SHEPHERDER NOW MAN OF GREAT VALUE

PENDLETON, Ore., Aug. 22.—Wartime conditions have brought the shepherd, for many years past considered as being about at the bottom of employment ladder, to the rank and pay of a skilled laborer in some instances. Prior to the war the going wage for shepherders of the top rank was $45 a month and at present the federal employment office in Pendleton quotes $75 a month and many shepherders are receiving $100. In a few isolated cases $125 has been reported.

At the beginning of the draft the situation in this part of the country, where many large sheep operators make their headquarters became serious. Many shepherders were within the draft age, and little disposition was shown by the draft boards to exempt them. Besides those drafted many sought employment in other lines, to replace drafted men there. To obtain men qualified by training and ability to care for flocks under all conditions on remote ranges, where they were visited only at long intervals by camp tenders, became a knotty problem. Wages began to rise, from $50 a month then to $75 and on up to $100 the figure went. The latter figure, and the exceptional one of $125 were reported as having been paid in Southern Idaho, but operators here were disposed to doubt the higher quotations.

In the matter of living conditions, too, the shepherders' lot has brightened. Only the roughest fare formerly was supplied them. Now their supplies of food are about on a par with those of farm workers. Better means of transportation, due to more general use of motor trucks, has contributed largely to this improvement. Most of the shepherders are single men, and these have now been brought to the distinction of paying war income tax. Many of them are buyers of liberty bonds.

BOYS IN FRANCE WANT HOME PAPERS

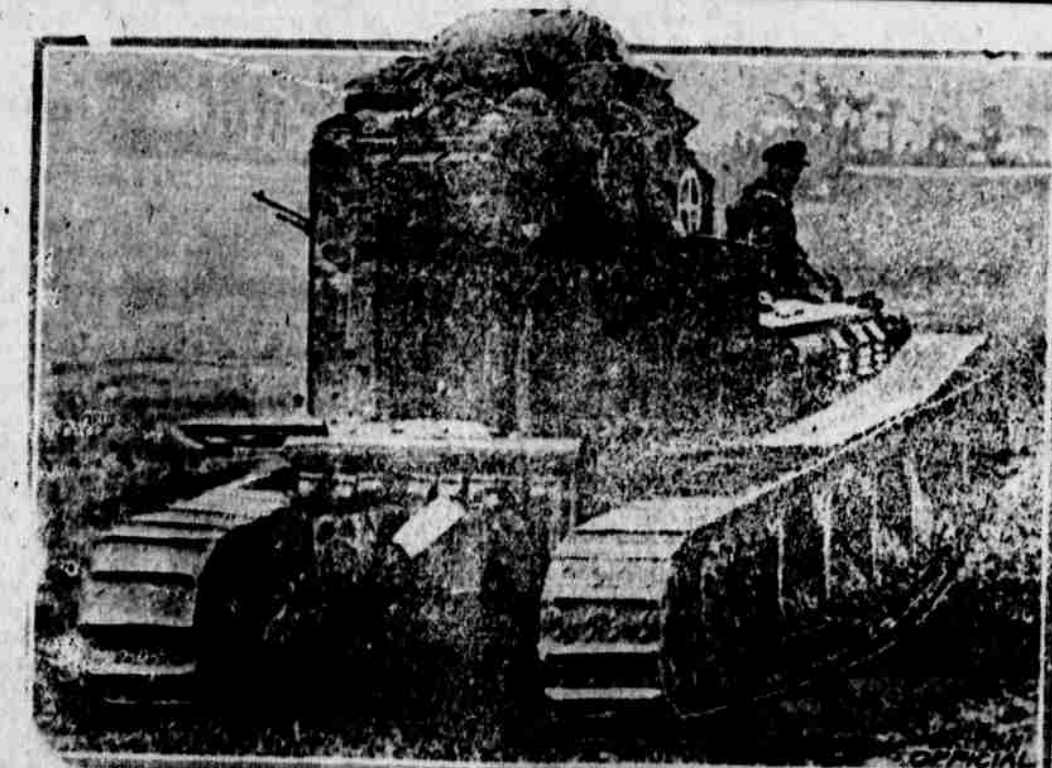

LONDON, Aug. 4.—"More home newspapers" is the appeal which is being made to the Library Committee of the American Red Cross by American soldiers in hospitals in Great Britain.

The Library Committee is at present furnishing reading matter for more than 25,000 men a month, both in hospitals and in camps. The books are either gifts or are purchased in London.

The magazines and newspapers must of necessity come from America. This class of literature gives greater satisfaction to the men than books.

"WHIPPET" TANK HELPS CHASE THE GERMANS

The little "whippet" tank used by the British has been one of the factors in keeping the Germans on the run in General Foch's continuous drive. The tank can move over ground more readily than a larger one first introduced in the war.

At the Theaters

Appearing in what is asserted to be the best photoplay in which she has been seen for many months, Elsie Ferguson, the beautiful Aircraft star, will be presented in a picturization of Robert W. Chambers' famous novel, "The Danger Mark," at the Star Theatre tonight. The story is one of unusual attraction, the theme dealing with a young woman's struggle to master a craving for drink which she had inherited from a bibulous ancestor.

In "The Danger Mark" Mr. Chambers discusses the subject of heredity from a different angle, and his characters move in high social circles. The man with the unquenchable thirst does not lose the fortune he has amassed, but thru the talent of heredity his beautiful daughter has a craving for alcoholic drinks, which thru secret indulgence becomes a confirmed habit.

As adopted to motion pictures, the story provides a vehicle wherein Miss Ferguson appears in luxurious surroundings, attired in beautiful gowns and the role demands the full display of her emotional talent. The climax is attained when she realizes she has reached "the danger mark," and strives desperately to break her shackles in order to be worthy of the man she loves. Her support is excellent.

The new William Fox picture, "Confession," with Jewel Carmen as the star, will be presented at the Orpheus theatre tomorrow. There is unusual interest attached to this first showing because of the fine reputation that Miss Carmen has acquired as a star and also because of the nature of the picture in which she is to be seen. It is described as a thrilling drama of mystery which holds those who see it in suspense from beginning to end.

It begins with a wedding. The bride and bridegroom slip away from their guests. They are held up and all their belongings, including the bride's wedding ring, are taken. The loss of the wedding ring starts a series of events that will stir all motion-picture followers. The climax is remarkable. It is something new, done in a clever and exciting way. Miss Carmen does the best work of her career in this photoplay.

Theda Bara in the 1918 version of "The Two Orphans" is to be the big attraction at the Orpheus Theatre tonight.

The story of the "The Two Orphans" is known to everyone. In its new form it is even more thrilling and will win the applause of millions of motion picture goers. Miss Bara has never failed to give splendid entertainment. In "The Two Orphans" she plays the part of a girl who is not of the vampire type, and she establishes for herself a separate place in pictures. In this picture her versatility is shown to a remarkable degree. It is one of the many reasons why she has so big a place in the hearts of picture fans.

When a woman loves, she is ready to make any sacrifice. That is the moral of "Her Silent Sacrifice," the gripping heart-interest photodrama in which Alice Brady, the Select Pictures star, will appear at the Star Theatre Sunday. Her loved one, an American artist, has great talents, Overseas Athletic Director for the K. of C.

Johnny Evers, the famous second baseman, is now working with the Knights of Columbus War Work activities and will shortly go over to France to take up the direction of athletics in the American soldier camps.

but needs the support of some influential person to further his career. The arrival of Prince Belsard, an old roue, gives her the opportunity, and the unsophisticated little country girl promises to give herself to him in return for his aid to the young artist. The Prince fulfills his part of the bargain, and in the meantime pleases the girl with every luxury and attraction of smart Parisian society life. After the artist receives the Grand Prize, the girl carries out her part of the agreement by publicly acknowledging the Prince as her lover; but the Fate which watches over true lovers saves her from the greatest sacrifice. Thru the Prince's Hindoo servant, the tangle is finally unravelled and "the man and the maid" embarked together upon the blissful seas of matrimony.

Like every Select Star Picture, "Her Silent Sacrifice," with Alice Brady will thrill you and gladden your heart. The Japanese have proven themselves to be wonderful decorators and poets. Their art is the wonder of the Western world. The peculiar dramas which they have for centuries presented have developed marvelous pantomimic actors. These actors appear in the movies in Japan now on the same program with Roy Stewart, Alma Rubens and Olive Thomas. Harry Yamamoto, noted Japanese character actor has been added to Triangle forces. He appears in "Paying His Debt," with Roy Stewart, and his work will be watched with great interest by movie patrons. Yamamoto has a streak of genuine Oriental humor as well as artistry in his blood. In his role of Ching, the cook and general handy man at the mountain retreat of Pete Morton, "The Vanishing Bandit," he introduced "gags" in his sad-faced Oriental way that set Director Cliff Smith and his cast to screaming with laughter. Roy Stewart will be seen "Paying His Debt" at the Temple Theatre Sunday night.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT. Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons. If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow, and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gas and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach. To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headache or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.—ADV.
