A FRIGHTFUL CALAMITY.

An Explosion Felt for Fifty Miles.

MILLION DOLLAR PROPERTY LOSS.

Caused by Milling Dust Catching Fire.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., March 21.—The most frightful calamity in the history of this city occurred at an early hour this morning. It resulted in the loss of a million dollars' worth of property and a number of lives, besides practically wrecking half of the town and damaging property for miles around.

Shortly after 3 o'clock fire was discovered in Kohler's "Planet" steam flouring mill, the largest of the kind in the world. The fire department had scarcely arrived on the scene when an explosion of terrible violence shook the earth for miles around, the shock being felt even as far as Decatur, 50 miles distant.

It broke the plate glass windows in a majority of the stores in the city, prostrated almost every one on the streets, shook houses loose from their foundations, jarred the machinery in the Litchfield car and machine shops to such an extent that work had to be suspended till the necessary repairs can be made.

It is supposed the fire originated from a passing locomotive, and that the subsequent explosion was caused by the flames coming in contact with an accumulation of mill dust.

Head Mill Wright John Carve was stunned by the explosion. He was thrown against the smoke stack, plumed there, and burned to death. His limbs being burned off.

It is not yet known whether there are any other fatalities, though a number who were seriously injured are reported.

The grain elevator adjoining the mill, containing a quarter of a million bushels of wheat, was burned to the ground with its contents, together with a dozen Wabash freight cars standing along side the track.

The track is blockaded and the telegraph wires are disabled. The city is in a state of chaos, and the people are paralyzed with terror and fright.

Kohler Bros. estimate the loss at half a million. The insurance on the mill and elevator is $350,000.

PORTLAND, March 21.—Every now and then some report reaches here relative to the Rev. J. C. THE PLUCKY REPUBLICANS.

They Defy the Democrats to Organize the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Republicans of the senate met in caucus to consider the threatened attempt of the Democrats to reorganize the elective officers of the senate. There was a full attendance, Sherman presiding. It was declared this was contrary to all precedent at a special session, and would seriously interfere with public business. It was unanimously agreed the chairman should wait on Gorman, chairman of the Democratic caucus, and notify him that any attempt at reorganization would be very distasteful to the Republicans. There would be no objection to the election of Harris as president pro tempore. The committees and clerks have been changed, and the Republicans say reorganization is complete for this session. If the Democrats try to go further, the Republicans will quote from the records of 1881 when the Democrats opposed any effort on the part of the Republicans, who finally abandoned their efforts in this direction. If this is not sufficient, another caucus will be held, with the probability of a decision to filibuster as the Democrats did in 1881. The Republicans say they have the power to prevent a new organization if it comes to a pinch.

NEW SENATORS.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The senate committee on privileges and elections held a meeting yesterday afternoon in regard to the credentials of the appointed senators from the new states. Senator Allen appointed by the governor of Washington, appeared before the committee and recited the facts connected with his appointment and gave the committee the benefit of his opinion as to the legal questions involved. Mantle, of Montana, and Beckwith, of Wyoming, also appeared and told the history of the contests that resulted in their appointment. After looking up precedents, the committee took a vote which resulted as follows: for giving senators seats—Turpie and Pugh, Democrats, and Chandler, Hoar and Higgins, Republicans; against seating—Vance, Palmer and Gray, Democrats, and Mitchell Republican. Chandler, in order to prevent a tie and secure a report to the senate, voted in favor of seating the senators, but reserved the right to take such action as he thought best on the floor of the senate.

The judge read a decision on the case of the representative, admitting the power of the legislature, and the legislative committee to retain possession of the letter book. When the whole matter was thrown out of Judge Egan's court, a new proceeding was instituted by Attorney O'Brien for Mr. Rhodes, of the coal combine, in the shape of damages against the investigating committee and its officials for the seizure of its books and papers, in which the damages are laid at $50,000.

TO LIBERATE CUBA.

KEY WEST, Fla., March 21.—The expedition to liberate Cuba, judging from present movements, is not to end in mere talk. It is said that 12,000 has just been carried away from here for the purpose of purchasing munitions of war. Cans of dynamite have been found at the revolutionists' headquarters. The annexation of Hawaii and the revolutions pending in Honduras and Peru have added so much fire to the embers of rebellion among the Cubans that the departure of the filibustering expedition is daily expected. A revenue cutter has been ordered to remain at Key West for an indefinite period and will be ready to sail at a moment's warning.

SAN DOMINGO.

MADRID, March 21.—The cabinet met in extraordinary session in consequence of the report that the French troops had landed at San Domingo. The question of American and French interference in San Domingo continues to cause much excitement in Spanish political circles. The ministry are, it is understood, determined to resist any aggression either on the part of the United States or France in San Domingo, but the report that the French had landed troops there does not appear to have been confirmed. There are, however, important differences in the ministry upon various questions of finances, the colonies and the navy.

STEAMER NARONIC.

BREMEN, March 21.—The British steamer Coventry arrived here from Fernandina, bringing news making certain the loss of the White Star steamer Naronic, which sailed from Liverpool for New York February 11th and was not heard from thereafter until now. The Coventry reports that on March 4th, southwest of Sabie island, off the coast of Newfoundland, she sighted two life-boats bearing the name of the Naronic, keel upward, giving evidences of having passed through a very severe storm. Appearances indicated that neither boat had been long adrift. There is a chance the occupants were picked up by a passing vessel. One of the boats was passed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. That the Naronic is at the bottom of the sea is not doubted but the cause of the disaster, of course is still a matter of conjecture. It is thought possible, judging from the route of the Naronic, she may have struck an iceberg, though it is rather early in the season for them to be floating in that latitude.

THE POPE LEO'S VOICE

Will Be Heard at the World's Fair

Through a Phonograph.

ROME, March 21.—Stephen Moriarly had a private audience with the pope Monday, at which he was introduced to Monsignore Merry Delaval. Moriarly had a phonograph with him, by means of which he delivered an address in Italian congratulating his holiness on his episcopal jubilee, and saying that he felt deeply honored at being the bearer of two messages, one from the late Cardinal Manning and another from Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, both expressing devotion to the person and sacred office of the successor to St. Peter. Moriarly entreated his holiness to speak into the phonograph an expression of love and blessing which might be delivered to the Catholics of America, on the occasion of opening the Chicago exposition. He pointed out that if the pope granted this request it would be the first time in the history of the church that the voice of the sovereign pontiff would be heard in America. His holiness then listened to the message of the late Cardinal Manning, in which his eminence asked for a blessing and expressed the hope that the Catholic faith might soon spread all over the world. The pope was greatly affected at hearing the voice of the dead cardinal as it was brought from the grave to his ears, and then listened to a message from Cardinal Gibbons, in which he asked the blessing of God upon the pope. His holiness promised to grant the request and to send a message to the United States by means of the most wonderful invention of that wonderful country.

SPAIN AT THE FAIR.

Curiosities Contributed by the Spanish Government.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The steamship Ciudad Condal, of the Compania Transatlantica & Espana has loaded a group of exhibits consigned by the Spanish government to the Columbian world's fair. There are, besides valuable paintings, one representing Columbus before Isabella, and several remarkable contributions in the shape of models the first of the kind ever shipped out of the country. One of the most striking is a perfect reproduction of the world-famed bridge over the Guadalquivir at Cordova. There are 16 arches and two towers, the foundation of the originals of which were laid when Christ was a boy in Nazareth. Special interest attaches to this work owing to the fact that Cordova is said to be the oldest paved city in Europe. Of interest to experts as well as the general public will be a complete model of the fortress of Montjuich at Barcelona, long considered impregnable. The most minute details are faithfully produced. From Barcelona also comes a model of the statue of Columbus, which represents the navigator standing upon the globe, the right pointing to the west while the left grasps the chart. Also models of the north and south fortresses at Corunna, the originals of which date back to the time of the Moorish invasions. Other interesting fortresses represented in the collection are those of San Eruendo and Puerto Tiera at Cadix. The Moorish castle at Alicante, dating back to the 12th century, will also be presented. The models belong to the royal engineers of Spain. Public exhibition of these plans of national defenses is noteworthy from the fact that the Spanish government watches with a jealous eye any attempt on the part of foreigners to closely examine the Mediterranean fortifications.

Lung Dried Up.

CINCINNATI, March 21.—In performing the rare and almost always fatal Eclairer operation on Charles Hoffman, at the city hospital, the startling discovery was made that in some way the lung had been doubled back on itself and had shrunken to the size of a man's hand, and was virtually dried up.
