

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

Itemized Account of Doings in City and Country.

LOCAL NOTES.

Two prisoners were brought from Baker county to the penitentiary today.

Yesterday Children's day was celebrated in the Presbyterian church, in this city, with very interesting services, and there was a crowded congregation to witness them.

Representative Hermann has secured an extension of mail service to Looking Glass from Oakland, Douglas county. He has also been informed that an increase from six to seven trips a week has been ordered from Linkville to Lakeview.

The Indians Discharged.

The three Indians were discharged by U. S. Commissioner Walton on Saturday evening, there appearing good evidence that the Indians thought they were telling the truth when they swore that the Chinaman Ah Joe was the one who furnished them the liquor. The evidence went to show that there was another Chinaman that looked like this one, who had since left the country, and the Indians took this to be he.

Boy Badly Injured.

About three o'clock this afternoon, Charley, 14 year old son of Groceryman Winters, while playing near the Salem flouring mills, fell off the end of the railroad trestle work, a distance of about twenty feet, severely breaking his left leg, and it is feared he is injured internally. Drs. Richardson and Holmes are setting the fractured limb as the JOURNAL goes to press.

National Guard Resignation.

Capt. Charles Olive, commanding H Co., 2d regiment, O. N. G., at Coquille city, Coos county, has forwarded his resignation to Col. Smith, and it has been transmitted to general headquarters with Col. Smith's approval. Capt. Olive intends leaving Coquille city. The Coos bay companies will have a competition drill at Coquille city on July 4th.

The City Tax Roll.

Recorder J. H. Strickler is now engaged in writing up the city assessment and tax roll, and will be ready to turn it over to Marshal Ross, with the warrant for collection on Wednesday. After the roll is placed in his hands, it must be advertised by the marshal for a week, when taxes are due and collectible.

For San Francisco.

Miss Frankie Jones and Miss Laura Goltra expect to start for San Francisco next Monday, where they will be joined by Miss Julie Chamberlain about July 1. They will all pass the summer there, studying music under the best teachers of that city, and in seeing the sights.

Teas!

S. Farrar & Co. pay special attention to this important article, and keep on hand a fine line of the choicest teas. Among the many choice brands which they handle may be mentioned the Cupid brand, English breakfast, Gunpowder and Young Hyson. Give these a trial.

To Be Examined.

Fred Crump, the prisoner at the pen who tried to crumple himself out of existence, first by cutting his throat, and second by butting his head against the floor, is to be examined to-day as to his sanity. He will likely be sent to the asylum.

Overland Trains Late.

The overland express that should have passed here yesterday morning passed north about midnight last night, and to-day's train was several hours late. This was occasioned by several washouts in the California mountains.

At Good Boating Stage.

The river is now several feet above low water mark, and is at what steamboatmen consider an excellent boating stage. There will probably be plenty of water for two months yet, for fall traffic on the river.

Articles Filed.

The First Methodist Episcopal church of Albina, and the Sandy Cemetery Association of Sandy, Clackamas county, have filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of State.

POLITICAL POINTS.

The Coming Campaign to be an Aggressive one in Oregon.—Talk With Mr. Gregg.

A JOURNAL reporter accosted Hon. J. T. Gregg, secretary of the state central committee, this morning, inquiring as to the intentions of the state committee in the coming presidential campaign. Mr. Gregg said he would go to Portland in a day or two, and be ready to open fire on the enemy from within the central committee's fort as soon as they saw enough of our foes to shoot at; and if they did not show up of their own sweet will in a few days, the committee would likely start out an active array of excellent campaign warriors to hunt for them.

"We intend to make an aggressive fight, and to do our best to increase our majority to 10,000 in November," Mr. Gregg thinks it can be done, if the nominees of the convention are satisfactory. Of course, Mr. Gregg believes with all Oregon republicans, that Mr. Blaine could poll the largest vote in Oregon of any nominee, but he feels that Mr. Blaine is out of the fight. When asked who could poll the next largest vote in our state he unhesitatingly answered "Alger." Yet, he thinks that any man who may prove the choice of the republican delegates in the convention, will be able to carry Oregon by a large majority over Mr. Cleveland.

Mr. Gregg is very well pleased with the result of the first campaign under the management of the new central committee, and the JOURNAL feels that every republican in the state feels the same way. Mr. Barin knew his man, when he selected Mr. Gregg for the responsible post of secretary of his committee.

"How, about speakers in this campaign, Mr. Gregg? Are you going to import another man with his legs shot off, to the everlasting worry of the democracy?" was asked. "I don't know; we may," he replied. "Yet, I think, while we will have a good corps of speakers in the field, we will depend on local talent, mainly this campaign. We have a large number of able speakers in the state, and we will make use of them."

Arrangements have been made by which the nominees of the convention will be known here a few minutes after they are made, probably on Wednesday, and the county committee is preparing to let the people know when they hear in the usual manner. A ratification meeting is also talked of for that evening, but nothing definite is decided on yet. The republicans everywhere feel disposed to make a hard, hot fight during this campaign, and they will change the order of things in November if there are enough of them.

The Camp Meeting.

Rev. J. W. Webb writes from Turner as follows: "The Christian camp meeting was largely attended to-day (Sunday) by visitors from the town, Salem and other places. Elder Clark Braden, the celebrated lecturer and debater, and Elder G. W. Sweeney, editor of the California Christian Independent are expected to be present to-morrow and following days and to address the public. Many campers are coming in. The meeting will continue over next Sunday."

Since the above was put in type, the following additional particulars are received from Mr. Webb: The attendance of hundreds of people at the camp meeting in Turner, including many Salemites, surprised the most sanguine, considering the weather. Elder Clark Braden, of Ohio, arrived last night, on the delayed overland train from California. He will speak here to-night at 7:30 also to-morrow at 11 a. m. He will likely deliver a series of addresses on "Infidelity," beginning Thursday evening.

TURNER, June 18th.

Lots of Brick Being Laid.

A short talk with Mr. Geo. Collins this morning rewarded the writer, by giving him information that the number of brick sold so far in this city during the present season, was about 300,000. Mr. Collins said that he considered this a good sale, considering that the season was barely opened yet. He thinks that Salem may well be satisfied with the number of improvements that are going on within her limits, and says that he really considers that building is very lively here now. About 400,000 brick is usually the maximum sale for a year, but he thinks the number used will exceed that this year.

JEFFERSON NOTES.

Gathered by our Traveling Correspondent.

The Grangers' warehouse, run by Mr. G. L. Thompson, contains about 10,000 bushels of wheat and 2,600 bushels of oats.

Messrs. Rigdon and Vaughn have planted about twenty acres of potatoes, a short distance south of town, which are looking fine, and promise to yield about 200 bushels per acre.

P. H. Ewell is still improving his place adjoining town. He has lately set out 300 fruit trees, and a large variety of small fruits.

E. N. Thomas has put out 1500 prune trees on his farm near town, they are all doing well and will undoubtedly prove a paying investment.

Williams and Stratton, of Miller's station, Linn county, are busily engaged delivering wood to the O. & C. R. R., having a contract to furnish 1400 cords.

Mr. Walter, proprietor of the Jefferson hotel, has lately put down a new sidewalk in front of the hotel.

The city council at its last meeting ordered a sidewalk built along the east side of Main street. Also crosswalks in several places.

The depot building has lately received a new roof which adds greatly to its appearance.

Rev. B. W. Longworth is putting up a new residence near the Jefferson Institute.

Dr. J. J. Leavitt is having an addition built on to his house, and otherwise improving it.

Mr. McCleary, of the firm of Corbett & McCleary, of Portland, was in town last week looking after the property owned by the firm at this point.

The Sunday school at the Methodist Episcopal church, under the superintendency of W. T. Rigdon, is in a flourishing condition, and has an average attendance of ninety with an enrollment of over one hundred.

Jefferson is sorely in need of a butcher shop, and a good opening awaits some live, energetic man.

The hop yards in this vicinity are doing finely, and an abundant yield is expected.

The farmers in this vicinity have put in a large acreage of squashes, upon which to fatten hogs. This is a new adventure in this neighborhood.

Messrs. Oscar Busey, Samuel Nixon, Charley Cress and Oliver Hyde, of Harrisburg, passed through town last week, on their way to Eastern Oregon.

F. M. Miller is having a fine dwelling erected on his farm, across the river.

The warehouse of the Jefferson Flour Mills, leased by Mr. Otto Shultz, has on hand about 2,000 bushels of wheat and 600 bushels of oats.

A. Lois Tanzler, our taxidermist, has a very fine selection of birds, etc. He took the first prize at the Mechanics' fair in Portland, in 1886.

A. B. Hudlson, our genial postmaster, was in Portland last week on business.

Charley Miller has returned home a "sadder and a wiser man," and will have to be content with reading the proceedings of the next legislature, instead of being a participant therein.

We understand that E. J. Hearn will shortly commence the erection of a new store adjoining the one he now occupies.

Mrs. B. N. Longworth spent last week visiting her sister, who resides in Polk county.

B. A. Childers, formerly of this place, but at present residing at Brownsville, paid our town a visit last week.

W. T. Van Scoy is repainting his residence and otherwise adding to its external appearance.

S. R. Foster, agent for Hudson & Burley, sewing machine agents of Salem, was in town last week.

Hay harvest will commence in a few days.

Crops of all descriptions are looking fine.

Workmen have just completed repairing the house owned by Tanzler & Son, adjoining their store.

Mr. Winters, who lives a short distance north of town, has a large tent adjoining the postoffice fixed up as a photograph gallery, and will no doubt do a good business.

About one hundred acres of potatoes have been planted in this vicinity.

The saloon across the Santiam, we understand, will close up shortly.

The farmers in this neighborhood should bear in mind that the CAPITAL JOURNAL is the cheapest and best weekly newspaper in the Willamette Valley. No exceptions!

Don't Want to be Tempted.

The board of trade has met with a character in its correspondence. It is a man who does not want to be tempted, even, to come to Oregon. He finds New York good enough for him, but he is afraid he might find some place that would tempt him to leave there. The board had a postal from him last month, telling them not to send him any pamphlets, but they sent him some, and he was sent a copy of the JOURNAL containing his postal.

The board is in receipt of two more cards, probably written on receipt of these documents. Here they are:

New York, May 31, 1888.

The Salem Board of Trade: "Please don't send me your books. I don't want your stuff. Keep them home. Remember this: New York is good enough for me. John B. Van Nest, 716 Washington street. Keep your Books Home.—Remember this."

The other is not dated, but was mailed on June 1st:

"Keep your Books at Home, you skins! I don't want your stuff. Remember this; I don't live in Washington street. Don't write to me. Remember this. John B. Van Nest."

The JOURNAL joins with the Salem board of trade in extending a cordial invitation to Mr. Van Nest to visit Oregon, after which visit, if the invitation be accepted, we venture to say that New York will be good enough for him no more.

Fire in the Jail at Dallas.

About the middle of last week, a school teacher named Tuck, engaged in teaching a school in Cooper Hollow, between Monmouth and Dallas, whipped a little child almost to death, beating it over the back with a club, because the child could not spell "h-e-r, her." He was arrested and tried, found guilty of assault and fined $15. He failed to put up, and was remanded to the county jail at Dallas.

About half past twelve o'clock this morning, he set fire to the jail, and succeeded in burning out the cell partitions before it was discovered. The fire was then extinguished.

Clinging to the Last.

The virus of rheumatism often remains in the system through life, when it does not cut the thread of existence suddenly, as it is always liable to do by attacking the heart. Ere the grip of this tenacious disease tightens, it should be unloosed by that beneficent liberator from disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will free the sufferer at the outset from subsequent pain and danger. No purer or more agreeable blood purifier exists, as multitudes of the rheumatic and neuritic have ascertained by certified experience. It is through the medium of a regular action of the kidneys and bladder that an outlet is afforded for impurities which, being not only rheumatic, but gouty ailments, and dropsical effusions. To these organs the Bitters gives an impulse, never verging on the bounds of irritation, but sufficiently vigorous to cause them and the bowels to perform their functions with clock-like precision. Use it also for dyspepsia, biliousness, fever and ague and debility.
