MORE EMBALMED BEEF. Armour & Co. Covered Their Beef With Preservative.

By Associated Press to the Journal. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., March 20.—The army beef court of inquiry concluded the taking of testimony at Fort Leavenworth at noon Sunday, and at 4:15 departed for Chicago, where the session will be resumed Monday morning. The sole witness examined today was Sergeant Edward Mason, troop A, First United States cavalry, located at Fort Robinson, Nebraska, who served as regimental commissary sergeant at Lakeland, Fla., and during the Cuban campaign.

Sergeant Mason's testimony was probably the most direct that had been adduced since the court left Chicago. Witness declared that the meat received at Lakeland for use in his regiment was "undoubtedly chemically treated." "An agent of Armour & Co.," he further testified, "told me at the time that this meat had been treated with what was called preservative." Witness had refused to accept the meat. Sergeant Mason was interrogated individually by each member of the court, and could not be shaken in his testimony.

The witness was then taken in hand by Major Lee. He said he was detailed commissary sergeant at Lakeland about April 29, and served as such to the close of the campaign.

"Did you, as commissary sergeant, or acting commissary sergeant, for the regiment, draw any refrigerator beef at Tampa or Lakeland?" asked Major Lee.

"I did, sir."

"What occurred?"

"The meat we received was, in appearance, fine but it was undoubtedly chemically treated. One morning I went down to the refrigerator car to draw meat, and I objected to the appearance of it. An agent of Armour & Co. was there. I do not know what his name was. He told me at the time that this meat had been treated with what was called 'preservative.' It was as if it had been painted over with something like paraffin wax."

By General Wade—Were you at Lakeland when the car was opened?"

"I do not think that I opened the car, but I was there when it was opened."

"Was it a regular refrigerator car?"

"Yes, sir."

"It had only 3000 pounds in it?"

"No, sir; the car was full when it came in."

"Was the meat you got of the car before that treated?"

"Yes, sir; I suppose the same as the rest of it."

"Was that the only car treated?"

"No, sir; we would take about a car a week. We had four regiments there—the Second Massachusetts, the Seventeenth New York and the Fifth and Tenth cavalry."

"Was all the meat you got there treated with preservative?"

"That I could not say. The only thing I knew was that Armour's agent told me."

By General Gillespie—How did the agent happen to tell you about the appearance of the meat?"

"The meat was supplied in the morning, and it smelled bad, and had a bad appearance. The agent just simply speaking of it, said: 'That is preservative.' That is the chemical we use to protect the meat to preserve it.' As to what preservative was, I do not know."

"Was this agent at Lakeland or Tampa?"

"He came from Tampa."

"Do you wish the court to understand that very much of the meat supplied you of that refrigerated beef had been treated chemically?"

"I would not swear that it was, I will say that in my opinion it was."

"Did you call the attention of the sergeant to that meat being treated?"

"I called the attention of my commissary officer, my immediate superior."

By General George W. Davis—Did all the meat you got at Lakeland appear to have this glossy surface like paraffin?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you say that it looked like paraffin was over it?"

"All the car meat we received had that appearance?"

"How about the beef you received later in Cuba?"

"The majority of the meat we received in Cuba spoiled on us; it was the fault of the climate, as I thought at the time."

A Woman's Severe Charges.

Rev. Kasson Smith, who spent a few months in Roseburg, leaving for Eastern Oregon last summer, has a woman on his trail. Mrs. Mollie Smith writes to the 'sheriff, claiming to be Kasson's wife and wanting to know his present whereabouts. She says he left her in 1898 without being divorced, and she understands that he has a wife in Milton, Eastern Oregon, whom he also deserted. She wrote to the sheriff of Walla Walla (Wash.) and he answered that Smith had six wives. Mrs. Smith states that part of her husband's religion was that a man should be entitled to all the wives he wanted. Evidently, if her story be true, Kasson is practicing what he preaches.—Roseburg Review.
