Tais left the reserve, at the close of business, $97,710,772. The treasury officials have received no information of contemplated gold deposits by the New York banks, as reported, yet they have no doubt that the syndicate very soon will make good the lossess below $100, 000,000. For this reason, when questioned, they say they have no apprehension for the future. As to the real purpose of the syndicate with regard to speedy action, they have no official or reliable information.

ABOUT LIEU LANDS.

A Contest Before the State Land Board this Week.

Calling at the state land office reporter found the officer busy inspecting a large roll of papers bearing the well known inscription of the Federal Interior Department, and picking up one we saw that it was a notice to the governor of Oregon that 5100 acres of land which the state has deeded to various individuals as heu lands, are now held for collection for the reason that the state had no authority or right to select them.

This appearing at first glance to be a strange sort of proceeding, that the State Land Department should get tangled up with the Federal Land Department, we assayed a look another paper and another until tile separate lists added up to 7500 acres of so called lieu lands, held for cancellation for various reasons. One that the state had selected lieus for bases that were falsely called mineral.

Another that it had alleged deficiency in school section bases in unsurthe veyed townships where the deficiencies if they shall exist, cannot be com-

And still another reason which is quite startling that the bases have been used once and of course cannot be

Anticipating a little, we asked, what Wheat Again on the Decline is to become of this it these selections In a are cancelled? The officer added that the legislature provided for such contingencies sev ral years ago, and the law now is the when the state for any reason cannot make a good title, the purchaser shall have his money back, and if he has received no benefit from the land, may claim in addition, 8 per cent interest, to recompense him for the use of his money.

But the officer continued; but the grantees in the case of these false lieu lands, as represented by their attorneys, do not want to settle in that way, and will ask the state board at its session this week, to select new, or rather bona fide bases in the Cascade Reservation, and let them keep the lauds.

While this method of procedure might satisfy the grantees, it would be an indirect violation of the law governing the lieu land management.

It will be recollected that the last legislature raised the price from $1.25 to $2.50 per scre, and granting the prayer of the petitioners would be in effect selling lieu lands at the old outlawed prices, a direct loss to the school fund of over $9000. It would also be settler an example of lawlessness, when might in the long run prove pernicious. In the past, want of titie by the state, has been cured in that way, and it would be very injudicious to depart from that method. but whether the practice of paying back the purchase money in default of making title, is good or bad, just or unjust, the State Land Department has no option in the premises, but to | s. w., but increasing. obey the laws. It cannot sit as a court of equity to redress grievances, correct other people's blunders or dispense

The claim that the state should warrant a title when it makes a conveyance, is an unfounded and false claim. The state has never done that and will not do it. Neither the state or general government ever covenants to defend titles against lawful or unlawful claims These governments, all governments sell bonds and give deeds, and when the title is wanting they return the money. As respects the lieu lands for which the state has given deeds without a title, the purchaser or his attorney has been at fault and not the state.

He furnished the state officers a de scription of the lieu and of the base and made written application to purchase thereby, and if he or his attorney blundered, the loss should be upon them and not the commonwealth.

There is nothing clearer than this. The law was specific as to all parts of the transaction, requiring the applicant to describe the land he wished to purchase and also the 16th or 36th section or fractional township of which he took it in lieu, and provided that when the register of the land office should notify the state board of his acceptance of the exchange, the money should be paid and the deed given to the pur-

This legal regulation has been followed and if the applicant was ineffi. cient or employed an incompetent or villianous attorney to do his business, he must either pocket the loss or make his attorney disgorge. He ought not to expect the state board to come to his rescue at the expense of their legal

If those unlucky purchasers will put up another $1.25 per acre, to as to conform to present law, new bases might be found.

EVIDENCE OF CHURCH HUNTERS

Who Found the Remains of Miss Lamont's Clothing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.-The Durrant trial was resumed to-day after an fender 1.01:35, Second mark: Valkyrie adjournment since Friday. The first witness was E. F. Lombs, a special officer who searched Emmanuel church for the clothing of Blanche Lamont and found on april 14th a glove rolled up and turned inside out. The glove was found on the top platform of the belfry. A black stocking and various pieces of underwear were also found and identified by witness and admitted in evidence.

In cross-examination defendant's attorneys tried to show that the hunt for garments of the murdered girl had been very loosely conducted. The next witness was E. V. Herod who was another policeman forming part of the searching party. He found the school books and strap alleged to have been left in the church by Blanche Lamont on the day of her murder. Books were identified and introduced in evi-

Policeman J. H. Graham was also one of the searching party and when on the stand identified a pair of shoes which he said he had found in the belfry. OTTAWA, Kas., Sept. 10 .- Gridley, a town of 400 people on the Santa Fe southwest of here, suffered the total ruction of many of its heat build-47c; ings by Bunday night's storm, while hardly a structure in the place escaped injury, still it is believed no one was seriously burt. About 3 o'clock a storm of wind and rain burst on the town from the northwest. The wind was what was known as a straight blow and its mischief was mainly confined to the unroofing of buildings. A downpour of rain immediately followed and mounted to a deluge, twelve inches of water falling in an incredibly short time. The rain completed destruction that had not been accomplished by the wind and in a few minutes every stock of goods had been soaked and household possessions of most of the inhabitants were in the same condition.

> Strange to say, with all falling roofs and walls and flying debris that broke windows far and near, not a person of the town reported more than the merest personal injury. A great deal of damage is feared in the contiguous country. One farmhouse half a mile from town was completely destroyed and one lumate, supposed to be Mrs. Clara Massie, was fatally burt.
