THE CAPITAL JOURNAL.

HOFER BROTHERS, - - - Editors.

PUBLISHED DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY, BY THE Capital Journal Publishing Company. (Incorporated.) Office, Commercial Street, in P. O. Building Entered at the postoffice at Salem, Or., as second-class matter.

SALEM needs a more stringent enforcement of sanitary regulations.

THE JOURNAL has not and will not knowingly print a lottery advertisement.

THE only ride some of us will get thro' the skies will be on the coming air-ship.

THERE is but one Pacific coast and the tendency of the whole world is toward it.

SEALS are caught successfully on the main streets of some of the additions to Astoria when the tide is in.

A CUP of boiling water, and parental ignorance, or carelessness destroyed a child's life at Astoria.

JUDGE represents Quay as the monkey sitting upon the republican elephant's head. It is time for him to come off.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE, of Kentucky, solves the problem of the recent election in the Dec. N. A. Review. It is as interesting as the dictum of a partisan can be.

It would interfere with the business of the Portland railroad manipulators somewhat in making rates but the Willamette river should be kept open for navigation the year around.

ACCORDING to Edward Atkinson "there are two things needed in these days: First, for rich men to find out how poor men live, and second for poor men to know how rich men work."—EX.

THERE is certainly nothing modest in Supt. Porter's eulogy of his own census-taking. In concluding his article in the North American he says: "The eleventh census will stand unequalled by any similar publication of any government in the world."

SALEM must have a narrow-minded postmaster, one who doesn't keep posted, if he consider a mere gift enterprise by merchants as lotteries, for it was only recently decided that they did not come under the head.—Albany Democrat. Does the Democrat consider compliance with the laws "narrow-minded" on the part of a public official?

THE Athene Press has changed to a semi-weekly and offers to still further enlarge if the city will build water-works. With true newspaper grit it offers to lead the community in growth. We are pleased to note its enterprise in discarding the patent inside advertising thus controlling its own columns and not aiding a monopoly that is a detriment to patent papers and a curse to all-at-home printed ones.

THE city is at all times overrun with "fake" advertisers—men who have souvenirs, charts and all sorts of devices for getting money out of the unwary. Business men who advertise intelligently never throw away any dollars on these schemes. The public who want to consult advertisements look at their favorite newspapers. The columns of these journals afford the only valuable medium for business notices.—Seattle Telegraph.

HERE is a life so full of earnestness and purpose as to even employ the fashions to benefit mankind: The German empress wears jackets and dresses with a liberal display of braid, not only because of their beauty, but she hopes, by popularizing the fashion, to compel manufacturers to give employment to large numbers of expert needlewomen who are now unemployed, or working for low wages at less intricate work.

HELP THE PRISONER'S LIBRARY.

Every states prison in America has a library except Oregon. The JOURNAL moves to get the prisoners some wholesome reading matter is meeting with some success. Already several hundred volumes are secured. Others may not have seen our notices of the matter, so we take the liberty to urge this again editorially. By a little general effort the library can be easily increased to 500 or a thousand volumes. One of our book-sellers has generously offered a liberal addition. A Portland book firm also offers to contribute to this Christmas present for the prisoners. We appeal to all who have old books or magazines no longer of immediate use or value to their family to aid this work with a contribution of such volumes as they see fit. Some money could be well employed and is welcome.

THE JOURNAL AND THE WRECK VICTIMS.

The course of the JOURNAL has been one that was dictated by common justice towards the victims of a misfortune brought upon them by no carelessness of their own. Our sympathies have been entirely with them and we have no apologies to make for our course. A powerful corporation like the Southern Pacific deserves little sympathy in a case where all the facts are against the management, as they certainly were in this case. We blame no one in the employ of the company doing all in their power to secure easy settlements with the injured, by all fair and honorable means. That is their duty. We believe also that the company has done nearly everything in its power to alleviate suffering and secure proper care for the sick. Of course, a public corporation that is forced to rely on so many individuals to act for it in such times of emergency cannot always be consistently and conscientiously well served. There will be those who act dishonestly and oppress in the interests of the company. Therefore the people are entitled to a newspaper's first protection.

"POOR TOM" AND OTHERS.

"Poor Tom McNary is a wreck and the whisky habit is responsible, etc." So say all the Salem local columns. But why advertise "Poor Tom"? Others deserve to be advertised fully as much as he. The man who makes him drunk and the well-to-do, or a citizen who stands a little higher, socially, than "Poor Tom" does, will not be mentioned in the papers. But a poor working man, who has no influence and no friends, catches it all around whenever he lapses or really commits no graver offence than those other offenders who go unscathed.

ABOUT CITY FINANCES.

People generally interest themselves in city finances when it is too late to mend matters complained of. The communication of creditor No. 2 is printed to-day. There is demand for an improved order of things and we believe it will be secured. In the mean time let the public have all the light possible. The people want the facts. The city election is over, but let there be a full statement and discussion of the situation that the incoming administration may act advisedly.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD.

A new-paper must do its duty without hope of reward or appreciation. So far not one of the victims of the Labish wreck has even thanked the only newspaper in Oregon that has taken the side of the people in this case, tho' we have no doubt some of them have felt grateful at times. So goes the world and it is the way of humanity. They are thankful to get off with their lives and stand not upon any order or ceremony in taking their departure.

The Management of Children.

Harper's Bazar: If you would see a woman or child graceful, beautiful, and charming, you must find one that is loved. The child that dreads to be corrected or criticised for every word or movement never has a manner of elegance or an expression of charm. Fill your child's soul with an ideal of good manners, of benevolence and beauty; teach it abstractly to dislike vulgarity, selfishness, rudeness, and to feel that you love and admire it, and expect of it charming manners, and the work is accomplished.

It is impossible for a slave to have any style. If you would have your child dignified, you must treat it with dignity.

It is wrong to correct a child in public. Any proud child feels degraded by it. It should be a case of dire necessity when you find fault with a child before strangers, and to destroy a child's pride is to do him an irreparable injury. Take advantage of some intimate hour when parent and child are alone together, and then let the parent tenderly explain how the child has behaved ill the day before or that morning, and why the child's conduct was wrong, and how it should have behaved, and show the child that the parent respects it and loves it, and believes in its capacity to do all good things. This will have ten times the effect of punishment, when the child is in a state of excitement and the parent usually angry.

Get in the habit of explaining the reason of things to your child. Let there be as little confusion in its mind as possible. Above all, keep the fact of your love uppermost in the child's mind, and let it understand that you have no wish to domineer over it, only that being older and wiser, and loving the child so much, you would save it from its inexperience, that this is your duty, that you are teaching it to be its own master.

If your child is cross, do not punish him, but distract his mind from the subject that annoys him. If he continues to be cross, suspect his stomach, and assure yourself that this is in perfect order; a troubled digestion is the root of bad temper.

THIS GENTLEMAN

Will be in great demand for a few days now. Every Father will buttonhole him and speak a few words of kind advice bearing on his dear children.

Every Mother will consult him during office hours with heart running over with love.

Every Sweetheart, with eyes downcast, will ask him what will be suitable for her "Johnnie," and Every Child will endeavor to make friends of this bringer of joy and happiness.

HE IS A BIG MAN.

Just now he is a bigger man than Czar Reed or Major McKinley Bill, and recognizing the unusual demand there will be for his services we have retained him and he will be found constantly from now until Dec. 24, at midnight. He has our holiday stock directly in charge and will be glad to serve you all.
