CURRENT EVENTS.

Shoe manufacturers from all parts of the country were in conference at Philadelphia to devise some means to restore their business to a remunerative basis. The initiative in the movement was taken by the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Cincinnati, which addressed a call to all other similar organizations in the United States. The advance in the price of hides and other raw material is said to be responsible for the small profits realized by the shoe manufacturers during the last year or two. Opinions among the manufacturers are divided as to whether it will be more advisable to boldly advance the price of shoes so as to cover the added cost, or to cheapen the quality of the shoes. It is felt that one thing or the other must be done immediately, as it is asserted by leading manufacturers that they have made no profit since 1897.

Questions of great importance to the Roman Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America will be discussed at its twenty-ninth annual convention, which opens in Chicago for a three days' session. The matter of most interest will be the election of officers for the ensuing year. The present president of the organization is Bishop Tierney, of Hartford, Conn. So far as is known no serious opposition to the election of Bishop Tierney has developed, but it is said that the western delegates are eager to put a western man forward for the place. The temperance movement in all of its phases will be discussed and plans for the best substitutes for the saloon will be considered. Since last year's convention the union has lost by death one of its most ardent and influential members in the person of the late Bishop Watterman, of Columbus. The exercises of the convention will begin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning with the celebration of solemn mass at Holy Name Cathedral. The business sessions of the convention will begin tomorrow afternoon and will conclude Friday morning. Saturday the delegates will take an excursion to Milwaukee on the Milwaukee Christopher Columbus.

In Amsterdam, Holland, the International Congress of Gynecology and Obstetrics began its third annual meeting with an attendance of prominent physicians and surgeons from nearly every part of the civilized world. Among the accredited delegates from America are Dr. Charles A. L. Reed, of Cincinnati; Dr. L. S. McMurtry, of Louisville; Dr. X. O. Wender, of Pittsburgh; Dr. J. H. Carstens, of Detroit; Dr. W. E. B. Davis, of Birmingham; Dr. L. H. Dunning, of Indianapolis; Dr. L. Clinton Cushing, of Washington, D. C. The congress will be in session four days.

Toledo, O., is dressed in holiday attire and crowded with visitors for the big carnival, which continues through the week. Elaborate arrangements have been completed for the festivities, and the proceeds will be devoted to the fund that is being raised for the coming Ohio Centennial Exposition. The carnival will be held in the big armory building and the grounds adjoining, which have been fitted with booths for theatrical exhibitions, concerts and other forms of entertainment. One feature of the program will be an elaborate spectacular reproduction of the battle of San Juan. Owing to the reduced railroad rates the city is already filling up with strangers. Among the visitors are the members of the Hocking Valley Editorial Association, and Governor Bushnell and staff and members of the state centennial commission are expected to visit the city before the conclusion of the carnival.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a tea spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It cures all forms of catarrh, whether in the nose, throat, lungs, or elsewhere. It is sold by Druggists, etc. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

SPLENDID WRITE-UP

Here Are Editorial Notices to Be Proud of.

How Oregon and Her People Appear in the Eyes of Easterners.

Oregonians are peculiar. So thinks the editor of the Urbana Citizen and Gazette, of Ohio, which says: "Some of the peculiar matters here are the things the people eat and drink. They have baked Salmon, mountain lamb, with mint, highly cultivated frogs, spiced crawfish, which are very palatable, but which look horrid; oyster toddlers, spring chicken, clams from the soft Pacific seas, etc. and in fruits, plums, peaches, cherries, prunes, strawberries, raspberries, all are very fine, some of them superior to our Ohio products, especially the cherries. In drinks they use native wines, white and red, a peculiar beverage which is spelled bee-er, orange cider, another which they call Manhattan rootbeer, and Bull Run water.

"The phenomenal peculiarity of these people of the northwest is their amazing hospitality. We know little of it in the east. When you realize that these people came more than 500 miles to meet us, that they chartered the hotels to entertain us, that the great Oregon Railroad & Navigation company has not only furnished us free transportation over their road, but sent out their engines, engineers, passenger agents and commissariat to meet us and ask us to take these courtesies and to carry us free of all charges over the Columbia valley, you will begin to understand something of the nature of our welcome to Oregon.

"We thought that Ohio was the 'whole thing' and we hear good words for the grand Buckeye state from all quarters, but it really does lack the snow capped mountains and the magnificent flowers and fruits and the heavy drapery of foliage and the equable temperature of this wonderful land. As the colored brother remarked, 'I am powerfully taken with Oregon and the slope.'

"Cattle, wheat, hay, horses, oats, swine, lumber, gold dust, apples, hops and cheese are the principal products, all going up in the value beyond a hundred thousand dollars of production last year.

"We venture to say that nowhere on earth does roses grow in such perfection as in Oregon. The climate seems to be just right. The ladies of the delegation have simply gone wild over them. Every Eastern lady you see has an armful of roses."

"Returning home almost to tired to think, the writer cannot do the trip justice, with its superabundance of items of interest," says the Gazette and Reporter, of Odell, Ill. "But then it would take all the adjectives in the dictionary, all the colors of the paint pots and all the promiscuous prevaricators of the Pacific coast to properly color the delightful details of the journey."

We take the following splendid write-up from the Waterloo, Indiana, Press of Aug. 3:

"On the morning of the 11th we arrived at Eugene for breakfast where one of the most unique entertainments had been provided. Adjoining the railroad station stands a 'bottle,' that is a high hill resembling a mountain, the meaning of the word being 'alone,' arising out of the center of a most lovely valley, covered with the varied green of the growing harvest. On this eminence is a grove, and the citizens had prepared a long table on the shady side. Sportsmen, the night previous, had caught a supply of rainbow trout. Large pans, like those used in a sugar camp, were placed over trenches in the ground, and these fish, rolled in flour and fried in a mixture of lard and butter by the ladies of the city, were served hot, and to say they were delicious hardly does credit to the patriotic people who prepared the meal.

The emphatic endorsement of the fraternity was placed upon this unique meal, served in the invigorating outdoor air, on the top of this wonderful formation of nature, from which is afforded a beautiful view of the valley and the thriving town of Eugene, situated on the south bank of the Willamette river. It is one of the thoroughly live towns of Lane county, 5,000 population, with 22,000 in the country. Not so large but that a new corner can grow up with it, and yet so situated that it will never be a dead town. It has all the industries and advantages of an eastern town of like proportions, including electric lights, manufacturing, banks and a progressive people. It has a fine system of public schools, the state university is located here, and it is a healthful place in which to live.

The county abounds in plenty of excellent water power, and the people of the city offer great inducements for Eastern people to make their homes with them. Lane county is rich in agriculture; over one million of dollars marks the annual receipts for cattle, horses and hogs. Wheat is the leading product, and oats, hay, hops and fruit, with other products, add to the receipts. It is a delightful place to live and the climate comes under the influence of the ocean, not miles away.

THE BULLDOG.
He is a Good Companion, and is Loyal to the Death.

A real lover of dogs is apt to have a preference as to type, but he is apt also to be fond of all good dogs, no matter what the class of their special purposes in the world. The dog-lover is very likely in this regard the truly gallant man—he may prefer blue eyes and fair hair to the opposite, but his heart goes out to all women who are good because they are women and because they are good. To the uninitiated, an affection for a bulldog seems a perversion of taste, for the bulldog is not symmetrical, is not graceful, and sometimes appears to lack intelligence. About his intelligence, however, there is more than this one opinion; about his affection and loyalty there can be no doubt whatever. His affection knows neither hesitation, wavering nor change, and he is a rare comrade. He is not noisy, he is not nervous, and he is not given to demonstration. He fills the requirements that Emerson formulated as to perfect companionship. He does not need to speak to show his sympathy. He can tell you what he wishes to say with his little eyes and he can be eloquent with the waggings of his stump tail. This kind of a companion is not such that commends himself to all persons, for there are those in the world who like chattering and consider the unending small talk of the drawing-room the highest and most pleasurable expression of human wit. For such as these the bulldog is not likely to have the greatest attractions. Let such have a frolicsome dog or kitten that will chase its tail. But the bulldog is a good companion for a quiet man of a thoughtful and philosophic cast of mind. The bulldog will not disturb his musings, the bulldog will not say the wrong thing at a time when silence is precious, for the bulldog rarely speaks. When he does he is short, though not sharp, in his communication, and is very much to the purpose.—Criterion.

Tuttle Never Overlooks Himself.
Portland Dispatch.

It is stated that the Oregon boys were prompted in their desire to be mustered out in San Francisco by reason that those in authority never so much as recognized them when they were doing heroic duty on the field of battle and receiving the plaudits of the whole country. The authorities of all other states, when reports were sent out of their engagement, always sent them encouraging messages in behalf of the state which they were serving. The failure in doing so on the part of our state officials no doubt was purely an oversight, but the Oregon boys did not overlook the opportunity to get to San Francisco and make an exhibit of himself at the expense of the state. Had he done this, it would have been a great calamity to himself.

The Giant Despair.
One of the most horrible things about the nervous diseases to which women are peculiarly subject is the sense of overwhelming despair which they bring upon the mind. A woman's mental condition is directly affected by her nervous system, and any ailment of the delicate, special organs of her sex. Such a difficulty not only racks her body with pain and suffering but burdens her with mental anguish which words can hardly describe.

Thousands of women have had a similar experience to that of Mrs. Sarah A. Williams, of Westport, Oldham Co., Ky., in which the use of Dr. Pierce's wonderful "Favorite Prescription," has restored health and strength to the feminine organism, has not only restored complete vigor and capacity to the bodily powers but has also given renewed brightness and buoyancy of spirit.

"I suffered for over a year," says Mrs. Williams, "with nervous prostration. I was unable to eat or sleep. I tried several physicians, but they only helped me for a short time. A friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pellets. I commenced taking medicines last May. Took three bottles of the Favorite Prescription, three of the Golden Medical Discovery and three of the Pellets, and am now feeling better than I have for years. I have gained seven and a half pounds since taking these medicines. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicine to several ladies, one of whom is now taking it and is being greatly benefited."

A LIFE SAVED.
Dr. J. F. Cook, the Botanical Specimen Collector, succeeded where other failed.

To whom it may concern:
This is to certify that Bertha P. Comer, of Mt. Angel precinct, Marion county, Oregon, has suffered from a cancerous growth in the left ear for about three years. The growth was cut out twice and burned out once by Albany Physicians, but the growth came back as bad as ever, and pained her so badly that she had to be taken from school. After three weeks' treatment by Dr. J. F. Cook, of Salem, Oregon, the Botanical Specialist, the growth entirely disappeared, and at this date, four months since treatment was begun, the growth has not reappeared, and the ear has entirely healed leaving only the scars inflicted by the Albany doctors.

I hereby certify that the above statement is absolutely true, and that Bertha P. Comer, the person mentioned in the affidavit, has resided in my family since early childhood, bearing the relationship to me of niece.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this eighth day of June, 1899. W. W. Hall, county clerk of Marion county, Oregon.
