MORE ABOUT THE DEPOT.

A Few More Suggestions in Case removal is Given up.

Nothing has yet been heard from Mr. Koehler about the removal of the depot, but the idea is growing stronger every day that the project is one that will not be carried out.

It is believed that should Mr. Koehler make a proposition to the business men of Salem to change the location of the depot, that the proposition will be so worded as to place it entirely beyond the consideration of the parties interested here. While no one denies the fact that the present depot is out of the way, and entirely out of reach of every body, yet it is believed that there it will stay. The only remedy will then lie in improving the walks to the depot.

Another thing that might be considered, and that is the removal of the depot building to the western side of all the tracks, so that no matter what trains or cars might be occupying the siding or other tracks, teams and footmen could get to the depot without waiting for long trains to get out of the way. Another track will soon be a necessity there anyway, and this could be laid over the ground where the present platform lies.

As the depot now stands teams, in order to reach the depot platform have to cross the switch, and often this is made dangerous by switching trains, and steaming engines either moving or standing on the tracks. Were the depot building placed clear of the tracks on the west, so that nothing would cut the platform off from the street, all this danger and trouble would be obviated. In no city in the east do cabs, etc., have to cross switches, and pass in between trains in order to leave their passengers at the depot.

Were this done, the sidewalk could then be built straight out 12th street, and then but very little cross walk would be necessary to reach the depot. This matter, it is believed has never been suggested to the railroad company before, and THE JOURNAL hopes they may consider the matter, and at least do the best possible to give the city convenient depot facilities.

An Insane Man's Act.

A Swede named Andrew Petersen cut his throat while in the mountains near Weston recently. He is crazy and thinks that some men at a woodchoppers' camp there wanted to kill him. In running from them, he said, he felt afraid he could not escape from them so cut his throat, inflicting a wound about four inches long and very deep, severing his wind pipe. He had lived six days since the wound was made, probably with nothing to eat, when discovered. He was taken to Pendleton where his wound was sewed up. He says the wound in his neck is a very good thing, as the frogs in his stomach can get out there. He will probably die.

Whist Club.

The Old Folks' Whist club met at the residence of Mr. C. L. Keller on State and Church streets last evening. This was probably the last meeting of the club for this season, and everybody went in for a jolly good time. There were about forty guests, and whist, music, dancing, etc., made the evening pass quickly and pleasantly. Refreshments were served at the proper time, and thoroughly enjoyed by all. This club has made the season an exceedingly pleasant one for the elder people of the city, and they will miss its weekly visits.

Wants to Enter!

The Salem printers are talking about having a big picnic sometime within a month or two. The democrat hopes it will be invited, as one of the most enjoyable picnics it ever attended was that given by them about six years ago, when Mr. Pottinger immortalized himself by carrying off the prize for being the ugliest looking printer present.—Albany Democrat. Our Albany cotemp^r is most cordially invited to attend, and its editor may enter for this prize, this year, without paying any entrance fee.

"My dear, isn't it about time we had the baby's picture taken? Where shall I go with him, I want a real nice picture to send to his grandma?" "Why, go to Cherrington's. He never fails to catch the babies, because he has the facilities and knows just how to use them. His crayons, too, are equal to any I have ever seen."

THE PRINTERS' PICNIC.

The Celebration Assured, and the Committees Appointed.

The committee of general arrangements for the printers' picnic met last evening with almost a full attendance, and appointed the following committees:

On Finance—J. A. Manning, E. O. Norton, Jas. Godfrey, L. R. Stinson, Frank Davey.

Program—E. M. Waite, Nellie Riley, T. D. Porter.

On Music—Frank C. Baker, E. B. Piper, Ross E. Moores.

On Speaker—J. B. Fithian, Frank E. Hodgkin, C. B. Moores.

Printing—R. E. Moores, E. M. Waite, T. J. Cronise, F. C. Baker.

Reception—W. H. Byars, J. B. Fithian, R. J. Hendricks, J. R. Shepherd, George Rogers, F. Lockley, M. L. Chamberlin.

The committee on program was authorized to appoint an honorary committee and such other committees as may be deemed necessary. The secretary was instructed to invite the federated trades of Portland to participate in the festivities.

The "antimony slingers" of this city have not indulged in this sort of a festival for four years, and, although they have always made more or less arrangement for such a gala day each year they have let the matter drop. There is to be no foolishness about the matter this time, and the picnic is to be a sure go. An effort is to be made to make this a grand affair, and the effort merits success. The parties who have the matter in hand, intend to spare no pains to give everybody a good time, and to secure the attendance of a large number of people.

STAYTON ITEMS.

Owing to the sudden change in the weather lately, every one is suffering with a cold.

Henry Davie, one of our citizens, is in The Dalles very sick. We hope to hear of his recovery soon.

T. J. McClary, who has been our school teacher for the last two years, has taken the Union Hill school, commencing his work last Monday.

Taylor Smith has sold his property here and with his family moved to King's Valley, Benton county, where he will engage in blacksmithing.

Mr. Avery and family, also Mrs. Doty and family, have gone to the Sound to live. It seems we are losing a good many of our people. We hope soon to see some one coming in to fill up the vacancies.

Mrs. Lee Brown met with quite a painful, though we hope not serious, accident last week. She was visiting at Mrs. Shelley's and in some way, she hardly knew how, her chair was overturned, breaking two of her ribs and bruising her up considerably. At present she is getting along as well as could be expected.

M. QUAD.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at W. W. Cox's drug store.

Club Meeting.

There will be a meeting held at the Liberty school house, 3 1/2 miles south of Salem, in South Salem precinct on Saturday night, April 25th at 7:30 P. M., for the purpose of organizing a club to discuss the political issues of the day. A full representation is earnestly desired from each of the political parties.

REMARKS.

Wm. J. Wiggs had an examination yesterday before Esquire Esken on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and was discharged. F. U. Hull appeared for the state and Col. N. B. Knight of Salem for defendant.

Mart Smith and George Cox had a regular red eye whisky fight in the afternoon, growing out of Cox's defending, after trial, Wm. N. Thomas, the prosecuting witness against Wiggs. Cox was declared winner by the spots.

Mr. Gobalet, nominee on the democratic ticket for county surveyor, has been engaged to-day surveying land for James K. Smith and Susanna Fisher.

Three cheers for Blaine and Harrison.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesler, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own household work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, 50c. and $1. at H. W. Cox's drug store.

The graduating class of the Willamette university this year will consist of Miss Aelia Royal, A. B.; Will S. Hetzler, A. B.; Albert S. Mulligan, A. B.; John Jensen, B. S.; Harold Oberg, A. B.; J. Nussan Brown, LL. D.; and Willis C. Hawley, A. B., LL. D. Rev. Alfred Kummer, D. D., of Portland will preach the baccalaureate sermon June 10, and Dr. Ross Houghton will deliver the commencement address June 14.

The inauguration of Dr. C. C. Stratton as president of Mills' college near Oakland, California, will take place on May 4. The alumni will hold their annual meeting on the morning of the same day. Dr. Stratton is well known in Salem, and many of the young ladies of Salem have been under the tutelage of the teachers at Mills.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Dr. H. W. Cox.

Queer Fits and Starts.

The fits and starts—using these words in their literal meaning—of the nervous people often strike the beholder as ludicrous. The nerves of hearing of such unfortunate are painfully acute, and impinged by abrupt, unexpected noises, lead them sometimes to perform antics worthy of a jumping jack. At the root of nervousness, in most instances, is non-assimilation of the food, and consequently innutrition of the nerves as of the other tissues of the body. This prolonged is, of course, productive of serious nervous disease. The remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that invigorates the stomach and enable it to perform its functions properly. Soon after commencing a course of it, it will be found that the nerves grow more tranquil by day, nightly repose becomes less interrupted, and appetite more vigorous and satisfying. These are the initial indications, followed by the complete restoration of nervous vigor. The bitters also cure fever and ague, liver complaint and constipation.
