DOLPH "GOLDBUGISM."

It Means a Policy of Contraction of the Currency.

REPUBLICANS CALLED PENNOYERS.

For Refusing to Bow Down to the Corporations.

The senatorship in Oregon cannot be disposed of entirely upon the free silver issue. The Oregonian is trying to force every Republican who is not a Dolph man to stand upon a platform of free coinage of silver 16 to 1. While many do stand there, and many more prefer to stand there to being forced to stand on the Oregonian-Dolph narrow-contracted goldbug platform of hostility to silver, still there is no reason why a Republican cannot oppose the Dolph financial platform without being classified as a flatist, a bastard and a lunatic. Republicans honestly differ about free coinage and national banks and other financial questions. But this is more a question of electing a pronounced goldbug of the Wall street pattern or a man who is friendly and tolerant of the use of silver at all as a monetary metal. Nine-tenths of the people do not want silver eliminated from our currency. They want a larger use of silver as legal tender and a larger use of paper as legal tender, while the Scott-Dolph idea is nothing but cold as legal tender, no coinage of silver at all, and retirement of the treasury notes. The people simply cannot and will not stand further pursuit of the contraction policy. Republicans who are sound money men, gold-standard men if you please, do not wish to stand before the people as champions of further contraction, champions of further bond issues, champions of a hard, crafty financial policy approved only by Wall street, Great Britain and the Rothschilds.

Mr. Dolph helped exact the Sherman silver law and then helped repeal it. The golden promises of benefits and prosperity to flow from repeal of the silver law have not materialized. Gold is still going. Goldbug remedies have not stopped it. A more liberal financial policy, a policy more truly American, a policy less slavish to Great Britain, will alone rescue the people of our country from financial oppression.

Republicans who oppose Dolph for financial reasons are quite as sound money men as those who agree with the present advocated ideas of Dolph and the Oregonian. Republicans cannot be read out of the party for being opposed to Dolph's financial ideas, or for advocating silver, or even free coinage of silver. The people are opposed to electing either a radical gold man or an extreme silver man, but of the two they prefer the latter.

The Oregonian has one other alleged argument for Dolph. It would be Pennoyerism to vote against him.

The Oregonian calls all men who are fighting the Portland machine cranks, Populists, Pennoyerites, etc. But who made Pennoyer to begin with? Harvey Scott and the Oregonian defeated Col. Connelley and first elected Mr. Pennoyer with such a tidal wave of popularity that all the Oregonian's abuse four years later could not defeat his election.

The simple fact is, Pennoyer was not the issue in the late election. Mr. Dolph was not discussed by Republicans. They were in many places asked if they were Dolph men. They either evaded the question or declared they were not. In Clatsop county a Republican speaker who was sent out from Portland said, at the opening of the caucus at Harlow, that the election of a Republican legislature meant the return of Dolph. A chill fell on the crowd. He was told that must not be repeated, that Clackamas Republicans did not want Dolph. Mr. Geer and others who canvassed the state say where there were any expressions of the people they were against Dolph, not for him. Dolph's financial views were not popular on the stump and his opinions on finances were not good campaign material.

It is false to say that Anti-Dolph Republicans are Pennoyerites. That is begging the question. The Dolph managers are the men who slaughtered Col. Cornelius, the men who slaughtered Judge Waldo, the men who are always pursuing selfish policies and who are always against free and untrammelled expression of the people, who oppose Republicanism that means relief for the masses.

JAY GOULD'S MILLIONS

What the Public Appraiser Finds for Taxation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Lawyer McClure appointed appraiser to fix the value of the estate of Jay Gould, with a view to determining the amount of tax that should be imposed, finds the value of the personal estate of the late millionaire to be upwards of $80,000,000. He allows $6,000,000 as an indebtedness to the estate of George J. Gould, which is deducted from the total. The value of the estate is $80,934,560, less the amount of debts $6,553,520, and less legacies, annuities, etc., to his brother, sisters, and grandson, of $1,156,513, making the amount of the residuary estate to be $73,224,527. Each of the six children of Mr. Gould is entitled to a life interest, in trust, in one-sixth of the residuary estate. The remainder to their children. Under a recent decision of the court of appeals, it is held that these remainders are not liable to taxation, whereas formerly they were. This will reduce the tax considerably. It is expected that the executors will be entitled to recover from the $600,000, which they have paid to the state, a small sum in their favor.

An Immoral Governor Scored.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 8.—Several days ago a New York paper asked Governor Fishback for his views on the social evil question. The governor replied that houses of prostitution were as essential in cities as were the sewers that carried off the filth. The city pastors' association, of Little Rock, held a meeting and passed resolutions setting forth that the governor's expressions did not conform to the sentiment entertained by the respectable citizens of the community. The association did not believe the governor had the right to speak, as chief executive, for the people of the state on the question, and cites the statutes as voiding the sentiment of the law abiding community.

Doing His Duty.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 8.—Casius Marcellus Clay, the "Old Lion of Whittell," is carrying out his plan of educating his young wife to fit her for her new station in life. A few days ago he engaged a governess, Miss Josie Martin, of Munfordville, who has gone to Whittell to give Mrs. Clay lessons in deportment, music and the ordinary branches of learning. Mrs. Clay is only 16 years old and has little more than the rudiments of an education. She has absolutely had no experience in society and is as ignorant as of mathematics of the sciences. Miss Martin is expected to make a finished lady of her.

The Great Flood.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 8.—This morning the stage of water in the Monongahela at this point, was 25 feet and 5 inches and stationary. Unless there is more rain the rivets are expected to fall. All two miles along the Allegheny have slipped, on account of the flood.

GOING TO HELL IN A HAND CAR.

Instead of To Heaven Supported by the Truth.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The first business in the house today was a resolution from the committee on rules authorizing the appropriation committee to insert a clause in the sundry civil appropriation bill authorizing the transfer of the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, from the jurisdiction of the war department to the department of justice. The plan was explained by Curtis Republican, who contended that soldiers sent to the prison for minor offenses were subjected to evil associations. The resolution was adopted by 156 to 125.

Debate on the currency bill being resumed, Bethoover of Pennsylvania, gave notice of an amendment.

Members flocked around Sibley, a Democrat of Pennsylvania, when he began a characteristic address against the bill: "He was applauded," he said, "If ever rebuke was needed to one who has attempted to trample down the prerogatives of the people, it is needed for him who has attempted to usurp this entire government to himself. The time has come when there should be something more than brains, belly and brass to this government."

He referred to George III, and said it had been given out that anyone who voted against the bill would incur the displeasure of Kings. Four days after the repeal of the Sherman act members had told him they had been promised revenue collectorships if they would vote for repeal. "The gentleman makes very broad assertion," said Coombs, a Democrat of New York, and asked Sibley to mention names.

"I went three days ago to a member and asked him to allow me the privilege of calling him up here," replied Sibley. "He said: 'Mr. Sibley you will place me in a bad position with my constituents,'" but continued Sibley, "within ten feet of me sits a man who heard him make the statement that he had been offered federal offices for his vote."

"But do you consider it fair?" asked Coombs, with a perceptible tremor in his voice, to make so grave a charge against the administration, and not give names and places in order to permit defense?"

"Every man is the guardian of his own conscience" declared Sibley. "Already padlocks have been on my lips too long, and I intend to throw them off." "When were padlocks put on your lips?" Interjected Outwaite a Democrat of Ohio. There was great confusion and excitement following the question.

"I have not thrown them off before," continued Sibley, "because I hoped to see the administration redeem its promise, and I did not wish to utter a rebuke when there was hope of honest performance. Let me tell you, gentlemen, I am not talking today with men who believe in going to hell in a hand-car, instead of to Heaven supported by the truth. Let me tell him also that I am not addressing men who believe more in a hotbed bunk than a outside heat." Shouts of applause and laughter greeted this statement.

Portland elected the last speaker of the legislature—Mr. Keady. Marion county should elect the next—Mr. Moore.

What mortgage have Root, Dolph and Simon on all the good things in the Republican party?

NO PEACE IN CHINA.

The Negotiations Come to Naught—More War Probable.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The Paris edition of the Herald prints a dispatch from Shanghai, saying that China's peace envoys to Japan have been instructed not to surrender any territory. China is merely willing to concede the independence of Corea and to pay an indemnity. The failure of the negotiations is regarded in Shanghai as a foregone conclusion.

Generals Chiang and Chen, of Port Arthur fame, whom Li Hung Chang reported to the government as having died heroic deaths facing the foe, have turned up without a scratch. A rigorous inquiry will be made.

AGAINST THE PLANTERS.

A Court Decision Affirmed Affecting the Sugar Bounty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—District court of appeals today affirmed the decision of the district supreme court refusing to grant the Miles Sugar Manufacturing and Planting Company of Louisiana, a mandamus compelling Secretary Carlisle and Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller to proceed under the law regarding sugar bounties, notwithstanding its repeal by the new tariff law. The case was brought as a test suit. Appeal to the United States supreme court is yet open to the planters, the case having gone against them in all inferior tribunals.

GOV. M'INTYRE ON SILVER.

Plain Talk in His Inaugural Address at Denver.

DENVER, Jan. 8.—Governor McIntyre was inaugurated today. In his inaugural address the governor says: "We do not expect legislation favorable to silver because it is the money of the constitution, nor because we expect sympathy or charity from any source, nor because we as producers are interested in enhancing its value, but because its restoration is absolutely decreed by the natural law of commerce that cannot be disobeyed without punishment following."

Insurance Decision.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The supreme court has rendered a decision in the case of the state of California vs. Hooper by Justice White, involving the constitutionality of the state law prohibiting foreign insurance companies doing business in the state. The decision sustained this right of the state on the ground that insurance was not interstate commerce, but Justice Harlan, Brewer and Jackson dissented on the ground of the state permitting interference with the private rights of the citizens of the United States.

The Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The case of John G. Moore against Commissioner of Internal Revenue Miller, to contest the constitutionality of the income tax feature of the new tariff law, came up today in the district supreme court, and was set for hearing on the 15th inst. in the equity branch of the court.

The Same Old Jack.

TURNER, Or., Jan. 6. EDITOR JOURNAL:—The common people of the country cannot sufficiently thank the Oregonian for the manly stand it took last winter for a new deal, but what is gained by that kind of new deal which "disarms" all the smaller and more unimportant cards and at the very last of the game forces up for trump the same old Jack? This is what puzzles a COUNTRY DELEGATE.

DEBS GOES TO JAIL.

The Conspirators Defeated on the Last Round.

NO STAY OF SENTENCE NOW.

The Commitments Are Promptly Made Out Today.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Eugene V. Debs and his associates, who are under jail sentence for contempt of court, surrendered to United States Marshal Arnold today, and the jail commitments were promptly made out. No proceedings in court, looking towards a stay of sentence were begun. All the defendants except Howard and Elliot, were present.

After the adjournment yesterday of the court of appeals, Judge Woods, sitting as circuit judge, informed the attorneys for Debs and others and for the government, that he would overrule the application for a writ of habeas corpus, as he could not review his own decision, and would allow the appeal direct to the supreme court.

Counsel for the prisoners decided this morning not to contest the case any further before the circuit court, but will on Saturday ask the United States supreme court at Washington for a writ of habeas corpus on this application. Whether granted or not they will have the right to take an appeal, and on this appeal secure the liberation of the prisoners on bail pending hearing.

The prisoners are still in the marshal's office, but may be taken to jail this afternoon.

Currency Bill in Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—By a vote of 81 to 50 the Democratic house caucus voted to endorse the Carlisle currency bill now before the house. Speaker Crisp took the lead in presenting the resolution and vigorously urged the necessity of its adoption. The committee on rules was instructed to bring in a rule to close debate. Efforts to amend Crisp's resolution were voted down, one of the adverse votes showing only thirteen members of the caucus favorable to the issue of bonds to retire greenbacks.

The resolution of the caucus is accepted with apprehension by friends of the bill, notwithstanding the passage of the resolution of endorsement.

Great Alarm in Ohio.

POMEROY, O., Jan. 8.—The government mark at 8 o'clock this morning showed 20 feet of water, and the river is rising at the rate of six inches an hour. Business men are moving stores out of their cellars. Since 1884 there has not been so much alarm from this source.

Steamer in Distress.

NEWBURY, Ore., Jan. 8.—The steamer Bandorle put in here in distress yesterday, having lost her rudder in a heavy gale off Cape Blanco. She sailed from Coquille for San Francisco. She was towed in here by tug.
