OUR HERO

Colonel Theo. Roosevelt.

Was Presented With a Gold Medal.

What New York's Governor Told the Westerners.

By Associated Press to the Journal. LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 25.—Memorial services were the first thing of the Rough Riders' reunion program Sunday. It was held at 11 o'clock, a. m. at the opera house, and Rev. Uzel of the People's tabernacle ser. on. He said that the soldier who is forced to remain behind is worthy of praise and recognition as well as the man who is at the front. The Rough Riders, he declared, by their acts at San Juan and in the fighting around Santiago, succeeded in writing one of the brightest pages in American history. These deeds will be read by coming generations, and will kindle a new view of the country and an admiration for true heroism.

Lafe Young, editor of the Iowa State Capital, then delivered an address. Young served with the Rough Riders, and his recital of the regiment's experience at Tampa and San Antonio found a responsive echo in the hearts of the assembled Rough Riders. "The Fourth of July," he said, "is our national Christmas. It commemorates the birth of the nation. The Rough Riders' celebration should be its Easter, for it marked the resurrection. It remained for the Spanish war to bridge the bloody chasm, to put Old Glory everywhere, to wind up the late unpleasantness with the new battle-hymn of the republic. "There will be a hot time in the old town tonight."

"On the plains of Cuba," said Mr. Young, "when I saw the Sons of Veterans marching beneath the flag which their fathers died to save, and the Sons of Confederates clothed in the same uniform, bearing the same arms and marching under the same flag, and the sons of former slaves accoutremented and armed like the others, with the flag above them and the same purpose in their hearts, and 100 native-born full-blooded Indians, selected in the same lines and aiding the same cause; when I saw these, I made a vow to high Heaven never to be a partisan again, that henceforth and forever all Americans should look alike to me."

The parade took place at 4 o'clock. The regiment formed at Camp Cochran and marched to the tournament grounds, six blocks away. Colonel Roosevelt, rode as commander, accompanied by a staff of officers. At the tournament ground, Colonel Roosevelt occupied a box reserved for him and the guests of the regiment. As the rough riders passed and reposed the grandstand in performing their evolutions, Colonel Roosevelt stood with bare head. Each troop was preceded by its captain, as far as they were present. The scene was witnessed by 10,000 people.

While the review was going on, rain clouds were banking heavily in the north, and Chairman Whitmore, of the local committee on arrangements, requested the colonel to hurry the movement of the rough riders, ostensibly on account of the approaching showers. Roosevelt complied with the request, and in another instant the troopers were standing at attention in front of the grandstand. This was a neat bit of strategy, and before Colonel Roosevelt could realize why he was being spoken to Hon. Frank Springer, acting on behalf of the people of New Mexico, began his speech, presenting Colonel Roosevelt with a medal. After warmly eulogizing Colonel Roosevelt and his rough riders, Mr. Springer said:

"It is in recognition of the honor we enjoy from being thus associated with your name, that I am commissioned by the people of New Mexico to offer you a testimonial, which shall bear witness in permanent form to the esteem in which they hold you; their appreciation of your character as an American citizen, and their admiration for your conspicuous gallantry in battle. They also wish to indicate their devotion to your fortune in whatever civic honors the future has in store for--whether they come from the Empire state, which claims you now, or a call to yet higher duties and responsibilities by the nation itself. This token, of which I am about to beg your acceptance, is a product of humble contributions from every part of this territory. It comes from no man or set of men, but it is the united offerings of your old comrades in arms and their brothers, fathers and fellow-citizens who sent them forth to battle under your leadership.

"Permit me, therefore, in the name of the people of New Mexico, to present you with this medal of honor. Its intrinsic value is but a trifle, but we venture to hope that as a memorial of the affection, admiration and esteem which it represents, it may have for you a value not measured by such a standard, and that you may cherish it as an agreeable souvenir of your visit among us."

The medal is of solid gold. It is pendant from a bar by chains, V shaped, with the ends attached to the bar and joined to the medal at the center. On the bar are the words: "Colonel Theodore Roosevelt."

The presentation was a genuine surprise. Mr. Springer handed the medal to his young daughter, Miss Eva, who pinned it on the lapel of Roosevelt's rough rider blouse. The recipient was visibly affected, and responded as follows: "Justice Springer, and you, Miss Springer, and to you my fellow-Americans of New Mexico, I want to say I cannot express in words how deeply I am touched by what you have done. I prize this gift more than anything else that could have been given me, coming as it does, and in the way it does, and from those from whom it comes. For it comes on the anniversary of a day fatal in the annals of the west. Twenty-three years ago Custer rode to his death, with his gallant men, at the Rosebud, adding his share in the 'Winning of the West.' In the upbuilding of the West, which you have all upbuilt, bring up your section level in patriotism, level in highness of purpose with all that there is in this nation. I cannot say how glad I have been to come here. I never was in New Mexico before, but I have never felt like a stranger for one moment among you.

I claim the same right that each of your sons claims of glory, and take pride in the name and the fame of New Mexico. I am an American as you are Americans, and you and I alike have the right to claim and own every acre and rod of country from Maine to Oregon and from Florida to California. All I shall say is, if New Mexico wants to be made a state, you can count me in, and I will go to Washington to speak for you or do anything you wish. (Long and continued cheers.)

Col. Roosevelt's address was cut short by rain, which put a stop to the daylight amusements.

One of the features of the reunion was the presentation to Lieutenant Colonel Brodie, president of the Rough Riders Association, of a handsome and beautifully carved saber.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 25.—Although Colonel Roosevelt had departed, the enthusiasm of his rough riders continued unabated today. The rough riders and citizens parade took place at 10 o'clock. It was a mile in length, with a band of music heading each of the four divisions.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS.

No Nearer Harmonious Solution Than They Were Before.

By Associated Press to the Journal. LOUISVILLE, June 25.—When the Democratic state convention was called to order this morning the three-cornered fight for the gubernatorial nomination was apparently no nearer a settlement than it was on Saturday. Conference lasting until after midnight failed to bring any two of the candidates nearer together. Many delegates have gone home.

The convention was today thrown into a turmoil over the question of the removal of policemen from the hall, it being inferred that they were present for other reasons than to keep order. The chairman ruled that the police should remain.

Mr. Noel H. Jacks, the general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, at Oakland, Cal., is well known in Salem, as he spent six years in Association work in Oregon as traveling secretary for the Pacific Northwest. He has been connected with the Christian work done by the Y. M. C. A. for the troops mobilized about San Francisco bay, and has made the Y. M. C. A. work in the United States army a special study, having spent four months with the troops last summer.

GEN. OTIS' Latest Report on Luzon.

Filipinos Hope For Political Support Here.

No Reinforcements Until McKinley Returns to Washington.

By Associated Press to the Journal. WASHINGTON, June 25.—General Otis, in reply to a cable from the war department, asking for information regarding the situation and conditions in the Philippines, cabled a long reply, in part as follows: "Rainy season; little inland campaigning in Luzon. We occupy a larger portion of the Tagaloe county, our lines stretching from Imus on the south to San Fernando on the north, and eastward into the Laguna province. The insurgent armies have suffered great losses and are scattered. The only large force together is about four thousand in the Tarlac province and north-eastern Pampanga. In other portions of Luzon, in Cavite and Batangas provinces they could assemble possibly 2,000, though demoralized from recent defeats. The population within the lines is becoming dense, taking up land for cultivation extensively. The natives southeast of Luzon are combining to drive out the insurgents.

The only hope of the insurgent leaders is in the United States aid. They proclaim their need overthrow of the present administration, to be followed by their independence and recognition by the United States.

"This is the influence which enables them to hold out; much contentment prevails among them and no civil government remains.

"Courts are in successful operation under the direction of able Filipinos. Affairs in other islands are comparatively quiet, awaiting results in Luzon. The American troops have worked to the limit of endurance. The volunteer organizations have been called in and replaced by regulars who now occupy the salient positions.

The troops from Pennsylvania, Nebraska and Utah are now taking transports and the Sixth infantry has been sent to Negros to relieve the California volunteers.

Sickness among the troops has increased lately, due mostly to arduous service and climatic influences. Regular regiments lately received are inadequately officered.

The inadequacy of number of officers mentioned in the last part of the above cablegram has been remedied by the sailing of the transports Zealandia and Sheridan, carrying a number of officers for the regiments in the Philippines. Secretary Alger said today that no action will be taken for the enlargement of the army or sending troops to reinforce General Otis, until the return of the president.

New York, June 25.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Major-General Miles is an advocate of the dispatch of reinforcements to General Otis. He declined to discuss the political position in the Philippines, other than to say it was serious.

General Marcus P. Miller, who recently arrived from the Philippines, where he governed Ilo Ilo, has been living here since his return. General Miller's view as to the number of men required for the subjugation of the islands is very different from that of General Otis. He believes 65,000 men at least are required; 80,000 for the conquest.

troop of Luzon, and the remainder for the restoration of peace and order in the other islands.

General Miller's view coincides with General Lawton's and that of other officers subordinate to General Otis.

There is no truth in the story that General Miles has applied to be sent to Manila. General Miles would not wish to take any action to displace General Otis when that officer is doing all he can to quell the rebellion with the limited means at his command. Notwithstanding the report to the contrary, the president is satisfied with General Otis' course, and has no intention of relieving or recalling him. It is equally untrue, it is asserted by Acting Secretary Melkopoln, that General Otis has cabled that he will be compelled to retreat unless promptly relieved.

The Death List. MANILA, June 25.—Died from wounds in action: Sherman T. Shepard, Co. II First Washington.

TACOMA, June 25.—W. F. Sargeant, a prominent mining man, formerly a banker of this city, dropped dead of heart failure this morning.

Fourth of July. All members of the Fourth of July celebration committee, and all interested in the subject, are urged to be present at the city hall this evening.

Children's Day. Sunday was Children's day at the Chemeketa street Evangelical church and Sunday school under the superintendency of Mrs. O. C. Hutchins, the efficient Sunday School superintendent.

The decorations of the church were unique. A sea of cut flowers and evergreens covered the chancel, altar, tables and organ which were tastefully arranged. The basket of choice flowers presented by Mrs. Boeschen looked exceptionally fine. She has the good wishes of the school. The front and sides of the church were graciously draped with hunting, red, white and blue, two streamers running across the church from corner to corner crossing in the center.

In the morning Rev. A. E. Myers preached a stirring sermon to the children which bristled with thought and was full of good suggestions. An excellent as well as entertaining program was arranged for the evening, which was rendered with much credit to the children. While all who participate in the program deserve special mention we can only speak of the action song. "Just a Building Fern Leaf" by six girls was rendered almost to perfection. But the song drill, "Roses of June" by sixteen girls dressed in white took the cake.

The drill was very impressive coming nearly by a pantomime at times. The girls were divided into two divisions representing red and white roses. At the close of the drill the white roses crowned the red roses in a kneeling attitude with a wreath of red roses and the red and white roses in turn, all coming off the rostrum with rose crowned heads.

Mrs. O. C. Hutchins and Miss Lena Royal, for their work of rehearsal, and Mrs. H. Edwards and her corps of lectors deserve special thanks for their work so well done.

Mrs. Vanderpool presented her baby for baptism. N. Slupp the pastor performed the ceremony in an impressive manner. Long live Children's day.

The President enjoys a good cigar. You have a like privilege. When you are about to give your order remember to ask for "La Corona."
