DIAMOND SUFFERS ACCIDENT LAST WEEK—MAY DEVELOP INTO THREE-FINGER MARVEL

PORTLAND, Jan. 16.—Lyle Bigbee, who was turned over to the Spokane Northwestern League team last year by the Portland Coast League team, may develop into a three-finger pitching marvel as the result of an unfortunate accident, in which he lost the second finger of his right hand. The accident occurred last Thursday in the Duthie shipyards of Seattle, where Bigbee is employed.

Bigbee hopes to be able to develop some frank delivery that he will take to the big league next fall.

Prices of Food at Top Notch in Berlin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—Butter is selling in Berlin at $2.25 per pound, sugar at 56 cents per pound, ham and bacon at $2.11 per pound, and soap, five ordinary bars, for $1.12. This information was received by the United States food administration thru a reliable source from a responsible person, who personally had charge of his own apartment in Berlin, as to food prices current in that city previous to his return to this country about October 1st.

These prices are from four to five times as high as those now obtaining in the United States.

Ambassador Francis Proves Match for Mob

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16.—How United States Ambassador Francis stood at the door of the American embassy in Petrograd and, revolver in hand, stood off a mob of Russians that threatened to "clean out" the embassy because of the belief that Mooney, the San Francisco dynamiter, was about to be hanged, was related here by Charles Crane of the American mission to Russia.

The ambassador was notified by telephone that the mob was on the way to the embassy. His guests begged him to flee with them, but he refused. He ordered a negro servant to bring him a revolver and with this weapon he met the crowd at the front door.

"We are going to clean out this place because your government is going to hang Mui (as they called Mooney) our leader," shouted the mob.

"I guess you are not going to do anything of the sort," replied the ambassador.

As he waved the revolver at the misguided Russians they turned and left the premises. No damage was done by them.

Commission May Take Over Power Companies

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Virtual pooling of the electric power and gas plants of the state under the direction of the state railroad commission unless the companies co-ordinate and consolidate their interests to aid in meeting the national emergency, has been forecasted by Frank R. Devlin, state railroad commissioner.

The announcement came at the close of a hearing conducted by Devlin to consider plans for hydro-electric power developments and a consequent conservation of fuel oil.

If the companies themselves fail to reach a definite plan looking toward this conservation, the railroad commission will take the matter under advisement and make any order it may see fit, Devlin asserted.

Devlin asserted that this order would provide for an interchange of interests between the companies, along plans provided by the commission's engineers. He said the financial plan for such an undertaking had not been worked out. A further hearing was set for January 21st.

The hearing developed information that a potential saving of 4,500,000 barrels of fuel oil could be effected in Southern California yearly, if capital was forthcoming to develop certain hydro-electric power plants there.

Suggestions were made that the hydro electric plants be "hooked up" with the oil consuming plants in order that the water power output could be utilized more generally, and fuel oil saved thereby. Among those who testified were R. H. Ballard, vice president of the Southern California Edison company; F. E. Scattergood, electrical engineer of the city of Los Angeles; Mortimer Fleischacker, representing the Great Western Power company, and William Shepherd, representing Southern Oregon power companies.

It was also suggested that a federal priority board be named to take care of the obligations of companies planning hydro-electric development, and that no permits for extensions be granted unless it is proved that they conform to military governmental necessity.

IRRITABLE NERVOUS

Was Condition of Indiana Lady Before Beginning to Take Card-i, the Women's Tonic.

Kokomo, Ind.—Mrs. H. Hankemeier, of this town, says: "I look so well, and am so well, that it does not seem as if I ever needed Card-i. But I was not always this way. . . . I think I have taken a dozen bottles. . . . before my little girl came.

I was feeling dreadfully bad, had headache, backache, sick at my stomach, no energy. . . . I was very irritable, too, and nervous.

I began taking Card-i about 6 months before my baby came. As a result all those bad feelings left me, and I just felt grand, just as if nothing at all was the matter, and when the end came I was hardly sick at all.

Since that I have never taken Card-i at all. . . . It has done me good, and I know it will help others, if they will only try it."

Many women have written grateful letters like the above, telling of the good that Card-i has done them. Why should it not help you, too? If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, and feel the need of a safe, reliable, strengthening tonic, we urge you to begin today and give Card-i a fair trial. Your dealer sells Card-i. EB-10

'Porkless' Days Will Replace 'Meatless' Days

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Delayed orders suspending meatless Tuesdays in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada and Arizona, and substituting "porkless" Tuesday instead, have been received here by Charles D. Blaney, acting federal food commissioner for California, from Herbert Hoover, United States food administrator. The states affected by this order, it was said, now will have two "porkless" days each week, Tuesday and Saturday. Congested transportation facilities in the six Western states were given as the reason for the suspension of "meatless" Tuesdays. The new order, it was announced, would remain.

Muscular Re-Education New Course at U. of O.

MUSCULAR RE-EDUCATION EUGENE, Jan. 16.—Muscular re-education for wounded men is being taught in new class in medical aid, now being offered by the women's physical training department at the University of Oregon, to train medical gymnasts for special work in military convalescent hospitals.

charge of the theory of the course and Miss Harriet Thompson of the practice.

The government has called for the organization of this re-education work all over the country, and has provided a brief intensive course of additional training for the young woman who will be chosen to be sent to the convalescent hospitals at the front. No announcement has yet been made as to the method of choice or date of opening of the additional training course by the government, but only the adequately prepared will be considered.
