CLEVELAND'S LATEST

Special Message on Railroad Land Grants.

WANTS THEM ANNULLED.

Another Bid of the Big Third Term Candidate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The President has today sent a special message to the lower house of congress, urging the necessity for immediate legislation to extend the limit of the time within which suits can be brought by the government to annul railroad grants of public lands. He called attention to the numerous complications that have arisen between the railroads as to the grants that overlapped, and the necessity for their adjustment. The time in which suits can be brought expires March 30, 1896, and if the time limit were allowed to expire then a portion of the adjustment act would be rendered nugatory. The government, the president says in conclusion, should not be prevented going into the courts and righting wrongs perpetrated by its agents.

But the Siamese territory west and east of it is excluded from this clause.

Grover Not a Candidate.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The Post's Washington special says: "A demand having been made informally upon President Cleveland for an authoritative statement upon the third term proposition, he has given it out that the Democracy will be entirely safe in proceeding upon the theory that he is not and will not be a candidate."

I-I-ICK-ER-DOODLE-DOO!

Goodhue the Salem poultry king, is in high feather at the Portland state poultry show. He is proud of the Salem exhibit, don't you know. THE JOURNAL's buff cockin, cockrel "Governor Fletcher," proved the highest scoring bird in his class and got the blue ribbon and first prize. Goodhue jumped in the air and gave three "I-I-ick-er-doodle-doo's!"

Goodhue writes that the Portland exhibitors are unanimous in praising the Salem men for their big exhibit and will return the compliment by attending the next state fair in a body with their birds. We are glad to hear that the Oregon Poultry Journal is meeting with good success down there. Three cheers for Goodhue and the Salem exhibit.

WILL SILVER MEN

Or Fiatists Rule the Populist Party?

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Meets—Probable Outline of the National Platform.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—Seventy-five members of the north committee of the Peoples party assembled at the Lansel hotel today.

Chairman H. E. Taubeneck announced that the time up to 1:30 p. m. would be devoted to hearing suggestions as to the time and place for holding the convention, and what the platform should contain. Speeches were limited to 5 minutes each. Captain Charles A. Power of Terre Haute, said that silver was the paramount issue and if the Populists would confine themselves to that they would win. Clements, of Topeka, Kansas, said one of the planks of the Omaha platform was government ownership of railroads. That plank had been particularly assailed, and now that very thing was represented to congress in such a way as to make it impossible for any honest man to grant extension of the Pacific railroad debt.

THE ECONOMY PLANK.

Adopted by the Last Republican State Convention.

The plank reads as follows: "In our state of affairs we demand closest scrutiny and economy in expenditures. We condemn the prodigality and excess of past legislatures, and call upon the next legislative assembly to keep all appropriations within the limits of the most economical administration consistent with efficiency. The officers of the administrative department of the state have become too expensive, and their expenses must be reduced. When the constitution fixes the salary, only the constitutional salary should be paid, without additional emoluments. The practice of employing unnecessary clerks and of paying fees in excess of just payment for services rendered or rendered, has become an abuse that must be cut off, and we pledge the Republican party to the prosecution and accomplishment of this reform. District attorneys and other officials should be paid fixed salaries, since payment of fees encourages litigation and entails upon the taxpayers heavy and needless expense."

A Big Year.

The stockholders of the Santiam Lumbering company held their annual meeting at Mill City, January 10, and re-elected the old officers, viz: Lee Brown, president; John A. Shaw, secretary; W. H. Bird Killers.

The boys of Oak Creek met recently and made arrangements for a match hunt. James Foster and Fred Churchill were captains. Each leader selected seven assistants. Fred Churchill's side was victorious, having scored 1080 points, whilst James Foster's side 920. The losing side pays for an oyster supper, which will be at Mr. Dorwin Case's the 17th, inst. The game killed consisted of ducks, geese, snipe, yellow-hammers, blue jays, hawks, owls and kilders. The largest score made was by Arthur Case, who used the gun F. M. Mitchell bought of E. W. Langdon. Although Arthur's score was 305, yet he was on the losing side.

THE DUTY OF KICKING.

Mark Twain takes the ground that Herbert Spencer has so forcibly defended. It is the duty of every man to his neighbor to kick—kick at every petty imposition; kick at every act of insubordination, impudence, surliness on the part of employees. Kick at the laxity which permits a beast to spit and smoke in the public vehicle. Report the conductor who refuses to eject the ruffian. Kick to the manager when the usher is rude; to the superintendent when the clerk is inattentive; to the highest available authority when an injury is done. It is not good nature that prevents kicking among us; it is an attempted fraud to try and make it appear so. Mark Twain calls it timidity. Perhaps it is, but that is not its full name. It is cowardice, mingled with indifference to duty, one's neighborly rights; and sheer indolence.

Of all the Englishman's qualities the most genuine and beneficent is his blank refusal to submit to imposition. He never "lets it go, what's the use?" He makes a point of finding a use. He is not amiable, but he is just, and his services to his fellow-men are much more substantial than would be a few pleasant remarks. It is for the want of a spirit of "kicking" that our public service is so universally lax, that, indeed, we have so much in our own daily life and experience to kick about. It is the friction that attends a practice that leads to improvement. Let the loafer, the negligent official, the impudent clerk, the insolent corporation learn in every instance that good manners, civility and decent service are attended with less friction and pleasanter consequences than their opposition, and we shall have more of the former and less of the latter.

Prof. Heritage, of Willamette musical college, gives a concert at Eugene on the 28th inst.
