WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—Acting Secretary Batchelor has issued the following instructions in regard to re-entry into the United States of Chinese after a visit to China: 1st.—Chinamen who are laborers are under the exclusion act of October 1, 1888, are absolutely debarred from landing unless it be for transit across U. S. territory. 2d.—Chinamen, not laborers, and who may have heretofore resided in the U. S. are not prevented by existing law or treaty from returning to U. S. after visiting China or elsewhere. Certificates or other papers however are issued to show that they are entitled to land in the U. S., but it is suggested that such persons should before leaving the U. S. provide themselves with such proof of identity as may be deemed proper, showing that they have been residents. 3d.—Chinese persons, not laborers, who may come to the U. S. for the first time are only entitled to land upon compliance with section 3 of act of July 5, 1888.

At Emporia, Kansas, the united farmer's alliances and other kindred organizations held one of the grandest demonstrations to-day ever held in the city. There was a procession five miles long, and 20,000 people were in attendance.

The following is the weekly report of the Oregon weather bureau, relative to crops: Spring wheat, promising; fall wheat, better prospects than for several years. All kinds of fruit except peaches, and hops promise a large yield.

The fourth destructive storm of the week passed over Parkersburg, W. Va., and localities yesterday flooding cellars, damaging streets, sweeping away crops. A sudden heavy rain fall deluged the Kanawha and Muskingum river valleys. Unofficial estimates place the damage in Muskingum valley at half a million dollars, much of this is to the government works for improvement and navigation.

NEXT WEEK.—James A. Devlin, Salem's favorite comedian, is one of the managers of the Chicago Comedy company, that opens a week's engagement at Reed's opera house next Monday evening, and will take the principal parts in each play presented. He is now backed by a strong company and there will probably be the best week's entertainment ever given here at popular prices.

Never mind the thermometer.—But come to J. G. Wright's for nice fresh tomatoes, cucumbers, peaches, apricots, oranges, lemons, bananas, black and red raspberries, and all other fruits and vegetables in the market.

A Cure for Sick Headache.
This distressing complaint is due to an inactive or sluggish liver or constipated bowels, which causes the stomach and disturbs the nervous system causing dizziness and an oppressive dull pain in the head, often so severe as to prevent any rest or sleep. Use of Dr. Cass's Improved Liver Pills will relieve you of all the pain and misery and a few more doses will correct the liver and stomach and regulate the bowels. While these pills are small, easily taken, and mild and gentle in their action there is no medicine made that will so effectively cure sick headache. 25 cents a box. Sold by Smith & Steiner.

A Sure Cure for Piles.
Itching Piles are known by moisture like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This is due to the fact that the blood is impure and the system is diseased. Dr. Ross's Pile Remedy, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs the matter, always itching and effects a permanent cure. 50 cents. Druggist or Mail Order. Dr. Ross's, Paines, O. Sold by Smith & Steiner.

Social and Personal.

Several items of social news are unavoidably crowded out by the extended account of the celebration.

Miss Gusta Palmer went to Portland to-day for a visit among friends.

Mrs. Geo. G. Bingham left to-day for McMinnville for a week's visit at her old home and with friends in that burg.

E. W. Bradstreet, of San Francisco, a professional athlete, is in the city endeavoring to start an athletic club in Salem.

D. A. Hendricks, editor of the Athens Republican, spent the Fourth among Salem friends, returning to-day.

Mrs. Dr. Allen, nee Miss Lena Erwin, of Waitburg Wash., formerly of Salem, is visiting with Miss Mamie Parvin on Piety hill.

D. C. Sherman, post commander of Sedgewick No. 10, went to Woodburn this afternoon to muster a post of the G. A. R. He was accompanied by W. A. H. Folger, officer of the day.

Capt. L. S. Scott goes to attend Grand Lodge of United Workmen. S. E. Howard has secured the appointment as a substitute city mail carrier, and will take his place during his absence.

THE BLACK FLAG.
Do not forget that this grand melodrama will open the week's engagement of the Chicago Comedy Co. at Reed's opera house next Monday night, and you should not miss seeing it.

SOCIAL DANCE.
The social dance at the Armory hall last evening was a success in every respect. A large crowd was in attendance and the finest enjoyment prevailed, under the splendid management of A. J. Basey, Wm. Rennie and J. C. Moyle. They all ways make a success.

THE PLANTER'S WIFE.
Despite the fact that a grand band contest was in progress in the avenue where the best of music was discoursed; and the fact that a splendid ball was in progress at the armory; and that fireworks were filling the air with rockets, Roman candles and every form of illumination; that a hundred other untoward circumstances existed, still the opera house last evening was well filled by a very intelligent audience to witness the rendition of "The Planter's Wife" by Salem talent. Such a large attendance under all the circumstances was a grand tribute to the players and those who attended feel well repaid. The company was in excellent condition and each one brought out the part assigned in its full conception. Miss Jennie M. Long, as the victim of a designing villain; as the persecuted wife who thinks she is relieved by death from his presence and tortures, and is about to live happily with a newly married and much beloved husband, only to be confronted by the villain again and driven to further compromises, has fine opportunities to display her grand powers of elocution and passion playing, and does it to perfection. One of the grandest stage scenes of any drama by any actress is presented by her when she drops on her knee before her enraged and suspecting husband, who holds an upraised knife, and bids him take her life-blood. She strikes the chords of sympathy and admiration in many places, but the one named is a grand climax. Miss Willis was more charming than ever in the role of Angie Gordon, the little flirt, and kept the house in roars of joyous laughter all the time. She is a born actress and her singing is always delightful. Mrs. Hazen, as Dora Graham and as Mrs. Gordon, showed much ease, grace and adaptability, rendering her parts with pleasing effect. Geo. Morris, as the injured husband, Henry Meyers as the lawyer in disguise of a minister, and Dr. Keene as the villain of the play, all filled their parts with great credit, while Simeon Simcoe, who in his search for historical facts, discovered the things which made all things right, was the source of much merriment. Dugan worked the census taking business in grand style and made several capital hits. Nothing could be a more complete success than the whole performance. The splendid orchestra which assisted at Marion square in the forenoon, filled up the preludes and interludes with most delightful music which brought great applause. The orchestra is composed as follows: Piano, Miss Pearl Scott; leader, violin, Prof. Wolf; 1st violin, Chas. Reed; 2nd violin, Carl Denton; 3rd violin, Freddie Levy; bass, Altono Wain; clarinet, Chas. Pappo; flute, Claire Baker; 1st cornet, W. Hazen; 2nd cornet, Willis McElroy; trombone, Ed Crawford; drums, Chas. Chase.

A ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN.
He Teeds a California Production.—His Report.

A St. Louis gentleman whose affliction was sick headache was so surprised at his cure by Dr. J. W. Veitch's preparation, that he called it to the attention of a relative, who happened to be Dr. F. A. Barrett, the well-known St. Louis physician of 2022 Broadway Street. The doctor saw at once that it was purely vegetable, and becoming interested, began a series of investigations, and in an subsequent letter recently admitted its curative properties, and says:—

"Wishing to test its virtues further, I used it in my own family, and prescribed it for patients who required a general system regulator. As a result, I can say it is an almost absolute cure for constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, indigestion, and sick headache. These troubles usually come from a disturbed condition of the stomach and bowels, and Dr. J. W. Veitch's preparation is the best. I have used it for several years, and have ever seen, and as a sure system regulator it is almost perfect."
—Dr. F. A. BARRETT, M. D., St. Louis.

Capital Business College.

The Capital Business College of this city closed its doors for the summer vacation on Friday of last week. The college has just passed through its first year with better success than was even anticipated, and the future outlook is encouraging to a high degree. Both students and teachers speak well of the results of the year's work. The growing demands of the school require that during the summer months another room will be added to the already commodious quarters, to be used exclusively as a type-writing department. School will open again in September, when a large attendance is expected. This institution adds an important factor to Salem's fine educational facilities, by furnishing a thorough and practical business education in the most approved systems, and in the shortest time possible for such an education to be acquired. The school is supplied with all the latest apparatus and fixtures for the comfort and aid to the students. The following are the names of those who have graduated from the school during its first year: A. U. Krebs, F. Gibson, Orange Glover, J. C. Reid, Miss Maud Jackson, Miss Gabarella Clark, Albert N. Humphrey, Salem; Clyde Brandenburg, Bly, Oregon; W. E. Beardsley, Baker City, Oreg.; E. T. Hay, Wilbur, Wash.; D. R. Meyers, Whatcom, Wash.
