SHOCKING TRAGEDY IN ARKANSAS.

A Young Man Kills his Mother's Husband on Account of Frequent Quarrels.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., March 12.-A family tragedy yesterday in this city resulted in the death of Wm. J. Brasley, a planter, at the hands of his sixteen year old stepson, James Bounds. Brasley married young Bounds' mother some time ago, and the union was an unhappy one, resulting in their separation. Bounds espoused the cause of his mother, and several quarrels occurred between him and his stepfather. Early yesterday morning, Bounds mounted a horse and rode rapidly to the residence of Brasley. The planter had not yet arisen. The young man pushed into the bedroom and shot him. The assassin then rushed from the house and escaped.

Another Supposed Tascott.

PUEBLO, Col., March 12.-A man was arrested here yesterday who it is claimed, is Tascott, the supposed murderer of Snell, the Chicago millionaire. It is said he answers the description exactly, except that he is disguised. The prisoner claims his name is Brab, and that he came from Pottsville, Missouri, and that he never heard of the murder. He is held in the county jail to await word from Chicago.

The San Diego Method. SAN DIEGO, March 11.-A meeting of citizens was held here last night consequent upon the laxity of the administration of justice and the prevalence of crime in the city. As a result the vigilance committee was appointed. Ward meetings passed resolutions and elected captains. The resolutions provided that all men without a known business or visible means of support shall be ordered to leave town within twelve hours. Trouble is feared.

Paris, March 11.-As the Sullivan-Mitchell party, about thirty in number, were leaving the battle-field yesterday evening, they were approached by a number of gen d'armes and arrested. OREGON INTERESTS AT WASHINGTON

Hermann Succeeds in Having Several Local Bills Passed and Getting Transferred to War Claims Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 10.-Two Oregon bills were yesterday called up by Representative Hermann and unanimously passed by the house, one being to pension James Woody of Grant's Pass, Oregon, and one of the oldest survivors of the war of 1812. The other was for the pension of Martha F. Woodrum, of Gaston.

The speaker, on request of Mr. Hermann, transferred him from the committee on manufactures to that of Indian depositions, and Buchanan, of New York, of that committee was transferred to the former. Mr. Hermann expressed to the speaker his desire for this change, as his state had more interests pending before that committee than in that of manufactures.

Hermann submitted a resolution of Tualatin grange, Patrons of Husbandry, of Clackamas county, Or., asking for a reduction of postage on seeds, bulbs, plants and cuttings, also for abolition of postal notes and for the issue of money orders for less than $5 on a 3-cent fee. Also a memorial from Salem grange, protesting against the admission of Utah as a state.

The Fool Killer had Neglected his Duty.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 10.-Louis Richter shot and killed his cousin, Miss Louise Smith, aged 17, and then sent a bullet through his own brain yesterday afternoon. Richter was a son of Jacob Richter, a former county clerk, one of the wealthiest and best known citizens in the county. Miss Smith lived some distance from here. Arriving at the house, a terrible scene presented itself to the neighbors. In the sitting room, near the stove, lay the bodies of the unfortunate girl and her cousin, in a pool of blood. Louise was still alive, but soon died. Near her, his feet almost touching those of his victim, lay the body of the youthful murderer, his hand still clutching his revolver. His brains were oozing from a wound just back of the ear. He was dead. The only eye-witness was a little sister of the murdered girl, aged 4 years, who was sitting in the room. Richter had been in love with the young lady, and had been paying her attention for some time, but she did not seem to reciprocate his affections, and it is thought this unbalanced his mind.

General Sadness Throughout Germany.

BERLIN, March 10.-The North German Gazette says: The deep sorrow in which the death of the emperor has sunk the German nation casts a dark shadow, not only on our national feeling, but far beyond, on the character of the whole international situation. Europe recognized and revered the emperor as a faithful and powerful protector of the international peace. Although no honest man can doubt that his majesty's influence will live on unweakened and unchanged, everybody feels the wide gap which his disappearance, his dominating personality leaves behind. One thing can be gathered with the greatest certainty from the signs of cordial sympathy in which Austro-Hungarian and English papers have vied with each other in expressing, and from the still more touching attitude of Italy, that Germany does not stand alone in her sorrow. We are convinced that proofs of sympathy from abroad will reach even greater dimensions. There is a further feeling of satisfaction in seeing the crown prince ascend the throne, whose heroic sufferings have made him an object of interest even to his adversaries.
