Editorial Review.

The Philadelphia American, whose editor Wharton Barker is the Populist candidate for president, virtually confesses the disorganization and retirement of the Middle-of-the-Roaders, as a national political party. They cast but a fraction of one percent of a vote in Ohio and their existence in other states is not much in evidence. In Oregon Senator Holt, of Jackson county, is pushing organization. It is well understood at Salem that at least part of the expenses of these Populists in 1898 was paid by Republican managers in order to keep their name on the official ballot. As a sharp maneuver that worked well, but it does not in the long run under a party to the public, as Senator Holt will learn to his satisfaction. But no one can doubt the intention of the radical populist, socialist wing of the People's party. It is to run a ticket in 1900 for all there is in it. They should be permitted to do this and will do it, and trust to luck to make merchandise of some sort of all the dupes they can gather under their wing, and with the elder Vanderbilt said, "The people are d—d—d." Men like Holt, Young, et al., have conducted too many political hold-ups to much longer fool the people of Oregon. Their present plan of operations is to make people believe that under their guidance, and by the grace of one faction or other of the Republican party they can secure Direct Legislation, about as they secured binationalism by putting the McKinley party in power. Will not the people jump at the chance to secure reforms and purification at the pure and immaculate hands Young, Holt, U'Ren et al.? Of course, they will—that is a few will, perhaps two score and ten in a thousand, or just enough to be worth while to give them a working interest in the Republican sack.

The only other reform movement offered for popular consumption, is the article that will be on top so long as a can be forced into the walking delegates of the Multinational Democracy, under leadership of such patriots as Napoleon Davis, Pat Powers and the other leaders of the unperfected barroom brigade. These gentlemen are all engaged in the laudable effort of "reconstruction," disaffection and fugitiveness of the Democratic party, to make it acceptable to the nostrils of the rural voter who breathes something besides sewer-gas politics. Of course, they will succeed, and the state will rush into their arms like a lost soul into the arms of its guardian angel.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best remedy for all bronchial affections. It is a great mistake to allow a cough or cold to run on; for it may develop serious throat, or lung troubles. Take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once.

lic burdens to the lowest limit, keeping their pledges of retrenchment and reform, the people have a right to retain their services and continue such an order of things, whether it suits machine politicians or any manager's personal interests or not.

The right of the taxpayers to have a good, careful, efficient public service is above that of politicians and parties. If the taxpayer does not make it so he puts a premium on extravagant partisanship and pays the bill. So if the Unionists or Douglas or Clacksons or any other county have cut down the burdens of county government, they should continue their organization. But their organization should not be made the nucleus of a new machine operated by a handful of manipulators for personal purposes. For instance, this state is full of politicians whose only motive in calling Democratic and Populist conventions is to get a graft on federal patronage in case the Republicans fail to elect a president. Their ideas of political reforms are about as highly developed as those of the coyote or cougar. They would steal an office by frauds on the ballot with as little moral compunction as a starved darkey will rifle a henroost. This class will be to the front in all three parties in a Presidential year. The people know these fellows and know what to expect whenever they operate. They know no political principle. They ask honest men to become partisans that they may connubiate between the lines.

With no state officer to elect but a member of the supreme court, (and the general practice is to re-elect a good man), the effort of the machines will be to force the election of county tickets next June on national issues. If that can be effected the Republican ticket in Marion county has a walkover.

The presidential election is held in November, five months later. The only hearing national issues can possibly have on the June election in Oregon is in the choice of members of the legislature who choose an United States senator. But even there it is far more important to get good lawmakers than sharp unscrupulous politicians.

Of course, the greedy, hungry, aggressive, spoils element will be to the front in the Republican party, just as it is in every presidential year. The lust for federal plunder will predominate in the selection of the delegates to the county conventions. The federal officeholder will sit on the front seat and crack the party whip as usual.

Next to the senatorship and congressional nominations, the text-book trust will operate in securing the nomination of county school superintendents and members of the legislature. An effort will be made to repeal the Daily text-book commission bill. At the present prices of school text books there is from $25,000 to $50,000 a year surplus profits to the trust in school books. That will give up that amount of revenue, above what they collect off people in other states, without a fight, is not a snail, and the heads of families and friends of the schools might as well open their eyes to the fact. Already their blood is being employed in the largest counties and in some of the newspapers to retain their graft on the State of Oregon and to put their men into office.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best remedy for all bronchial affections. It is a great mistake to allow a cough or cold to run on; for it may develop serious throat, or lung troubles. Take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once.

The Binger Hermann telegram, tendering support to McBride, had the true ring of the Hermann telegram writer, whoever he is.

Roberts, of Utah, is a statesman of more than average talent. A man who can live peacefully with three women is not entirely without judgment.

Col. Alley's boom articles for Baker City read better than those for Harvey Scott for senator. They may not be more truthful, but they are more consistent.

Land Commissioner Hermann's friends are hastening to say the Washington telegram pledging his support to McBride for senator in 1900 is without foundation. If that is true the Eugene Register, a McBride organ, published a forgery.

Congressman Tongue has introduced a bill in the lower house and Senator McBride one in the senate providing for a pension of $8 a month for the Indian war veterans in the northwest. There are now, it is stated, one thousand survivors, out of seven thousand who originally enlisted, and three hundred wives of veterans. Any of the Indian war veterans who have doubts that these gentlemen will do as much for them as Senator Mitchell and other impetuous politicians from Oregon have done for them for the past twenty years, can write them and have all doubts removed in a long sweet type-written letter.

PAST WEEK GOOD.
 Salem Merchants Pursuing a Successful and Conservative Commercial Policy.

What does it? Plenty of goods. Intelligent advertising. The above question and answers explain the excellent holiday trade Salem merchants are having. Buyers are coming long distances so avail themselves of Salem stocks and bargains.

The Journal would again congratulate Salem's wise awake merchants upon their heavy trade and good business. The holiday trade is surpassing all expectation, and the crowds in town Saturday made a perfect crush. This happy state of affairs is attributable to two good causes, viz, good stocks and intelligent advertising.

The Journal has advised merchants to push their holiday stocks and to clean up their collections. By adhering to these points they will make the year's business that much better.

The Journal has decided to put out no holiday edition, and instead of soliciting business for such, believes it would be better for merchants to spend that amount in additional straight advertising in the city press.

MORMON CONFERENCE.

Meeting at the Opera House Addressed By Elders of the Church.

Joe Smith, Book of Mormon, Polygamy, Brigham Young, Brigham H. Roberts and Wives Left Out.

Those who went to the opera house Sunday afternoon with the expectation of hearing anything like a full explanation of the doctrines of Mormonism were disappointed.

The speakers confined themselves mainly to pleading for a fair hearing, and to assertions that their doctrine embodied the one true faith.

There was some good singing by the elders, some of whom have excellent voices. Probably two hundred people including many ladies were present, who listened to what was said with the utmost decorum.

The Elders seem to be all young men and are a fairly intelligent looking lot. The speakers were, Oscar A. Johannansen, of Idaho Falls, Idaho, and F. S. Bromwell, of Parker, Idaho.

The first speaker recognized the fact there is a strong feeling against Mormonism, and claimed that it is because the people do not investigate the doctrine, so have misconceptions in regard to it. Said that the Mormons do not go outside of the King James version of the Bible for their doctrine; that it is a mistake to suppose that Mormons have a Bible of their own different from the accepted version. They were seeking only the truth and claimed to be teaching the gospel of Christ, pure and simple.

This speaker confined himself mainly to generalities, but did advance one of the ideas which seem to distinguish Mormonism from all other doctrines claiming the name of Christianity, and which seems to sustain the charge of grossness and boastfulness. That is the doctrine that God is a material being, in fact, greatly resembling the gods of the old Grecian mythology. He quoted from the Bible in support of this theory, claiming that God must have body, parts and passion like a man, or He could not feel love, and it would not be true that He created man in his own image.

The Mormon system of theology should not be judged by individuals. The net gathers all kinds of fish.

The second speaker, F. S. Bromwell, covered much of the ground gone over by the first, claiming that people are prejudiced against the Mormon faith because they do not get their information from headquarters.

He enlarged upon the idea already advanced, of the materiality of God's person. The Bible accounts of God's seeing and hearing proved that He must have natural eyes and ears. His speaking proved that He had a mouth. He wrote the ten commandments on the tablets of stone with his finger, and the accounts of His love and His frowning proved that He had passions.

Mormons believe that God is a natural being with a body like a man's; Christ is the same; and the Holy Spirit is the mediator, between the world and the God-head, keeping the head God in form as to what is going on down here. Didn't even believe that angels have wings, but that they are exactly like men.

Then the speaker advanced another idea throwing some light upon his claim that the Mormon belief is drawn from the Bible. That is, that it is impossible to understand the doctrine of Jesus Christ, except it be revealed to us through a revelation by the Holy Spirit. This gives an opening for Joe Smith and the Book of Mormon, though neither was mentioned by name.

Upon this rock the Mormon belief is built—the doctrine of revelation. If time permitted, it would be easy to prove this to be true, by the Bible itself. The Bible taught that the true gospel would be brought by an angel. This was true. The angel has come. The gospel has been brought. Mormonism is "it."

The pursuit of pleasure is often as dangerous to life as the pursuit of the bubble reputation even at the cannon's mouth. Late hours, the breathing of a vitiated atmosphere, rich foods, and irregular rest, must result in a depleted vitality. There is a feeling of languor, the appetite fails, sleep does not refresh, life loses its interest, and nervousness or hysteria may make life miserable.

The preservation of the healthful tone of the body depends chiefly on keeping the blood pure, and the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition in a condition of health. When any of the above mentioned symptoms appear the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore the body to a healthy equilibrium. It purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and restores the deranged stomach and its allied organs to a condition of sound health.

There is no alcohol, whisky or other stimulant contained in "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I was troubled with very frequent headaches often accompanied by severe vomiting," writes Miss Mary Bell, San Antonio, Texas. "I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and so with each satisfactory result before drinking the third bottle I felt perfectly able to undertake the duties attending school life. I most heartily advise your softening with indigestion, and its attendant result, to give this great medicine a fair trial."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels. They produce permanent benefit and do not react on the system. One is a gentle laxative.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about the addresses given was that no mention was made of the founder of the faith, or of its history; that so far as the information given was concerned, no one could have suspected that Joe Smith, the Book of Mormon, Polygamy, Brigham Young, or even Brigham H. Roberts ever existed.

It can be seen, however, from the two ideas advanced by the speakers, and outlined above, that the door is opened, wide for just such abuses, delusions, grossness and immorality as are charged against this sect, which seems to be making an organized push for a foothold in the Northwest.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup Has Saved many a life. It can always be relied on to cure the dangerous croup and whooping-cough. It gives immediate relief and should be kept in every home. It only costs 25 cts. a bottle.

The Journal has had many complaints of late, but the highest of all came to the surface Saturday in the form of one of its old subscribers from western Polk county with his wife buying outfits for a family of nine children from the Salem merchants.
