FINE WORLD'S FAIR WEATHER

Attendance Daily Increasing at Chicago.

WALL STREET PANIC HAS ENDED.

Can Chinese Residents be Legally Deported to China.

CHICAGO, May 6.—The flags in general had a bright and cheerful look at the world's fair this morning when the gates opened. The sun was warm and bright upon the beautiful white palaces and the work of putting on the finishing touches was pursued with redoubled energy. The bright sunshine had the effect to bring out the visitors and by 10 o'clock this morning the gate keepers said they had admitted more people than all day yesterday.

Wall Street Quiet.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Speculative excitement cooled during the night and operators came to the stock exchange this morning with steadier nerves after sleeping over the matter. Throughout the first hour business presented a striking contrast with the panicky feeling of yesterday. The dealings were larger than the average, but much smaller than for past two days, with fluctuations far less violent.

CHINESE DEPORTATION.

Proceedings to Test the Exclusion Law.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Wong Quan, Lee Goe, a costumer, and Fong Yue Ling voluntarily surrendered themselves this morning by advice of eminent lawyers, in order to test the exclusion act. They were taken into the United States district court where Judge Brown was sitting prepared to hear two of the cases. The case of Fong Yue Ling was brought before the United States circuit court, Judge Lacombe presiding.

The case of Wong Quan was first called. He admitted he was a laborer, resident of the United States when the Geary act became a law. That he had not applied for certificates of residence nor had he troubled himself at all about it and he had no excuse to offer for not doing so. Judge Brown remanded him to the custody of the United States marshal to be deported to China. Lee Goe's case was then called. It differed from Wong Quan's inasmuch as his lawyers said he was without the necessary certificates through "unavoidable causes," but not able to prove so.

LHE APPEAL TAKEN.

Judge Brown signed the papers for expulsion of Lee Goe. The third case, that of Fong Yue Ling, an Americanized Chinaman, was taken before Judge Lacombe, who ordered the prisoner deported to China. In all three cases counsel appealed to Judge Lacombe for a writ of habeas corpus, which was denied in accordance with a prearranged plan of counsel on both sides and counsel then gave notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

A CYCLONE'S DEVASTATION.

Many Buildings Were Wrecked but No Lives Lost.

WILMINGTON, O., May 6.—A cyclone of terrific proportions struck this beautiful city about 3 o'clock yesterday, about noon threatening clouds began to gather in the northwest. It rained a little about 2 o'clock and gave the appearance of clearing off after a few minutes when an ominous cloud again appeared on the western horizon. The cloud attracted little attention, but the few who watched it, saw two clouds come together just west of town and form a rapidly revolving circular cloud, which struck the town on its western edge and traveled eastward, taking in the business portion of the place and leaving its wake strewn with debris of all kinds. Trees were but as straws, and few were left standing that encountered the storm. Almost in the twinkling of an eye the storm was over, and the half-frantic populace timidly emerged to find the streets filled with wrecked vehicles. Roofs of all kinds had fallen off buildings. The beautiful city hall, lately remodeled, is badly damaged. The roof was blown off and the interior soaked with water. Every church in town, except the Presbyterian, was badly wrecked. The heavy bell on the Christian church was blown some distance into the street, and the spire was blown off and crashed through the roof and ceiling. The Catholic church spire was left standing, while the remainder of the building was demolished.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

A small child at the home of J. E. Betts was taken out of bed asleep after the storm, while it was surrounded with bricks and fallen timbers. It is miraculous that no one was killed outright. Jonathan Thornton and Cabel Hazard were seriously hurt by falling timbers and William Bloom and several others were slightly injured. The large bookstore of Hildebrand & Hillard was crushed like an eggshell, and the contents drenched with water. The business houses of Campbell, Hamill & Co., H. G. Cartwright & Co., J. W. Sparks, Benjamin Farquhar, F. S. Taylor and F. Marble and many others were badly wrecked. The dwelling houses of W. W. Collins, L. McNamara, two belonging to C. A. Austin and several others were demolished, and numbers of others were unroofed and otherwise damaged. The wind blew so furiously that small sticks and straws were found imbedded in the weather boarding of the houses. The terrific rain that followed the wind did much damage, and business men worked all night to protect their property.

THE GERMAN PARLIAMENT

Dissolved and Berlin Wild With Excitement Over the Result.

BERLIN, May 6.—The army bill was rejected today in the Reichstag by a vote of 210 to 182. The Kaiser immediately dissolved the Reichstag. The social Democratic members displayed the wildest enthusiasm over the result and great confusion and uproar prevails in Berlin.

THE DAY'S PORTLAND NEWS.

Jack Dempsey's Welter Weight Championship Fight.

TYPHOID FEVER ON CHINESE SHIP.

The World's Fair Will Be Closed the First Sunday.

The Welter Weight.

PORTLAND, May 6.—Jack Dempsey is not having smooth sailing regarding his engagements with Smith for the welter weight championship of the world. He accepted the Coney Island club offer supposing Smith had signed. He received a telegram from the Crescent City club of New Orleans today stating that Smith had signed with them for a purse of a thousand dollars more than the Coney Island offer. Dempsey is undecided as he accepted the other club's offer.

Chinese Ship Infected.

PORTLAND, May 6.—A Chinaman died on board the steamer Danube last night. He had been sick with typhoid fever ever since the vessel has been in port. Further sickness is expected if the Chinese are confined on shipboard much longer. Interpreter Richards, of San Francisco, arrived this morning, to assist Collector Lotan in his investigations.

Closed on Sunday.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 6.—The gates of the world's fair will be closed tomorrow. The announcement is made by President Higginbotham this morning. As to what would be done in the future he declined to say.

Presidential Appointments.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—The president today appointed Alexander McDonald minister to Virginia, minister to Persia; W. S. Jones of Florida, consul general to Rome; A. B. Jones, of North Carolina, consul general to Shanghai; Stephen Connel of Maryland secretary of legation to China; Postmaster-General Cissell appointed A. W. Mehon of Toledo, assistant superintendent of free delivery system.

Indian War Dance.

CHICAGO, May 6.—The admirals and other naval officers who participated in the naval parade in New York harbor arrived this morning and were conducted through the world's fair grounds. There was an Indian war dance at the exposition grounds today which attracted much attention.

Freight Collision.

COLUMBUS, O., May 6.—Two sections of a freight train on the Dayton and Michigan railroad collided at Tadmor early this morning killing five persons and three wounded have since died.

FIRE OVER THEIR HEADS.

A Non-Union Ship Master Defends Himself.

TWO HUNDRED EYE WITNESSES KILLED.

The Way Crimes Are Suppressed in Texas.

DENISON, Texas, May 6.—Sensational developments are coming up in the Carlisle-Luttrell murder case at Sherman. It is said Luttrell has divulged information concerning the terrible butchery of men here last spring that will probably secure him a reprieve or possibly pardon in full. The exact confession cannot be had but it is said since 1878 James M. Brown, John Carlisle and his friends had killed 238 men in order to kill testimony against them in a murder case. Every eye witness was shadowed and killed sooner or later. All strong circumstantial witnesses were killed by hired murderers and officers dared not interfere if they regarded their lives.

Big Sailor's Row.

LOS ANGELES, May 6.—At Redondo last night, union sailors attempted to take non-union sailors off the schooner Halcyon. Capt. Price, of the Halcyon became aware of the matter, and had a constable and several deputies on board the vessel armed to the teeth. The crew were also armed. The union men appeared thirty strong, and demanded that the non-union men come ashore. They refused. The union men then endeavored to board the vessel, and the crew fired a volley over their heads. Another attempt called forth another volley. The union men then departed.

Three Killed By Lightning.

LIBERTY, Ind., May 6.—A terrible storm of wind, rain and hail swept over this place. Ella Mitchell and Charles Magee were struck by lightning and instantly killed. Mrs. Magee was also struck and died this evening. The wife of Emmett Leonard was stunned, and it is feared she cannot recover.

Dickens' Debt Prison.

How little—to take only one case—of the scenery of "Pickwick" remains; how, indeed, the whole of the London of that particular time has been improved off the face of the earth, a very cursory consideration of the topography of the book will amply show.

The abolition of imprisonment for debt, except by the side wind of committal for contempt of court, long ago swept away the sponging houses and debtors' prisons which occupy so large a space in English fiction from the time of Fielding and Smollett down to quite recent years.

The Fleet, its inhabitants and the squalid lives they led under Mr. Rokes and his comrades are only known to the readers of today by the descriptions in "Pickwick" and "Pennyless," and few people who nowadays pass down Farringdon street have any idea that the ramshackle old prison stood very nearly on the site of the Congressional Memorial hall as late as 1864, having survived its disestablishment as a debtors' jail nearly twenty years.—English Illustrated Magazine.

THE ICE CREAM CURE.

Snatched From the Brink of the Grave by This Easily Taken Remedy.

A man who is run down in health or who finds disease fastening itself upon his vitals usually tries to save himself by some form of exercise that yields no profit. Hunting, fishing, boating, boxing, lawn tennis, horseback riding and swinging the dumbbells are frequently tried in vain endeavor to regain the fast decreasing strength.

Jim Tobin, one of our most industrious farmers, was confined to the house for some weeks last summer afflicted with a stomach trouble that almost baffled medical skill. It was found that no food except ice cream could be retained long enough to be digested. He confined himself to that diet and was soon able to take some exercises. But he engaged in none of the unremunerative fashionable fads mentioned above. He preferred something financially profitable as well as physically beneficial and used his muscles in performing the lighter forms of farm work. For several weeks he continued this sensible course, confining himself strictly to an ice cream diet. He soon found that his former strength and vigor had returned, and he was able to do as much as ever—an amount more than is accomplished by the average man.

At the Tobin home a gallon of rich ice cream is frozen regularly as morning comes. This work is part of the regular routine of breakfast getting. The amount mentioned is sufficient for the day. Mr. Tobin never eats less than a quart of the dainty food at a meal and frequently requires more than that amount, although seldom indulging in so much as half a gallon. He digests it readily and enjoys it. He could probably take other kinds of food now, but he has suffered so much from indigestion that he thinks it best to leave well enough alone.

Since the 14th of last July he has eaten nothing but ice cream. On that date he weighed 140 pounds and was hardly able to walk. Now he tips the beam at 210 and works early and late. This gain of 70 pounds of flesh and the complete restoration of his strength on a diet of frozen cream, eggs and sugar is something remarkable, but it is the simple truth as we got it from Mr. Tobin's own lips. Those who see him—the perfect representative of a man in rugged health, with stately build and almost tireless strength—would hardly suspect the modesty of his meals and hardly credit the story when it is told them.

Of course there is much monotony in his meals, but he contents himself with his dish of cold comfort, and for dessert sips the aroma and odor of the victrola on the table. He is satisfied with health and strength and says the medicine is not bad to take.—Lagoda Leader.

A Comparison of Birth Rates. There are 38,000,000 people in France, and during the last five years the increase in population has only been 134,000. In 55 departments out of a total of 86 there is actually a diminution. It is not due to any high average of deaths, although infant mortality is higher than it should be. It is due to the small number of children born. The average birth rate has fallen to 21 or 22 per 1,000 inhabitants. This is a phenomenally low rate when contrasted with 38 to 39 in Germany, 35 or 36 in Italy, 33 in England and 30 in Switzerland. The percentage is lower in France than in any other country; so that there is a rapid increase in rival countries and France remains stationary.—Chicago Herald.
