SOME COMPROMISE WANTED.

A few Useful Suggestions to Doctor Driver and Such Prohibition Friends.

ED. JOURNAL:—There seems to be such a bitter antagonism to the third party and its methods, that some effort at compromise among the friends of prohibition should be made. Lovers of the cause are loath to lose the help of 17,000 votes who stayed away from the polls last fall, and of 9,000 more, who were offended, for some cause and also remained at home. Such was Dr. Driver's plain talk in the lecture he gave here on Friday night. Why cannot these 26,000 men be cemented into a "unit", the same as "the whisky unit," mentioned by J. W. Watts in the Oregonian of June 24? The 3,000 third party friends who voted, were by Bro. Driver's admission, a part of the 20,000 votes cast for the amendment last November. With these to play on there would be a possible voting force of 26,000. Now, surely, there is as wide a field for the God given plan of work as there ever was. Surely third party followers are as easily induced to vote right as any others. Let me adduce an example of Dr. Driver's unit work, as shown by the whisky men of Oregon at the last two elections. The state being largely republican there has been successively for two elections, a supreme judge whose platform was old anti-temperance put on the bench. But Bro. Watts said, "divided we fall." How is it that the whisky combination reverses this time-honored adage, and makes it read "divided we stand?" Their forces are in both the old parties. Herein is the secret of their work. While there are two parties only, it is easy enough for them to flop over votes enough in states or counties, nearly evenly divided, to elect men friendly to their interest. And they do it; a practice the lovers of God's plan have not yet adopted. The intervention of the prohibitionists confuses this game, which accounts for the unrelenting abuse heaped on it. The saloon men know who mean blood.

Surely Dr. Driver, if he is the abstinent man he professes to be, and the lover of morality we expect to see in a preacher, ought to feel as friendly toward the third party brethren as toward those of the party with a whisky platform, whom he declares he will never support. "So help me, God." Why not let the good work go on? What is the use of having an army of the Lord officered with the devil's men? Will Bros. Watts and Driver show us any good reason for keeping our forces under the command of parties having such a unit of power? What is the meaning of Paul's expression, "Come out from among them," but that of concentrating of influence?

Periodically, and sometimes often, the country is seized with an election spasm, the effects of which are so paralyzing, that the ordinary offices of life are neglected. This state has been thus afflicted, and while the attack lasted, newspapers and politicians could talk about nothing but the tax on wool, the evils of the rum traffic and the perils of Cleveland. Yesterday the patient reached the climax. It was taken with a convulsion which lasted nearly all day, but the violence abated about six o'clock. A council of doctors was held in which a summing up of the attack was made, and the patient passed a quiet night. To-day a slight restlessness is apparent, but otherwise the malady is over. We may now look for a return to the ordinary affairs of life.

Dickens to Advertise Oregon. Charles Dickens Jr., was greatly pleased with the manner with which he was treated in Oregon. As a method of showing his gratitude, he has requested Will G. Steel to forward to him in England, from time to time, such pictures and descriptions of bits of Oregon scenery as Mr. Steel may consider appropriate. These will be published in "All the Year Round", a periodical edited by Mr. Dickens. This will be a good advertisement for Oregon. Mr. Dickens said he would like to see the Oregon climate in winter, as the weather while he was here reminded him so much of England. So he and his family will come back in about two years and stay here for several weeks.

G. W. POWELL. SALEM, June 4th.

Funeral Notice. The funeral of the late Mrs. Agatha Halley will take place to-morrow (Wednesday) at 10 a. m., from the residence, 4 miles north of town, instead of the Baptist church. The interment will be in Lee Mission cemetery. Friends are invited.

Eugene Malo, a native of England was admitted to full citizenship to-day, and Jacob Muehlaupt, a Swiss, declared his intentions of becoming a citizen.

NEARING THE END

The Oregon and California New Under That Company's Control.

Says the Portland News of to-day: In the United States Circuit Court yesterday Judge Deady made an order in the case of the Southern Pacific railroad vs. the Oregon & California Railroad et al. dismissing bill and discharging receiver; also referring accounts to George H. Durham, master, to audit, etc. This was the suit originally brought by Harrison et al. against the Oregon & California Railroad Company to recover mortgages held against that road. A few days ago an order was made by Judge Deady in which the Southern Pacific road was substituted in place of plaintiffs, Harrison et al., for the reason that they had bought up and held most of the mortgages against the Oregon & California. The order made yesterday, dismissing the suits, virtually takes the road out of Receiver Koehler's hands and places it under the control and management of the Southern Pacific Company.

WORKED LIKE A NEW BROOM.

The Republicans Sweep Things Clean. Gains All Over the State.

A great deal of interest has been taken in the result of the election of yesterday, and while it was thought last night that the republicans had been successful, not even the most hopeful in that party dared expect a result as full of cheer as is bulletined in to-day's report.

The latest from the state is that Hermann will have a majority of fully 3500, while the republicans have made large gains all over the state.

The republicans have elected everything in Marion, Multnomah, Douglas, Lane, Polk, Benton and Yamhill counties, and have elected part of their ticket in Umatilla, Linn and Jackson counties. In Umatilla and Jackson, the republicans gain a representative each, and the same is reported from Union, Baker and Clatsop counties.

In this county every man on the republican ticket is elected by no less than 100 majority, and from that to 250 majority. The legislature will be from 12 to 20 republican on a joint ballot. The republicans are exceedingly jubilant, as in no county is there reported a loss, as compared with the vote of two years ago, and in all counties decided gains are made. The prohibition vote failed to materialize in the numbers prophesied for it, and it will be a factor in politics in this state, no more. In the accompanying table, is given the vote as far as received, although all precincts have been heard from, in a sufficient measure to estimate the general majority. As a democratic leader remarked to a JOURNAL reporter, "The democrats have met the enemy, and they are his'n."

A Market for Fruit.

It has been successfully demonstrated that the Willamette valley can produce as fine and finer fruits than any place in the world. It now becomes necessary to cast about for some means of disposing of the fruit we shall raise. No one who has investigated the matter has any fears that the Eastern market will take all we can supply. The question arises, how shall we prepare it for market? The farmer who has several acres of apples, pears, peaches or plums should be prepared to dry his fruit. We recently asked Dr. Reynolds what dryer he uses for his pears and plums. He informed us that he is using No. 5, Jory dryer, manufactured here in Salem by our fellow townsmen H. S. Jory & Son. He further stated that in his opinion it is the most practicable dryer yet made. Last fall the writer visited the nursery and orchard of Seth Llewellyn of Milwaukee, Oregon, and found a number of dryers in operation. Mr. Llewellyn informed us that he believed it a grand success. We mention this because we have had experience with drying fruit, and know that the cheapest is not always the best. Yet, Mr. Jory's dryer is sold as cheaply as it can be built. No fancy price for the patent is added. We would discourage any and every one from experimenting with home made dryers, on the ground of economy. An examination of this dryer will satisfy you that you cannot do better than to give them an order.

Polk County Republican.

McCoy, June 5.—Ed. T. Hatch, republican, for state senate, has forty majority. The county is more strongly republican than for years. Everything republican is elected, except sheriff, which is doubtful.

A subscriber just in from Silverton says the democrats scratched Sellwood from their ticket because he is a temperance man and voted for the amendment, and gave their support to Yoder. Thirty-five votes were given to the republican candidate because of his competitor's total abstinence proclivities.
