PERSONAL.
W. W. Elder and W. H. Cooper, of Stayton, were in town today.
Henry Keene, Sr., one of the pioneers of Oregon Republicanism, was in town today.
Geo. Garrison, of Alsea, is in the city spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Grant Watson.
As foreman of the Salem Iron Works, he is a practical machinist and mechanic, and will put a great deal of new life into the business.
PATROLMEN.—At the Portland Republican club convention Delegate Patterson, of Salem, moved that the stage be appropriately decorated with an American flag, which had been overlooked, and a committee was appointed to attend to that matter before the opening of the afternoon session. Before an adjournment was taken at 1 o'clock, "America" was sung, led by the Woodburn quartet, by fully 1,000 patriotic voices in a manner to send a thrill of pleasure through the souls of all listeners. The Woodburn Glee club is one of the finest quartets heard in a political convention.
FOR DR. BYRD.
Several hundred taxpayers of this district have signed the following call: Dr. W. H. Byrd, director of School District No. 24:
The undersigned citizens and voters in school district No. 24 recognizing your special fitness for school director, would respectfully request that you permit the use of your name as school director at the forthcoming school election. We have been much pleased with the management of the affairs of the district, while you have been chairman of the board. Your efforts in behalf of the best interests of the district are worthy of commendation and have met the general approval of all persons interested in the welfare of our excellent public school system. (Signed)
Dr. Byrd is still cogitating whether to accept, but he will probably consent to be a candidate.
COMMISSIONERS' COURT.—The Marion county commissioners' court is in session for the February term, with County Judge Hubbard, J. W. Watson, and J. Frank Anderson, commissioners, in attendance. There are a number of important bridge bills before the court.
Electric Bitters.
Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the mind of a tonic and alleviative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea, biliousness, and all ailments arising from the liver, are cured by Electric Bitters. 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at Fred A. Legg's Drug Store.

SOCIETY CHRONICLE.

Local News of Social and Fraternal Events.

FOR ALL.
Brooks and Macy, the funniest team on earth, strikes Salem today and will open on the public at the opera house this evening. If you don't like to laugh you had better stay away, for every one who attends will have to laugh most of the time for two hours. If the hard times or anything else make you feel blue be sure and attend for Brooks and Macy are warranted to cure the worst case of blues in Salem. Admission 50 cents a special rate of 25 cents will be made to members of the Y. M. C. A.

Y. M. C. A. AUXILIARY.
The annual business meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Salem Y. M. C. A. was held yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. parlors, and the following officers were elected for the year: President, Mrs. R. S. Wallace; Mrs. Jessup, Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Savage, Mrs. H-dgkin and Mrs. Gillingham being elected vice-presidents; Mrs. Cavanaugh, secretary; Miss Boise financial secretary, and Miss Kirk treasurer. The date for the turkey supper has been fixed. The arrangements for the feast are about completed and next Saturday night at 7 o'clock the war on turkey will begin. As is well understood, the winning side, only, and invited guests are to partake of the good things, while the losing thirty will content themselves with mush and milk as a means of satisfying the inner man on that occasion. The tables will be spread in the gymnasium and while the feast is in progress there will be several toasts and responses thereto. The reds were the winners by 138 against 113 members secured by the yellows.

Charged With House Breaking.
Hermann Upendall, Henry Blosser, Otto Blosser and Thos. McNary of Aurora were sent up from Justice W. S. Hurst's court last night on a charge of unlawfully breaking into a dwelling house on the farm of A. Blosser of this city. They gave bail to Justice Johnson in the sum of $250 each, for their appearance before the grand jury. The trouble arises over construction of a lease.
Mr. Blosser says his lease says when lessees fail to pay the rent he can remove them. But he could not get papers served. So he put Thos. McNary on the place and thus got possession and had papers on all of the parties, with the above result. Mr. Blosser says he was forced to take this step to get a settlement.
NO ACTION YET.—Attorney General Idleman is still engaged in reading the supreme court decisions. He has not decided that he can bring a suit, as that question is raised in the decision itself, but is giving it his earnest attention.
REVIVAL MEETINGS are still in progress at Leslie M. E. church with good results. Bible readings each afternoon at 2:30 and preaching each evening at 7:30. Rev. C. M. Bryan is assisting the pastor. All are cordially invited to attend.
LECTURE.—Mr. James McCourt will deliver a lecture on the Metric System of Weights and Measures, for the benefit of all interested in this subject, at Mr. Pearson's writing school in East Salem, next Saturday at 2 p. m. Teachers especially invited.

TEN DAYS MORE.—Then the Wiley B. Allen Co. will close their Salem store. Until the 15th everything in the store, including a fine line of pianos and organs, will be sold at cost prices.
REQUISITION.—On request of the governor of Montana, Governor Lord today issued a requisition for a man named John Boyd in Grant county, who robbed a woman. He is in jail at Portland.
ON THE RIVER.—Steamboat men report business as picking up, with a liberal increase of freight and some passengers. The river stands at about 8 feet, and is slowly falling.
RECORDER'S COURT.—Joseph N. Bradley, charged with indecent exposure of his person, and Bert Dunn, for disturbing a religious meeting, will have a hearing before Recorder Eyles on Thursday.
BROOKS AND MACY. the great humorists, at the opera house to night. Two hours pure fun.
Marvelous Results
From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunders, of Diamond, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's new discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last for hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in result." Trial bottles free at Fred A. Legg's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents, and $1.00.

A Mother's Inquiry.
An anxious mother writes to THE JOURNAL as follows: "Is it gambling, and if so is there not a law which could be enforced against it? I mean what is going on all the time in the club rooms of some of the cigar stands. In the front tobacco, cigars, nuts, candy, etc., are sold; back out of sight are men neglecting their home duties are playing cards for chips, while young men and youths are looking on and taking lessons. What dark spots in our fair city. I ask for information."

Katie Putnam.
The sketches from which were made the models for the scenery used in Katie Putnam's production of C. T. Dazey's play "The Old Lime Kiln," were the work of Miss Putnam, herself, who is an accomplished artist with brush and pastels. She visited the Yellowstone National park the past summer and spent two weeks sketching the various points of interest that are reproduced in the play's scenic equipment and will be shown at the opera house Thursday night, the date of Katie Putnam's engagement.

The report of Superintendent Payne, of the asylum, for January, shows:

Monthly pay-roll 473
Monthly per capita expense $9.33

A Great Entertainment.
The Brooks-Macy entertainment, which was given at Portland last night, was a great success. The following note is self-explanatory:
PORTLAND, February 4, 1896.
MR. PATON:—Say anything you please favorable to the Brooks-Macy combination; and at the close of the entertainment your audience will go away saying the half was never told. Mr. Dummit and myself are glad and anxious to have you know that we consider it a great entertainment.

Divine Healing.
SALEM, OR., Feb. 3, 1896.
To the Disciples of Christ:—By request, I give my testimony to the power of divine healing, by the laying on of hands, through the blood of Christ, by faith in His name, having been healed January 8, 1896, of neuralgia in my head, when by the grace of God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, I have been made whole.
MRS. K. GAMBLE.

WHAT IT MEANS.
The supreme court in three times evading the construction of the constitution has virtually decided that state institutions can be scattered all over the state.
Unless a new suit can be brought to force the court to say whether the constitution means what it says, the asylum at Union, Oregon, must be built and will cost not less than $250,000 before finished.
If that can be done, branch asylums and penitentiaries and reform schools can be built as fast as they can be lobbied through the legislature whether needed or not.

Scattering Bread.
The fine delivery team of J. M. Huber had a remarkable runaway. On Ferry street this morning, while driving along at a moderate rate, the front wheels pulled out, the horses throwing the driver Gordon Crossan, 18-year old son of Robt. Crossan, out over the dashboard. The team ran away, and on Twelfth street collided with a farm wagon, throwing one of the Huber horses, laming it some and cutting one leg some. They were stopped near the bakery, after running over to Asylum Avenue and then down Chemeketa. Young Crossan was bruised some but not hurt seriously. He had a narrow escape.

SOLDIERS' HOME AWARD.

There is a great deal of unfavorable comment in relation to the hasty manner, in which the members of the Soldiers' Home board adopted a set of plans Monday night for the proposed hospital in connection with the home.—Salem Statesman.

What are the facts? Col. Ormsby of the board was seen today and stated that no hasty snap judgment was taken. As usual, a Portland reporter got the start of the Statesman with the news, hence its howl. Mr. Ormsby of the board says the board says the matter of building a hospital has been considered by the board for several months, that Commandant-Byars had been instructed and had written to other soldiers' homes for all data obtainable about hospitals for those homes; this information was fully considered by the board; that every plan submitted to the board was fully considered; that Col. Ormsby did ask the board to hold a night session because he wanted to go to Portland the next day; that at that session the plans were fully considered and compared; that during the session the Statesman reporter came in, asked if a choice had been made; he was told the board was still considering the plans; that a plan was finally decided on late that evening, and after the session, Ormsby met the Oregonian reporter on the street and told him what had been done, hence the Statesman was scooped.

Out of that grows the above charge of unfair action by the board, but it may be stated that the board will not reconsider its award to Neer. It's the opinion of Capt. Ormsby that if the other reporter had got the news first it would have been all right, and the plan an exceedingly fine one in the estimation of the Statesman, and that hereafter he will carry a gun for reporters generally.
