BEFORE IT IS BORN.

Some Startling Statements of Gen. Wendell Holmes.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, on being asked when the training of a child should begin, replied, "A hundred years before it is born."

Is this wonderful generation the natural result of the proper diet and medicines of a hundred years ago? It is conceded in other lands that most of the wonderful discoveries of the world in this century have come from this country.

Among them is what is known as Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla, and they frankly announce that they do not consider the sarsaparilla of so much value in itself as it is in the combination of the various ingredients which together work marvelously upon the system.

The Situation in Salem.

No more members of the Schwab family have taken the smallpox. All were vaccinated at the first outbreak and it is thought none will have more than the varicoid.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar, read what he says.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887. Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you.

George Deane. There are no more ways than one of going down hill, besides rolling over a precipice, rushing down a toboggan slide and other methods, you may, if you fall to really an erratic digestion, discipline a rebellious liver, and restore a regular habit to the bowels, rapidly descend an incline whose bottom is the grave.

A DESPERATE COMBAT. Two Men Fight With Knives in a Darkened Room.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 17.—Two funerals took place here yesterday which were largely attended and formed the climax of an extraordinary tragedy.

Robert Nabors was a prominent physician at Montealle, in this state, and W. W. Shortridge was a successful lawyer in the same village. Both were young men. Some time ago Nabors employed Shortridge to collect a few claims against delinquent patients. The returns were not satisfactory, and the men quarrelled.

Nabors called at Shortridge's office, and the old trouble broke out afresh. They finally agreed to fight with bowie-knives in a darkened room just off the office. Removing their coats and shoes, the men fought blindly but desperately for nearly ten minutes.

The duel was one of the most vicious ever reported in Alabama. The men plunged their knives into each other until both looked as though they had been slaughtered bees. Everything in the room was bespattered with blood.

Some persons living in the lower story heard the noise of the duels and when the door was broken open Nabors staggered into the office with the blood streaming from a dozen gashes in his face and breast. Without saying a word he rushed down the stairs, still grasping a gory knife in his hand and expired on the street.

Lying upon the floor of the room was Shortridge. His head had been slashed in a most dreadful manner. The arteries of his neck had been severed, one eye had been gouged out and his hands were cut so terribly that the fingers hung only by the tendons. The man was dead.

RET HIS DAUGHTER. Two Young People Made Happy by the Result of the Election.

BROADLOOK, Conn., November 18.—George W. Brown is a blacksmith, and a staunch republican. For a long time he has paid court to a young woman, the daughter of a democratic farmer. The latter did not look with favor on the young man. George received no encouragement whatever from the young girl's father, and the old man tried to invent some scheme which would wrest from Brown his blacksmith shop and compel him, through poverty, to depart from the vicinity.

"Young man," he said, "I'll tell you what I'll do. You want to marry my daughter. I'll make you a wager. If Harrison is elected, she is yours; if not, you can give me a bill of sale of this shop and the tools and forever quit the town."

George accepted the proposition. The bill of sale was drawn up and signed, and the farmer went home chuckling about how easily he obtained the little blacksmith shop and rid himself of the man he disliked.

Since the returns have all come in the old man has tearfully consented and the young couple propose having the knot tied at once.

More Oregon Railroads. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—A resident of Redding, Cal., tells of the presence recently of railroad engineers northeast of that town, up the canyon of the Pit river. They were understood to be in the Union Pacific's employ. It is presumed they were at work on the proposed California outlet for the Union Pacific from Huntington, on the Oregon Short Line, down through the Malheur country and Fall river district into the Sacramento valley.

A Late Fall. A half dozen emigrant wagons, all the way from Missouri, passed through the city yesterday morning bound for the Willamette valley. They will be in luck if they reach their destination this fall as the road over the Cascades must be well nigh impassable for wagons.—Baker City Democrat.

Statistics show that seventy per cent of the people of the United States are suffering from the disease of the kidney and urinary organs. A simple pain in the back, if neglected, often runs into that terrible scourge, Bright's disease which carries off so many of our prominent men. If you are afflicted with any urinary or kidney trouble, no matter how slight, do not put it off until too late, but procure a package of Oregon Kidney Tea and take according to directions. It will cure you.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Chairman Barnum continues to improve. The improvement noticeable in the condition of Mrs. Jay Gould is still apparent but she is by no means out of danger.

Representative Perry Belmont of the First New York district, has been tendered and accepted the appointment as minister to Spain.

Flora Schmidt, the young woman taken to a New York hospital with symptoms resembling yellow fever, died. An autopsy showed that the woman died of acute gastritis, not yellow fever.

A Philadelphia court issued an attachment against Keely for contempt of court in refusing to produce the model of his motor as ordered. Keely was subsequently committed to the county prison till he should purge himself of contempt by compliance with the order of the court.

Points From Corvallis. CORVALLIS, Or., Nov. 18.—Two 350-pound black bears were killed on the John Smith farm, near Soap Creek, yesterday, by four hunters from Corvallis. They had been killing stock in that neighborhood.

A gas machine was received from Newark, N. J., for the chemical laboratory of the agricultural college, Tuesday, to be used for heating purposes in experiments. Uniforms for the students were ordered Wednesday.

A Burning Steamer. From a gentleman who just arrived in the city from Newport, it is learned that there was a conflagration on the waters last night. From the light house at Yaquina it was plainly visible, and the whole heavens and sea were lighted up. With the glasses it was seen to be a vessel of some kind being consumed, but the tide was going out and there was no way of gaining further particulars, and he left before the tide came in this morning. The scene is pictured by our informant as one of grandeur.

Newport and Yaquina he reports as booming quite nicely. Travel is heavy, and this morning's train was comfortably filled.

Worth Knowing. Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Kings New Discovery for consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at Dr. H. W. Cox's drug store.

Street Car Contractors. To-morrow evening the directors of the Salem Street Railway Co. will have a meeting for the consideration of bids for construction of the line. It is learned that there will be at least four bids for the line complete, and perhaps several for partial contracts.

Searle & Deane and O'Connor & Barr, contractors of the O. P., will be here with bids, as also will several Portland parties. John E. Woods, a prominent East Portland contractor, is now in the city looking up the matter, and several others are expected on this evening's train.
