

Steamer Sunk by U-53 and Her Captain

The British steamer West Point, from London to Newport News, was one of the first vessels to be sunk by the German submarine U-53, off Nantucket lightship, after the warship had left Newport harbor. The photograph of her commander, Captain F. G. Harnden, was taken after he was landed safely in Newport.

Germany Increases Her Supply of Ammunition

By CARL W. ACKERMAN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

ESSEN, Germany, Oct. 19.—Twenty thousand new workers will this week join the force of 70,000 already employed in the great Krupp gun works in the gigantic task of turning out shells and guns to feed the German armies.

The addition of this huge force is one step in the course of Germany's renewed efforts to win the war is taken under the direction of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, now chief of staff. Many skilled workmen are being recalled from the front to aid in speeding up the production of war supplies, and barracks are being built here to house them.

From conversations with Krupp directors, with August Thyssen, the "Carnegie of Germany," and other industrial leaders three facts become apparent regarding the German campaign since von Hindenburg assumed leadership.

First—Germany plans to maintain her supremacy in the artillery branch of warfare by increasing the supply of guns and ammunition.

Second—By renewed submarine efforts, she plans to stop contraband going to England from neutral European countries, to halt ammunition shipments from America, and to stop Canadian transports from carrying troops to Europe.

Third—By an offensive against Russia and Rumania, while maintaining an iron wall defensive in the west, she plans to bring England between the jaws of Hindenburg's military vise and pinch her until she makes peace.

Krupps may be said to be getting second wind. Industries throughout the entire Rhine and Ruhr valleys, where shells roll out weekly by the millions, are preparing the army for the final stretch. A visit to the great gun plants here give one the impression of the gigantic plans Germany is making.

Essen now feels so secure against possible air raids that the anti-aircraft guns have been removed. Defense of the city was found unnecessary because the smoke rising from a hundred thousand chimneys night and day forms a thick cloud over the entire Rhine and Ruhr valleys, making it impossible for aeroplanes to distinguish between Duisburg, Melheim and Essen, though mills separate the cities. In the latest allied air raid three children were killed and the roof knocked off one house near Essen, but the Krupp establishments were untouched.

The Krupp factories are so enormous and the machinery so great that workmen look like dwarfs. The women workers, numbering 20,000, and dressed in overall bloomers, add a touch of fairyland.

The plants are growing like mushrooms. Some idea of their tremendous size may be gathered from the fact that in one store yard a million shells are kept always on hand, and this number is being steadily increased. In the center of the plant is a large target range, where shells and cannon are tested before being sent to the front.

In this great plant science studies every lesson of sea battles and artillery duels and works out the details. The manufacture of armor plate and big guns is a tedious, and exact a series of acts as those by which a pharmacist prepares a prescription. Before the metal is first poured it is boiled for twelve hours. Before some of the ingredients are used it takes four months to prepare them.

In one building 1,100 men are working on only big guns. In another building smaller guns were being drilled. In still another thirty-seven ton pieces of armor plate were being baked, rolled, pressed and polished before the final marine inspection and shipment to Kell.

We were the guests of Director von Bodenhausen, who has visited the steel works both in Pittsburg and Gary, Ind., and has met Judge Gary and other American steel officials. Bodenhausen said he saw no chance for peace now, but he echoed the views of some other industrial leaders that if the United States would stop ammunition shipments to Europe the war would end.

Bodenhausen contradicted David Lloyd George's statement to the United States that England didn't complain when the war went against her. "Just the reverse is true, he said. Regardless of whether Germany pursues a vigorous submarine warfare during the coming months, he is convinced that England's food situation will be uncomfortable by next spring.

tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.
Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

SMALL SETTLER TALKED TODAY

MEN AT INTERNATIONAL IRRIGATION CONGRESS CONSIDER THE FINANCING OF MEN ON IRRIGATED TRACTS

United Press Service
EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 19.—The question of financing settlers on irrigated lands under reclamation projects, whether public or private, was one of the most important topics discussed by the "Rural Credits and Land Settlement" section of the international irrigation congress at today's session.

Elmer Mead, head of the department of rural institutions in the University of California, and an eminent authority on the subject of rural credits, is in charge of this section of the congress.

Prof. Mead and other authorities on the subject of credits, present at the session, formulated plans whereby the settler with small capital will be enabled to become a successful farmer of irrigated lands.

C. P. Little, wholesale manager of Victor Victrolas and records of Portland, left this morning after a business visit with E. T. Shepherd of Shepherd's Piano depot. While here Mr. Little checked up the entire stock of Victor records, and induced Mr. Shepherd to carry practically an entire stock of the best selling Victor records, and also took a substantial order for Victrolas.

Vote on Sale of Islands
Both houses of the Danish parliament on September 30th ratified the holding of a plebiscite on the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States. It is believed that the sale will be consummated by the end of November. At a recent plebiscite held on the question of the islands only eleven votes were cast unfavorable to the sale.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

EAT LESS MEAT, ALSO TAKE GLASS OF SALTS BEFORE EATING BREAKFAST

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour,
