Adjourned.

Demand for Government Surveys.

The Oregonian says: Surveyor General Taylor is in constant receipt of petitions from all parts of the state from persons who want surveys made. There has been surveyed only a narrow strip along the coast, and people are settling along the streams back up into the Coast Range and wish their claims surveyed. Some of the petitioners have been settled on their claims all the way from three to fifteen years, and the work asked for should be done. However it cannot be done till an appropriation is made and the government increases the rate per mile paid for the work.
