BILL NYE ON STOVES.

Finds The "Superior" Article at Last and is Enthusiastic in its Praise.

Hearing that Bill Nye was engaged in the stove polishing business, J. C. Brown & Co., the enterprising hardware men, secured the services of an alert reporter for the purpose of having Bill corraled and his real true, unbiased opinion obtained.

Bill was hardly approachable last night, as he complained bitterly of the heavy load of badly cooked food which courtesy forbade him refusing at a gathering down street, but this morning, while waiting for the train Bill's good nature, which seemed to have returned to him, allowed himself to be stirred up with a "poker" and brought back to the "burning issue."

"Well, Bill," says the reporter, "you sometimes eat food cooked by the aid of a stove?"

"Oh, yes," says Bill, "provided I can get a 'Superior' stove with which to do the cooking, because with that kind there is no burning, no loss of flavor, no breezes blowing through the whiskers of my beef roast; no peppering the gravy with wood-ashes and cinders, and there is no street fuke attached to the 'Superior' business at all."

"Then you do like to see the genuine article go on its merits occasionally, do you, Bill?"

"Oh, yes; I have a sort of monopoly on the fake business at my own exhibitions, and when I was going by J. C. BROWN & CO'S hardware store last evening, I could not help admiring those beautiful, self-sustaining 'SUPERIOR' stoves, so meritorious in every particular as to need no trumpeting—just a fair trial being sufficient."

"If they had known your opinions of the 'Superior' were of such a high order, Bill, Brown & Co. would have waited on you with a hawk for a free ride."

"Never mind; never mind; it is seldom I take such an opportunity as this of giving an honest opinion, and the feeling it brings is sufficient reward. Bye, bye."

And Bill was gone, but the stoves he spoke of can be had from J. C. Brown & Co.

NO CHANGE MADE.—Mr. Skipworth, the new clerk of the supreme court, went home last night to Eugene, where he will continue to keep his family, believing it not necessary to move here at present at least. After the present term of supreme court there will be nothing except routine work in the office until September and this can be attended to without his continued presence. Miss Gusta Palmer, typewriter during Mr. Holmes' time, will continue in the position and Ballist Perrine will be always on hand to assist in giving necessary information. Mr. Skipworth believes in a liberal policy and will make no changes in or around the office.

THAT MILITARY COMPANY.—If some man with practical knowledge of military matters can be found to take the position of captain and give his attention to the proper drill and details, the organization of another military company here would be a matter of mere formality, there being plenty of good recruits ready to join forthwith. Col. Smith would like to see the necessary steps taken so that the company would be ready for complete organization at the time of the election of a lieutenant colonel of the regiment, which occurs the 15th of next month.

LOOKING OVER THE WRECK.—T. D. Warwick, representing the Groton Bridge company of New York, with head quarters at Portland, came up last evening and to-day went down the river in company with J. E. McCoy to look over and ascertain the value of the recovered portions of the old bridge. His company will bid only on a steel bridge, but he wants to find out what the old material would be worth.

CONVENTION TO-MORROW.—The members of the Union party of Marion county are expected to meet to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Grange hall, this city, in mass convention for the purposes enunciated in the call published in this paper, which see.

KNEE HURT.—While working on the pile driver at the new bridge on State street on the eastern limit of the city, J. D. Bowman received a fall yesterday through which his knee was injured and he will be lame for a time.

CROOK COUNTY.—Uncle John Millon died at Junction City, Mar. 12.—Rep. Co. Con. April 9.—Mr. McLeod of Salem was at Prineville buying mutton sheep for the valley market.—Rev. Jesse Spaulding immersed five converts in Ochoco.—Horses in the Grey Butte country look well.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

FROM KANSAS.—Sheriff J. F. Cross, of Morris county, Kansas, arrived last night for the purpose of taking back Anson Elliott, accused of forgery. He has been enjoying the beauties of Salem and surrounding country to-day under the direction of Jacob Ogle, who rode with him a good deal of the way.

HOP GROWERS IN COUNCIL.—The Willamette Valley Hop Growers' association met in this city this afternoon with but a small attendance, the fact being that most of them are just now engaged setting out their poles. The principal business done was to instruct Secretary Herren to ascertain the price of cloth, brimstone and other material for this years crop and to report the same at the time to which this meeting adjourned—Friday, May 9th.

FILINGS.—Articles of incorporation were to-day filed in the secretary of state's office by the Union Banking company, with R. P. Earhart, W. V. Spencer and N. P. Hall, incorporators; capital stock, $100,000; principal office, Portland.

A GOOD THING.—Street Commissioner Graham is having cleaned out and drained the offensive looking "fish pond" on Commercial street north of Court. A good deal of mud scraping will be necessary to make the streets presentable any way soon.

ARBOR DAY.—The students of Willamette university have been observing to-day as arbor or tree-planting day. Full particulars of its observance will be found in the university notes to-morrow.

SIMMONS TAKEN HOME.—Constable Burkhardt arrived from Albany this morning and took back with him Caleb Simmons, whose arrest was chronicled in yesterday's JOURNAL.

STILL THEY COME.—Another large shipment of extra fine fresh oranges received at J. G. Wright's. He also has fresh celery and cabbage in abundance.

Fannie Harrison, of Portland, and C. R. Sorensen, of Astoria, were appointed notaries public to-day.

SPECIAL INVITATION.—The ladies are now all invited to call and see our spring stock of fashionable millinery.

Bell and the Bridge is the ticket to vote next Monday.

Starr & Osborn are now prepared to do all kinds of job and repair work at their cabinet shop on Court street in the old JOURNAL office.

Just receiving a new invoice of shoes for ladies, misses and children at the Capitol Adventure Co's mammoth store—opera house block.

J. E. McCoy of Salem, was awarded the contract for the Corvallis street railway.

BALED HAY.—Good baled hay delivered to any part of the city at $16 per ton. MORGAN & MEAD.

The Alka-Hesperian will have an unusually interesting debate on the government postal telegraph system to-morrow night. Come and hear it.

The weekly issues of the EVENING CAPITAL JOURNAL reach five thousand copies, and reach every house in Salem and its suburbs. Advertisers make note of it.

Vote for Bell and the Bridge Monday.

Painless dental operations at Dr. T. C. Smith's, 99 State street.

To Home Seekers.

The Capital City railway company is prepared to tell home-seekers something to their advantage. Mr. David Simpson has taken charge of their real estate department at 115 State street. Call and see him.

The ticket to vote is Bell and the Bridge.

Eugene F. Campbell, aged 34 years, was to-day brought to the asylum for insane by Deputy Sheriff Herington, of Heppner, Morrow county. Campbell is unbalanced in mind because his financial affairs are in the same fix.

NOTHING LIKE OREGON.—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ogle returned last evening from their Eastern visit, coming back better satisfied than ever with their Willamette valley home. Mr. Ogle says he was thunderstruck at the revolutions in manufacturing and in fact every form of industry in Ohio and Pennsylvania by the discovery of natural gas. Its workings are simply wonderful. He says there is no part of the East that compares in soil with the Willamette valley except the richest portions of Illinois, while there our glorious climate is lacking, thus leaving this country far ahead of the best regions visited.

SPRING IS OPENED.—There is scarcely a doubt of the complete opening of spring—the boys are found in the avenue playing baseball to-day and Pap Waite is out with his bicycle. Sure signs.

TO STREET OFFICERS.—Please do not let up on the good work until the streets of the city are cleared of the mud and pond holes that now disgrace them and make them unhealthy.

The Spring Medicine. The popularity which Hood's Sarsaparilla has gained as a spring medicine is wonderful. It possesses just those elements of health-giving, blood-purifying and appetite-creating which every body seems to need at this season. Do not continue in a dull, dazed, nervous condition when you may be so much benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood and makes the weak strong.

MARRIED. SONNEMANN-AMSLER.—Thursday evening, March 27th, 1890, at the Evangelical parsonage, Miss Emma Amsler and Mr. Henry G. Sonnemann, Rev. E. S. Bollinger officiating.

Mr. Sonnemann's recent tussle with typhoid fever taught him it was not good to be alone, and, though he had one of the best nurses in the world, yet he is going to have one of his own hereafter. He is most fortunate in his selection, the bride being one of South Salem's handsome and accomplished young ladies, highly gifted and worthily esteemed.

Mr. S. is salesman in the grocery store of I. S. Steiner, in the growing and prosperous business of which he has been an important factor, his obliging and courteous manner making him hosts of warm friends. He has had a nice new residence built and furnished in Boise's addition, all ready for the event, and in this the happy and practical young couple took up their abode last night, fully prepared to enjoy the bliss of married life, which the JOURNAL hopes will be lasting and uninterrupted.
