SETTLEMENT WITH CREDITORS.—An Albany paper: J. L. Cowen, proprietor of the Lebanon bank, has settled with his depositors thereby transferring, under the nominal consideration of $28,000, to W. B. Doucas and many others, his Lebanon bank property, blocks, lots, 33 acres of land, and also a bill of sale of his bank fixtures, notes, etc., in fact all of his Lebanon property.

TAKING THE CROWD.—So far Morning-side is the best advertised suburb of the capital city. It possesses direct and close electric car line facilities and has other merits.

HARD TIMES DEFEATED.—Money is scarce, and people buy nothing except they get their money's worth. Miss Pinkham, the Court street milliner, is selling her choice stock at prices that cannot be equalled.

ON WHEELS.—Frank Conover, editor of the Corvallis Gazette, and wife and Miss Webber, came down on bicycles from that city Sunday to witness the ball game.

ARTISTIC WORK.—Some excellent work has been done the past week about the shrubbery on the state grounds east of the capital. This little park is growing in beauty, and when the Wilson avenue improvement is completed Salem will have one of the most beautiful parks on the coast.

HALF FARE.—The S. P. railroad will sell half-fare round trip tickets for the Salem races from all points between Portland and Eugene. The tickets will be on sale beginning the 4th and will be good to return until the 8th.

ICE CREAMS.—The truth is they are never good unless carefully flavored. You run no risk of adulteration or bad taste in the mouth or otherwise by using Price's Fruit Flavors and Extracts sold only by J. A. Van Eaton, grocer.

THE FOURTH.—A leading firm of Salem grocers has all preparations complete for the Fourth of July. They have all the eatables and fireables, wholesale and retail. Clark and Eppley, Court street.

HALF RATE.—The S. P. will sell half-fare round trip tickets July 1st, 2d, 3d and morning of the 4th, good to return until midnight of the 6th, between any points on their lines.

STATE VS. HENSELL

Trial of the Brooks Druggist on Charge of Perjury.

Before Recorder Estes, acting as justice, state of Oregon vs. L. M. Hensell, Ford & Condit for state, Bonham & Holmes, for defendant.

CASE OF THE STATE. Cooley, juror on trial of case of M. L. Jones vs. L. M. Hensell in circuit court.

Could not give exact language but Hensell swore there were three bills of $100, Heitshu & Woodward, Jones should have paid. He swore Jones paid two bills and one he paid. The jury understood that this was the receipt, $36.49, which Hensell swore he had paid.

Cross-examined: Hensell swore they had no settlement; that he was to offset with medical service certain.

Ringo, juror on trial in same case; Hensell swore he paid this bill in question.

Cross examined: Son of Harvey Ringo. Could not recall exact words but that was about it.

Bolter, juror; Hensell testified he had paid some bills that Jones was to have paid and had agreed to pay to offset his family doctor bill. He said he had supposed Jones had paid those bills, but he had not done so, and then, he, Hensell had paid them.

Wenger, juror; understood Hensell said he paid two of those bills; third one Jones paid, he said; he did not seem to know just which one he paid.

E. P. Norhup, cashier of Portland drug firm; examined as to two drug bills amounting to $36.49, paid by Jones Jan. 19, 1891; receipt was dated Feb. 24, 1892; Hensell got this receipt, saying the goods were bought for him, in the name of Jones, and he wanted a receipt made to him.

Cross-ex: Gave Jones a receipt; Jones paid his balance for 1890 on Jan. 19, 1891; Hensell opened an account with the firm in March 1891; first knew of Hensell running a drugstore there about that time; witness was shown letters from house to Hensell relating to Hensell asking for this receipt; the letters were read, one to Hensell, saying Jones had bought but one bill of goods of about ten dollars; receipt was read given by firm to Hensell that showed payment for two bills referred to as having been bought in the name of Jones. Jones called and got bills receipted a few days ago, that were included in his settlement Jan. 19, 1891, when he took a general receipt.

Mr. Heitshu: Identified copies of bills and affidavit he made, showing all transactions with Jones and Hensell.

Cross-ex: Could not remember individual accounts; knew nothing about matter except as shown by books.

M. L. Jones: Hensell introduced this receipt and swore he had paid it; shown two bills covered by receipt, receipted as paid by him. At time he paid the $77 for which he got a receipt, which he had lost; had it when he got the bills receipted second time.

Cross-Ex: Object of having these receipted bills was to show when he paid them, to make it positive that he had paid; had no personal trouble with the doctor. Only feelings of regret.

Counsel for state objected to inquiry into feelings of parties.

Bonham: Did you not tell Phineas Belliger, of Brooks, in presence of several parties that "I had thought the old skunk would stink himself out of Brooks but I am afraid some of us will have to drive him out?"

Objected to by Ford as irrelevant. It made no difference what Jones' feeling were toward him.

Objection sustained.

Jones Cross-Ex. continued: Agreed to pay these drug bills and freight for Hensell; had charged them to Hensell for a note Hensell gave him for the sum.

Bonham: Did you not swear in the circuit court that you had no love for Dr. Hensell?

Objected to.

Ford admitted that witness and counsel for state had no feelings of respect for Hensell, and used rough language toward him. The state rested.

No witnesses were offered for the defense here. Holmes moved defendant be discharged and addressed the court. Condit opened the case for the state. Defendant testified that he had paid two certain bills. The bills of Jones showed that he had paid them. The bookkeeper showed that Hensell got the receipt upon his own statement that the bills were bought in the name of M. L. Jones, and he gave no money when he got it.

Ford followed: All the papers in the trial were introduced in circuit court as competent evidence.

Judge Bonham said there were two objects in interposing a non-suit; the court had suggested time was precious, and the pleadings in the circuit court case had not been introduced as a foundation to establish perjury on a specific charge, as the state had not introduced the bookkeeper who had made the entries and that was the only way to prove a book account.

Motion to dismiss overruled.

Dr. Hensell sworn: Testified in circuit court that he had bills sent to him made out in Jones' name; receipt was sent to him in a letter; he had asked house to send him bills of goods; he had given Jones a note in sum of $670 19; Jones had not paid those bills of drugs as agreed; in lieu of medical service to Jones he had agreed to pay Hensell's drug and freight bills; believed he had paid those bills for which the house sent him a receipt; if he was guilty he wanted to be punished.

Cross-examination: There was no mention of the receipt in the letters; was not in Portland, February last; the date of receipt is February 24; that was sent me by the house; remember having bought other bills, and thinking Jones was not dealing square he sent for his receipts; they wrote that Jones had bought but one bill of $10.00, between the dates of the three bills referred to; he showed bills from the firm over a number of years. The cross examination of Hensell consumed an hour and elicited nothing new. Defense offered no rebuttal.

Several other witnesses were called to testify to the character of Dr. Hensell and other particulars that did not change the aspect of the case materially. Among these was Mrs. Hensell, wife of the defendant, who swore that she had no knowledge of the doctor having been in Portland at the time receipt he had was dated. Other witnesses were pretty sure the receipt was delivered to him in person and he claimed he received it by mail.

This closed the evidence and court adjourned till 9 o'clock this morning to hear the arguments in the case.

BOUND OVER. At conclusion of argument by counsel, the court bound Dr. Hensell over to the grand jury in the sum of $1000. He gave bonds.

STAGE GLINTS.

Emma Vaders has replaced Lavinia Shannon in the company of Frank Hennig.

Sam Collins, who has been playing in "The Black Crook," has joined "The Isle of Champagne."

Mme. Cottrelly has been engaged by Manager John H. Russell as a member of Russell's Comedians next season.

Dr. George W. Purdy, Fanny Rice's husband and manager, sailed for Europe recently in search of a new play for his wife.

Actors are very particular about their names. Henry Miner will not see any one who calls for Harry Miner, and Thomas Q. Seabrooke is very fond of his Q.

Joseph Grismer and wife (Phoebe Davies) will summer in San Francisco. Their next season's tour with "The New South," however, will probably be opened in the east.

Henry Irving and his company will sail for America on Aug. 15. Their fares from London to San Francisco, where they will open their American tour, amount to over $11,000.

Marcus R. Mayer has sailed for Europe and will be absent about two months. He is going to engage artists for the Patti company and will visit Mme. Patti at Craig-y-Nos castle.

The name of Hoyt's new play is "The Milk White Flag." There is nothing in the title to indicate the subject matter of the play, but Mr. Hoyt has his reasons for bestowing this title upon his work.

T. Henry French says that he expended nearly $30,000 on "The Prodigal Daughter," and the amount required every week to run the stage will be about $4,000. The manager hopes to get all of his money back and more besides, of course. He has decided to keep the drama on the stage of the American theater, New York, during the summer.

TURF TOPICS. Nelson, 2:10, and Directum, 2:11, are about the only present first class stallions that will do much racing this season.

A bill is now before the Michigan legislature providing for the licensing and registering of stallions. The license is to be conditional on soundness.

Doble is making no engagements for Nancy Hanks just now and will not do so until he has learned what he may expect her to do this year. She is in good condition.

There are 591 entries all told for the annual meeting of the New England Trotting Horse Breeders' association, for which $17,500 in purses and stakes have been hung up.

General Miles' fine bay mare has a nice looking bay colt by Palo Alto, 2:08 1/2, with a marked characteristic of some of the general's exploits. On his neck is a perfect tomahawk in white.

As a rule, a double gaited horse is faster as a pacer than as a trotter. Had Smugler, 2:13; Edwin Forrest, 2:18, and Bonesetter, 2:19, been permitted to take their chosen gait they would doubtless have been great pacers.

Dr. Wackley of London, editor of The Lancet, owns the great prize winning mare Drab, now on her way to be exhibited in the English hackney class at the World's fair. During her stay she will be bred to Allerton.

Twenty new engines are soon expected on the Long Island road. They will be used on the main line and the Manhattan Beach division. The road at the present time is obliged to "cut corners" in order to make the motive power go round.

By July 15 the Saranac and Lake Placid road will be completed. The line will be 10 miles long and will extend from a point on the Adirondack and St. Lawrence to Saranac lake, thence to Lake Placid. It will be a new line for tourists to the Adirondack mountains.
