

NEW ENVOY MAY HELP ALLIANCE

VISCOUNT UCHIDA IS MADE JAPANESE ENVOY TO RUSSIA. MAY STRENGTHEN RECENT JAP-RUSSO ALLIANCE

TOKIO, Jan. 26.—Chosen with the idea that he will further the cause of friendship between Japan and Russia, and strengthen the alliance recently concluded between the two erstwhile enemies, Viscount Yasuya Uchida, ambassador to the United States in 1909-11, has been appointed as the new Japanese envoy to Russia.

Viscount Uchida fills the post made vacant when Viscount Motono was recalled to accept the position of foreign minister in the new Teruchi ministry. Besides his term in Washington, he has acted as ambassador to Vienna, minister to China, and was foreign minister in 1911. He is considered one of the most able diplomats in Japan.

Politicians in Tokio take the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese pact last spring as the beginning of a long term of friendly political and commercial relations between the two countries. But it is generally believed that only a beginning has been made. There is a generally accepted belief that Russia requested Japan to wait until the close of the war for signature of additional clauses of the new convention.

Viscount Motono is given the credit for laying the foundation of the alliance with Russia. His service as foreign minister is expected to be marked with pro-Russian tendencies. Upon Viscount Uchida, however, is placed the responsibility of promoting relations in Petrograd, so that after the war, as well as the present, the two nations will be best aligned for the interests of the Far East.

WHAT

Did You Save Last Year?

Think this over, and if this is not on account of your buying your goods on credit from a credit store. It is a positive fact that a store that gives credit loses a great many dollars, and who pays this loss? Not the store, to be sure. It is figured in with the price of goods. And who pays the dead-beat bills? The man who pays his bills, of course. Then why not pay cash, at a cash store, where you get value received?

Here are a few prices, compare them with what you are paying:

- Corn, per can 10c Tomatoes, per can 12c Peaches, per can 20c Cherries, per can 25c Dried Peaches, per lb. 10c Dried Peas, per lb. 10c Dried Prunes, large, lb. 12 1/2c Dried Apples, per lb. 10c Evaporated Apples, lb. 12 1/2c Potatoes, per cwt. $2.75 Lion Flour, per sack $1.00 Ft. Klamath Butter, roll ... 75c Sugar, per cwt. $8.25 Carnation Cream, per can. 10c

Moving Pictures

During the filming of the scenes of the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Selfish Woman," for the Paramount program, which will be seen at the Star tonight, and in which Wallace Reid and Cleo Ridgley, the two brilliant Lasky stars, play the leading roles, Miss Ridgley, while dashing through the burning village at the head of the sheriff's posse, was overcome by the fumes of the sulphur, and slipped unconscious from her horse. In the dark, the other horsemen were about to ride over her when she was spied by one of the cowboys, who threw himself in the way. In discussing the accident Miss Ridgley said: "I don't remember a thing that happened from the time I struck the smoke until I found myself being revived, although they tell me I went through my part without a mistake."
