. Boose was condemned in strong terms, but the evangelist laughingly said that he felt he could not hit many of them that way any more, but there was one way he could get at them, and that was on the tobacco habit, so he devoted most of the speech to that subject. He said that they might go out upon the street and condemn him for speaking on that subject, but that wouldn't do anybody any good, while his speech might help some, so he had them beat from the start. That he did some good was evidenced at the close when he asked the men who did not use tobacco to come up and give him their left hands while those who did use it but would agree to quit should give him their right hands. Most of the men present shook hands, and a noticeable number gave the right hand.

In the evening Mr. Mathis preached a very strong sermon from the text found in Psalms 39:7: "And now Lord, what wait I for? My hope is in thee." The subject was "Excuses." These are: 1—"I'd go if I were sure I would stay by it." Such a person was compared with an engineer who found his engine ready with coal and water, but who refused to start because he had not enough for the whole trip. He is foolish. He will never start that way, but will start and when he needs more coal and water will pull into a station and load up. 2—"I'd go if I felt like it." God has given us a block on our shoulders, and in it a little gray matter, and he expects us to use it. Here the speaker emphasized the fact that Christianity is not feeling, but principle. Feeling is only a result. The general character of the evangelist and the meetings was here brought out unconsciously, in that they are not emotional, but are simply conducted upon common sense principles.

The third excuse is the inconsistency of Christians; that is, those that are hypocrites. He said let a man talk all he wants to when he makes this excuse, and he will always come back to the starting point. Such people reason in a circle. Comparing such persons to birds that feed upon carrion, he said they flew over the sinners Christians and settled upon the carcasses of hypocrites. "Then you'd better come into the church," said Mathis, "for if you don't, you'll have to live through eternity with these hypocrites." The audience was frequently convulsed with laughter at the witty sallies during the first half of the sermon, but at the close Mathis gave a very vivid picture of the crucifixion that quieted the audience and deepened the thinking. A large number offered themselves for the Christian life at the close. Altogether about 100 have so far given themselves for Christian service.

The music was a great feature of the services Saturday and Sunday. The male and female quartets, the duets and solos, together with a new feature in the male chorus, rendered the special musical numbers. There will be no services tonight, but Tuesday the regular meetings will be resumed.

To make room, we are closing out our line of traveling bags, suit cases and trunks at cost. 29-17 BRADLEY HARNESS CO.

Accurate information about city property and farm lands. Ask Chilcote.

HEARING IN RATE CASE ON FRIDAY

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION TO HEAR COMPLAINTS OF LOCAL PATRONS OF THE POWER COMPANY

According to Mayor Mason, the date of the final hearing in the complaint of the city of Klamath Falls against the California-Oregon Power company will be held Friday at the courthouse here. Questions of service and rates will be investigated at that time. Any persons believing they have grounds for complaint along these lines are asked to confer with either the mayor or city attorney before that date.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

WANTED—Furnished 3 or 4 room cottage. Notify Herald office. 2t
WANTED TO TRADE—3 room house and 2 lots in Mills Addition for new automobile. Address Gust Carlson, Box 1075 2-6t

ORPHEUS THEATER

C. R. Miller, Mgr.
The Bluebird Photoplay, "THE GRIP OF JEALOUSY" Featuring Louise Lovely and Len Cheney A Five Part Story of the South before the War

"OPERATING ON OUPID" One Part Comedy Admission 15c

This Is IT

The Baby Grafonola hornless talking machine for all the music of the world and most of the fun of it ONE DOLLAR place it in your home, and the easiest of monthly payments makes it yours. Buy this model now and exchange it toward a large cabinet Grafonola in the fall. These extra low terms during our club sale only. Sale closes Wednesday evening.

Shepherd Piano Depot Next Door to Postoffice

SHIPPINGTON SIDELIGHTS

The Wood River liner Mamasa is still on the ways, but will soon be in commission, according to Captain J. A. P. Taylor.

Shippington is the present abode of a hypo-dematical metaphysical paradox. It barks all night, sleeps all day, tries to bite people between times, and still has time to steal everything that suits its canine tastes—and yet its owner says it is muzzled.

The big forty-foot walking beam recently installed at Saint Cloud was kept fanning the air all Saturday and yesterday, to the intense joy of the load of young ladies it carried.

Every resident of Shippington and vicinity who is interested in the improvement of the Shippington road should attend tonight's meeting of the city council. There will be a petition there for the property owners to sign, and the support of the other citizens is greatly needed at this time. If the road is worth anything to Shippington, it's worth a little effort upon our part—so let every man be at the council chambers tonight.

There was an enjoyable dancing party held in the dining room of Captain Parker's rathskeller Saturday evening, the occasion being the birthday of Warren Bennett. The party was well attended, and all the guests enjoyed themselves immensely.

Captain Parker has bought the steamer "Annie Laurie" from its late owner, Captain Guthrie.

Nursery Furniture. Little articles for little people at little prices. It WILLIS-JOHNSTONE CO.

Episcopal Services. Miss Alice Knight, a deaconess of the Eastern Oregon Episcopal diocese, is here for a two weeks' visit, and will hold services at the Library Club hall Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. The regular Lenten service will be held at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. The Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Dora Bridges at 3:30 Friday and the Junior Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. S. Edward Martin Saturday afternoon.

HOUSTON'S Metropolitan Amusements

HOUSTON OPERA HOUSE

STAR THEATER
DOUBLE FEATURE NIGHT
"HYPOCRITES"
Five Reel Paramount
"AT BAY"
Five Reel Gold Rooster featuring FLORENCE REED

TEMPLE THEATER

"Hamlet Made Over," Lubin One Reel
"Jungle Justice," One Reel Solis
"The Goddess," Two Reel Vitagraph
Admission Always 10c
MATINEE DAILY AT 2:30
ALL LICENSED PICTURES

MERRILL OPERA HOUSE

Merrill Ore. MOTION PICTURES WEDNESDAYS AND SATURDAYS