

THE SAN FRANCISCO BOARD OF HEALTH.

We, the members of the Board of Health of the City and County of San Francisco,

Cordially approve and recommend the Royal Baking Powder. It is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients, of the highest strength and character.

In our judgment it is impossible make a purer or stronger Baking Powder than the Royal.

STORY TELLING.

Story telling (not in the sense of fiction) is one of the most difficult of all the arts and at the same time is beginning to be one of the reinstated "old-time" occupations. The story hour in the home has been filled up with baser amusements most of the time, because of the difficulty of keeping up the supply of ever new good and instructive things to tell about. What home does not have its clamoring little ones whose minds are as hungry as their stomachs, and who demand a between-meal of stories every day, and if they must, are content with the old things over and over again. The mother ought not to forget that one of the strongest holds she has upon her children is through the stories she tells them; the principles she teaches in the interest of a charming story are the principles which are apt to make themselves felt in the little lives she is influencing. Keep on hand a good stock of good stories, culled from many sources with a discernment that is guided by the right thought.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

A. W. Bagly is clerking at the legislature in connection with his school work.

Misses Hina and Ida Harris and Jennie Norwood visited the school Wednesday, and took a look through the museum.

Dr. Stratton's sermon on High Education at the M. E. church Sunday evening was attended and appreciated by a large number of the students.

A number of the young men have been absent from school work this week and last, on account of sickness, among them are Messrs. Fred Brown and John Foley.

Mr. Pence and Miss Royal constitute the committee of invitation to the exercises at the joint session of the two societies that is to be held in the chapel.

The third term, or last half of the school year begins the 25th, and the program for order of recitations already appears on the bulletin board. Several of the teachers have announced the lessons and the order of work will soon be resumed after registering takes place Monday.

The rhetorical exercises of the college and third year students of the literary and musical department that are held in the chapel on Wednesday of each week at eleven o'clock, are becoming quite an interesting feature of that kind of work. Visitors are always welcomed.

The song tournament to be given by the music pupils and teachers of the conservatory on the evening of the 28th will no doubt be one of the best entertainments of the season. Tickets can be obtained from members of the band and teachers in charge of the concert.

An Eviction in New York.

A New York letter of recent date says: The prize man has been located at last. He lives in Hoboken, his name is Charles Witt' and he is a wealthy retired grocer.

Among other worldly effects, he owns an old tumble-down tenement known as the "barnacks," in which 32 poor families drag out a miserable existence. Last night Mrs. Lena Olsen, a wretched deserted wife, who had robbed herself almost to nudity that she might wrap her eight-year old boy in garments enough to protect him from the cold, was found in an unfurnished, abandoned room, huddled up in a corner shivering with the cold. Her child chattered with cold as she told her story. She had been a tenant of Witt's and owed him eight dollars, which represented the sum due for occupying a single squalid room of the "barnacks" two months.

Yesterday while the wind was whistling across the North river and every blast that blew up from the bay was a cruel persecutor of the multitude that inhabited Witt's miserable barn, that worthy himself appeared at the threshold of Mrs. Olsen's room and demanded the rent. She had but four dollars and this she tendered him. It represented everything to the poor woman. She had worked like a slave for it and fasted, that it might be saved intact for the landlord. But it did not satiate him and he gave her notice to quit. She, desperate, refused to go. Then the wretch removed her door from its hinges and the windows were taken out. The woman then deserted the hotel and was picked up by the police. It is doubtful if such a cruel eviction would be possible in Ireland.
