Ship owners who have a vessel or vessels at their disposal will do well to look Tillamook-ward just now. There is a splendid opportunity for the right kind of a boat to get on a fine paying route.

There is Mr. Bryan making two speeches a day in Iowa and just aching to break into Ohio and New York, but the wily McLean and Sheehan are strictly motioning him away. It's too bad, in view of Mr. Bryan's fondness for public speaking.

The escape of Senorita Cisnera from her luthsome prison in Havana is hailed with delight by all the friends of the Cuban cause. But it will not be set down to the credit of Butcher Weyler, whose removal from office furnishes cause for congratulation to every person with ordinary feelings of humanity.

Cuba has announced that she will not under any circumstances accept autonomy from Spain. She proposes to have independence or nothing. Her decision has the true ring and there is little doubt that her present struggle will secure for her the coveted boon.

The Nebraska banks are complaining that they have more money than they can loan, and the farmers of that State are paying off their debts with unexampled rapidity, thus making Mr. Bryan's home state a rather uncomfortable place for him just now. This may account for his anxiety to break into Ohio and New York.

W. F. D. Jones, former owner of the HEADLIGHT and more recently the owner of the Mountain View Register in Cal., has sold the latter paper and for the present retired from the newspaper field. We do not know what Mr. Jones' intentions are for the future, but we do know that the Register lost an especially able editor in the retirement of Mr. Jones.

The American "Economist" says: "The spreading of protectionist sentiment in the South, the impartial and wholly national spirit which has determined the provisions of the Dingley law, and the wise and statesman like utterances of President McKinley have gone far to destroy the remnants of that sectionalism which year ago threatened to destroy the Union."

Chairman Jones' views and attitude in regard to the recognition of silver by state platforms are still uncertain. One day he announces that he favors it, and the next day he tries to announce that he has said nothing on the subject. The late Popocratic leader is evidently ashamed of the company he is keeping, but apparently sees no way of breaking loose from it. There are others in the same boat.

Anyhow, there is one thing that William Jennings Bryan can still do. He can write letters. He has been bribed to keep out of New York state in person, ejected from Ohio, given the cold shoulder in Maryland, and shelved in Kentucky, but this does not prevent his writing letters at long range and injecting his advice where it is not wanted. The United States mails are still open to him and by furnishing to the newspapers advance copies of his letters he still manages to keep himself before the public eye despite the efforts of the leaders of his party to silence him.

The determination of the town council to compel the owners of the property on Main street from the bridge to the city limits to build a safe sidewalk is commendable. Last week a gentleman from Astoria was walking along the few planks strung along on trestles in front of the property in question, and happening to make a misstep was precipitated on top of a barbed wire fence, placed there presumably for the purpose of keeping pedestrians from falling to the ground, and quite painfully hurt. A better sidewalk is imperatively demanded at that point and as the property owners every where else in the city have been compelled to build their own walks there is no reason why an exception should be made in the case in question.

We are informed that the arrangement now existing between Captain Schrader and Elmore, Sanborn & Co. will terminate early in 1898. If that be the case it might not be amiss for our shippers to approach the captain and find out his purposes for the future as relates to the Tillamook trade. When the captain had exclusive control of the Tillamook trade the transportation of the county was done to the satisfaction of every one. The HEADLIGHT is not advised as to the captain's purposes for the future, but it is quite possible that he would not be averse to a contract with our shippers, that might be favorable to both sides. The present seems an especially auspicious time to make arrangements with some one. As to who it shall be is not a matter of sentiment but a matter of business. The best service for the least money is what Tillamook wants.

The New Boat

The boat, started by the Malaney bro's, is at last nearing completion and within a couple of weeks will be launched and ready for business. A company has been organized as the Tillamook Tug Co. with a capital stock of $10,000 that will own the boat and operate it. J. E. Sibley is president of the company and L. J. Lamb secretary. The stock is mainly owned by Mr. Sibley and the Malaney Bros. and we understand that the company has strong backing on the outside. Since the new boat was built here and is owned right here by gentle gentlemen who are interested in this county and its material progress, it might be a very sensible plan for the shippers of this county to enter into negotiations with the owners to do the transportation business for this county. The box factory at Hobsonville will naturally do quite a business with the Willamette valley and that together with the butter, cheese and other freight carried out of this port would furnish the little steamer all the work it could do, and if the merchants would favor the boat with their freight it would make it possible to give regular and frequent service between all Tillamook points and Astoria or Portland. The opportunity is ripe for some kind of contract with Tillamook shippers and merchants, and the owners of the new boat should seize the opportunity.

Prompt Action Needed

The time has come when our business men and dairy men should unite in their effort to secure better service and better rates. The interest of one in this matter is the interest of all, and now is the time in which to do the work. All business rivalry and petty spites and jealousies should be forgotten in the common effort to secure for Tillamook a better steamer service.

If the merchants fail to unite in the matter, the dairymen will most probably form a union of their own and not only ship their products on such boat as they may secure, but also purchase a large proportion of their produce from the commission men to whom they ship their butter and cheese. Such a proceeding would be most injurious to our merchants and indirectly to the entire business of the county and no one would deplore it more than the HEADLIGHT.

A united effort should be made by all concerned in the matter and a boat secured that will do the business to the satisfaction of all concerned.

As we said last week we have no choice as to companies or boats. The shippers should select the company that will give them the best terms, and give it a thorough and continuous support. Now is the time for action.

CITATION

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON, FOR THE COUNTY OF TILLAMOOK, SS.

In the matter of the estate of Ernest Wyss, Deceased.
