THANKSGIVING.

Successful Union Services and What Was Said and Done There.

After Which Salmesties Enjoyed Dinner Parties, Football, Masquerades, Etc.

The union Thanksgiving services at the First Baptist church drew a good audience from the different denominations, in spite of the prevailing storm of wind and rain.

No elaborate exercises were attempted, but a simple service of music and prayer and a short sermon made up the program.

Besides the music by a choir of ladies and gentlemen, two pieces were rendered by a quartette consisting of Messrs. Crawford, Jenks, Gile and Baker.

On the platform were Rev. Ronald McKillop, of the Baptist church; Rev. H. L. Pratt, of the United Evangelical; Rev. H. A. Ketchum, of the Presbyterian; Rev. John Parsons, of the First M. E.; Rev. J. J. Evans, of the Christian; Rev. W. C. Kantner, of the Congregational, and Rev. Henderson, of the Central Congregational.

The Thanksgiving sermon, by the Rev. J. J. Evans, was brief, but appropriate to the day, and showed considerable clear thought.

He deprecated the idea of crediting all existing prosperity to any political party, instead of to the Giver of all good.

He thought we ought to thank God for the wisdom influence of this nation. There might be much of wrong connected with the manner of bringing this about, but the fact remained the same, that this nation had acquired a higher standing in the eyes of the nations of the world. A broadening influence was exerted upon this country by the new situation, and new responsibility had fallen upon us to set a good example to the other peoples and the nations that sit in darkness.

There was arising a stronger demand for the purity of the home life, and the opposition to seating the politician, Roberts, was an outcropping of this sentiment.

The speaker drew from the well of crystal truth when he touched upon the growing movement among the people, the growing sentiment for a more practical Christianity; for the application of the principles taught by Christ to every day life, and to business methods.

It was a matter for thanksgiving that the people were calling for a more intimate knowledge of the Nazarene. Many of the problems confronting the world today would be easily solved by the practical application of the teachings of the Master.

Before the close of the service a collection was taken up for the Salem hospital, to help toward the expenses incident to moving to the new location in the Orphan's Home building, which has been given to the hospital. Exactly $20 was raised.

The service closed with the singing of "America" by the choir and audience.

CHURCH DEBT RAISED.

The meeting at the First Baptist church on Thanksgiving evening was a fitting close for a day of special religious significance, and it was a thanksgiving meeting in a very practical sense.

The purpose of the meeting was to finish the work of raising funds to lift the debt which has been hanging like a heavy cloud over the Baptist church ever since the completion of the new church building.

This purpose was fully accomplished, and the beautiful church edifice stands paid for and free from debt; and the mortgage will be cancelled as soon as the formalities can be complied with.

The credit for this grand achievement belongs mainly to the honored pastor of the church, Rev. Ronald McKillop.

When he came here about the first of this year the mortgage indebtedness of the church amounted to $4000. He announced his intention of wiping this out, and attacked the problem with a courage which took no note of obstacles.

How the thing was possibly done no one seems to fully understand, but when the meeting opened last night the balance remaining to be raised was but $600. This was a tidy sum to raise in one evening but it was raised and the seemingly impossible was actually accomplished.

One point which made his task seem hopeless was the fact that the church membership contained very few wealthy men or women. Nevertheless, the thing is done; the debt is provided for. The church and its pastor should receive the heartiest congratulations of all the good people of this city.
