

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Chairman Golden Furnishes the Republicans with a Campaign Document.

GOLDEN FACTION DEFEATED.

Resolutions Endorsing Cleveland, Penoyer and Everything in General and Nothing in Particular. The Nominations.

The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by Dr. Golden, chairman of the county central committee.

The chairman stated that while waiting for delegates to arrive by the morning train he would make a few remarks. He then delivered the following:

ADDRESS TO THE CONVENTION.

Gentlemen of the convention before proceeding to elect a temporary chairman to preside over this intelligent body, it might be well for me to make a short statement in regard to the political condition of the democratic party in Marion county.

In looking over this intelligent convention, I see men that have been honored and well known delegates to take part in selecting our next Marion county officers that four years ago were working and voting with the republican party.

Our chances of electing the democratic ticket in Marion county are good. We will have the penitentiary, asylum, Indian school, and our public works in the country to draw our party vote from.

The leaders of the republican party have had power in Marion county for over twenty-five years. They look upon the party as their personal property, to advance both their political and pecuniary fortunes.

But the people are not to be made the slaves of those who have prospered through party machinery, and the spirit of revolt is growing stronger every election.

The vote on temporary chairman resulted in the election of Judge Walton, who received 99 votes to Brown's 39.

Herbert moved that permanent organization be deferred until after dinner and that committees on credentials, order of business, resolutions and appropriation be named.

The chair then appointed the committees and the convention adjourned till 12:30 p. m.

At the Democratic Convention of Marion county held to report as follows:

1st.—We feel that we are now entering upon a new era in the great movement that has already sprung up in the East, the West, the North, and the South, and that one many days the whole land will resound in the onward movement of the great Democratic party that has risen out of the ashes of the great states and territories of these United States.

2nd.—We feel that Oregon, our own state, will not only be represented by Governor and Treasurer, but ere another two years shall roll by, we shall have full control of every state office, and shall be represented in the great national capital at Washington by Democratic Senators and Representatives that will do great honor to the people and to the state which they represent.

is not responsible for their support. You all know the republicans of Salem at that time were advocating the bridge question, and it leaked out that Mr. Davis, the commissioner, was opposed to the building of the Salem bridge. The republican ring called a meeting and sent men to see Mr. Davis and put the question direct to him: "If elected county commissioner will you stand in with us on the Salem bridge?" He answered and said, "No, my constituents in the lower end of the county are opposed to building a bridge across the Willamette at Salem. If elected, I will not take money out of the county funds to build your bridge."

Now these tickets had Mr. Davis' name scratched off and Henry Warren's name written on them. Remember this was the Friday evening before the candidates spoke in Salem on Saturday evening and the election was held on Monday following.

The following having received the vote set opposite their names (73 being necessary to elect) were declared the nominees:

DELEGATES: H. H. Dearborn, W. J. Herron, L. M. Savage, F. H. D'Arcy, F. E. Eldridge, Charles Miller, W. W. Elder, J. B. Heninger, F. X. Matthieu.

agon, and feel that they have done great credit to the people and to the party which they represent.

4th.—We feel that our county should be represented in every branch, and that we should leave no stone unturned until clerk, sheriff and other offices are filled by good and efficient democrats as can be found in the county.

5th.—We now come to the last but not least, our great democratic leader, Grover Cleveland, and while we do not feel able to eulogize upon his great and good work which he has done, allow us to say that we fully endorse every act, and trust that he may again lead us to victory, and that once more he will be placed at the head of the great battle of 1888.

Democrats, we now appeal to you to stand by the ticket we are about to nominate. Remember that now is our golden opportunity and that victory will assure us the sun goes down in the west on the first Monday in June.

The convention then adjourned for 15 minutes to give committee on credentials time to report.

LOCAL NOTES.

Mrs. M. E. Smith is in Portland. The CAPITAL JOURNAL's city list is growing daily.

S. Friedman went to Portland on this morning's train. Mrs. Alice Crane, of Portland, is here visiting friends.

Mrs. Mary Cooper has gone to Gervais to visit friends. Attorneys O. F. Paxton and Sam H. Stott, of Portland, are in the city.

R. A. Giesner, is very low and not expected to live at his home in this city. Herbert Wilson, mailing clerk at the postoffice, is on duty again after a short illness.

Charley Riley is the proud owner of a colt from the "Church mare," by the famous Rockwood. An informal hop will probably be given at the armory this evening after the inspection and muster.

State Superintendent McElroy went to Oregon City this morning. He will probably return to-night. Miss Anna Plamondin left this morning for Seattle, W. T., where she will visit friends several weeks.

Miss L. A. Burns, of San Francisco, has assumed the position of milliner in Charles Calvert's establishment.

By an oversight the name of Prof. Parvin was omitted from the program as rendered at the W. R. C. social the other evening. Hon. W. R. Blyen, of Albany, was in town this morning looking after the delegation to the democratic state convention.

It is announced that the Lebanon Express has been sold to Kirkpatrick & Bugler, two young men of that city. Its politics it is understood will be democratic.

Lieut. W. N. Ladue, regimental quartermaster, will inspect and muster "B" Co., and the second regiment Band, at the armory on State street this evening. Citizens of Salem are invited to be present.

Beverly's Mammoth Minstrels. On Tuesday evening, March 27, Beverly's celebrated minstrels will hold forth at the opera house with a first-class performance.

The lecture this evening at the Congregational church should be attended by all admirers of Mr. Ingersoll, as the letter which Mr. Driver will answer embodies the main theories of the Ingersoll religion. Lecture at 8 o'clock, everybody, and hear what Mr. Driver has to say. Such men as M. C. George and others say that it is the best they ever heard, and a repetition has been called for in Portland.

Post Office Discontinued. Since the death of Mr. Angus Shaw about two weeks ago the position of postmaster at the office of that name has been vacant, and it is possible the office may be discontinued, as it is difficult to find a person willing to bother with it. We hope some one will take hold of it and keep the office there, as it has been quite a convenience to the neighborhood.

Inventory Filed. The inventory made by Mary Jackson, guardian, and James Hunt, John McCormack, and A. Coyle, appraisers of the property in the estate of Jerome R. and Joseph A. Jackson, minor heirs of Jerome B. Jackson, deceased, was filed yesterday in the office of the county clerk. The amount of real and personal property contained in the estate is $12,139.02.
