LANDS AND HOMES.

In the Garden Spot of the great Northwest.

Fertility of Soil, Salubrity of Climate, Wholesome Water, Excellent Timber and Delightful Scenery-Realth, Wealth, Prosperity.

Marion county is situated in the heart of the magnificent Willamette valley, the central gem in the clusfarmer, the cunning artisan and the industrious mechanic.

Rich in its agricultural resources, in its cultivated and uncultivated lands, in its water powers, and minerals; rich in its colleges, and schools of learning, and with a climate unsurpassed for its salubrity, it presents to the immigrant from

BOUNDARIES.

Marion county is bounded on the north by the Willamette river and Butte creek which separates it from Clackamas county; on the east by Clackamas county and the Cascade mountains, which separate it from Wasco county; on the south by the Santiam river and the north fork of the Santiam, separating it from Linn county, and on the west by the Willamette river.

PHYSICAL FORMATION.

The county contains, including valley, prairie and mountain lands, about 900,000 acres.

There are two main divisions, the mountain and the valley. The latter extends from the Willamette river to the foot of the Cascade mountains, a distance of about fifteen miles. The mountainous portion contains some fourteen townships of mostly unsurveyed land; lying in a strip twelve miles north and south by forty miles east and west, and com-prises all classes of land, from rich narrow valleys in the passes, up through all the grades of rolling, hilly and broken, to that of rock-bound canyons and inaccessible eraggy peaks. It is generally heavily timbered, and in the near future will be valuable for its lumber sup-Now that the political campaign is approaching it is seasonable time to subscribe for the CARPAAL terprising farmers are availing them-JOURNAL. GREAT ADVANTAGES.

A decided advantage Marion county has over many others is the di-versified farming interest that can be carried on throught the entire year; notwithstbnding this is a wet climate during the winter months, the uplands are seldom too wet to work, and long before the prairie farmers are through with their seeding, the hill farmer is preparing for his summer work. And yet the low lands are much preferred by many; the yield per acre is generally greater, and perhaps less labor is re-quired to place the soil in proper condition for crops; and then should the season prove dry, the bottom lands are sure to bring the best crops. No better farming land can be found in the United States than that on the noted Howell prairie, French prairie, Santiam prairie and Salem prairie. The soil of these are wonderfully productive. With good cultivation, forty bushels of wheat and sixty of oats per acre can be readily secured.

PACILITIES FOR MARKET. The Willamette river, with two lines of railroad running the entire length of the county from north to south, with the Oregon Pacific road crossing the southeast corner of the county, affords ample facilities to reach a market in any direction.

SALEM Is the capital of the state and county seat of Marion county, situated on the Willamette river—and on the O. & C. railroad. Costly buildings have been erected, among which the state capitol building county court house, Chemekete hotel opera house, enew public school building, Catholic school building, Methodist church, Willamette University, and many private residences and business blocks, which will compare favorably with older and lurger cities. larger cities.

All things considered, the Willamette valley has the best country in 126, State street, Salem, Or.

the world, and Marion county is about centerally located therein. To those seeking homes in the west, no better opportunities can be offered, than are found here. Persons desiring information regarding Marion county or the Willamette valley, those wanting farming lands, stock farms, business property or city residences, will be promptly and reliably informed by addressing the well known firm of Willis a Chamberlin, real estate agents, opera house block, Salem, Oregon.
