NEWSPAPER SPIKE.

"Col." Lee, superintendent of the Chemawa Indian training school, has returned from Ellensburg, Curry county, where he raked up fifteen more or less Indian girls and boys, legitimate sons and daughters of various men in that county.

Supt. Lee's performance of duty is fully justified by the above carping criticism. A school is placed under his care with a capacity for over two hundred scholars, and by the rules of the Indian service he is allowed no appropriation unless the number of inmates is kept up to a certain minimum.

No "desperate straits" are related by the Statesman that harass Supt. Lee in keeping up his school. And even if they could be told of him they would be no way to his discredit.

unjust this is shown by the following incident. This writer visiting one of our city photograph galleries, made the natural inquiry, "How's trade?" The proprietor said he was busy taking pictures for the Chemawa pupils.

When the republicans of Oregon in state convention assembled, declared in favor "of reducing the annual surplus revenues of the government by admitting free of duty such articles of general use as cannot be largely produced or manufactured by our people."

Here is a direct issue between the republicanism of this state and that of the nation, as announced by the politicians who assumed to speak for it last June.

This divergence leads to the natural inquiry whether the vociferous crowd of delegates who thronged the convention hall in Chicago are to be regarded as authoritative; or whether the teachings of such statesmen as Garfield, Arthur, Allison, Henry Wilson, Folger, McCullough and a host of other such worthies still have prevalence.

THE American farmer may soon get more than his fill of protection. A petition has been presented to the British government asking that a duty be laid on importations of wheat from foreign countries, but wheat from British possessions to be admitted free.

A MAN in Douglas county has been adjudged insane, one of the proofs produced at the trial being that he wrote a letter to President Cleveland commending his administration.

Mr. F. Lockley Jr., the traveling agent of the JOURNAL, returned today with a large list of new subscribers and a "sack" of money.

Says an exchange: In England, 500 years ago, John Ball organized the Knights of Labor. The government hung John Ball, but the few feet of rope that hung him did not remove the wrongs against which he and his brother knights rebelled.

ARE AMERICANS DYSPEPTIC?

What a Prominent English Physician Says of Our Dwellers in Cities. A prominent English physician has recently proved, to his own satisfaction at least, that the dwellers in American cities are generally neurotic and dyspeptic.

But this is not all. The climate and the peculiar conditions of life that exist in this country have developed and intensified this original neurotic type, until it may now be fairly called the American type, and is indeed so recognized throughout Europe.

Doubtless the generalizations of this English physician are too sweeping. It is not true that only the men of a neurotic or nervous temperament come from the country into American cities. Indeed, it is quite the other way.

Next to Benares, Jagannath, which is unique in many ways among the holy places of the Hindus, attracts the largest number of pilgrims from all parts of India. The shrine of Jagannath, commonly called Juggernaut—literally the Lord of the Universe—stands on the coast of Orissa, amid level, burning sands.

The interior of this stupendous structure, which is in perpetual darkness, is lighted up by 100 lamps, burning day and night in front of the idol. The image is made of wood, thickly painted and renewed every three years, when the original bones of the deified hero, Krishna, are removed by a Brahmin from the inside of the old idol to that of the new one.

The women in towns and villages above the coalie class rarely show their faces and the better classes never. Some travelers speak of their peeping at one from their veils or from behind their latticed windows.

A well to do Hindu, with six brothers, all younger than himself, told me he had seldom ever seen the face of a single one of his sisters-in-law, and when he had done so it was under peculiar circumstances religiously permissible.

Dr. Galensowski, the great oculist of Paris, has treated over 130,000 patients. He averages 15,000 new ones each year. Paralyde is a new sleep producer. Its action is quicker than chloral. It is as safe as the bromides, and is not injurious except when used to excess.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it.

The Biting Tongue. Slender attacks us from behind. The bite is rarely felt unless it is malignant and persistent. Disease too, often steals upon us through a vital channel.

The ORIGINAL ABIETINE OINTMENT is only put up in large two-ounce tin boxes, and is an absolute cure for old sores, burns, wounds, chapped hands, and all skin eruptions.

Sipped in the Sud.

Is it not better to nip consumption, the greater scourge of humanity, in the bud, than to try to stay its progress on the brink of the grave. A few doses of California's most useful production, SANTI ABIE, the King of Consumption, will relieve, and a thorough treatment will cure.
