A SUGGESTION TO SO-CALLED FUSIONISTS.

The People's Press of Albany presents the following plan upon which it thinks it might be possible for the people to get together for a reform in state politics:

"Let the chairman of the different parties, Democratic, People's Party, Mill-Road People's Party, Silver Republican any anti-republican organization call for announcements of candidates for the various offices, which can be done by petition or by announcement in the papers and then call precinct primary elections, and invite all parties who are opposed to the Republican party as now managed to attend these primary elections and vote for their choice of the various candidates, which elections shall be conducted just as any regular election and the ballot guarded just as securely, which ballots shall be brought to the county seat and canvassed and the person receiving the highest number of votes for any given office shall be declared the nominee for that office, regardless of former party affiliation.

"The people can meet then in mass convention and determine under what name they will be known, and formulate a platform or declaration of principles, or this can be done even before the election."

Will the People's Press kindly consider the following amendment? Instead of the chairman of the different parties, as party men, taking the initiative, let responsible men, as citizens, take hold of the movement. Let it be as open to Republicans as to others. Let all act as simple American citizens, of Oregon, leaving partisanship of every brand out of the matter entirely.

"Do not be afraid that this might result in the capture of the organization by the Republicans. Let the matter be handled in such manner that the people can take a swipe at the head of a professional grafter as soon as he raises it. And it would be no detriment to the ticket if some of the right kind of Republicans should be placed on it by popular vote.

Let the brethren consider the experience of the city of Salem. Without the help of the better class of Republicans, acting as individuals, nothing could have been accomplished; but with their head the city has been redeemed from the slough of despond into which the "gang" had run her, and placed on the solid ground of financial sobriety.

An anti-republican movement is not a non-partisan movement; an anti-grafter movement may be one, and there are lots of good men in the Republican party who will act with a genuine non-partisan citizen's movement in local affairs.

AMERICANS IN THE TRANSVAAL HAVE NOT COMPLAINED.

It strikes a thinking man as very peculiar that, with thousands of Americans in the Transvaal on the same footing as other Uitlanders, we have never heard anything from them in regard to Uitlanders grievances against the Boer government; that the awful abuses of which we have heard so much through English channels have never been complained of by the Americans who are there, and who have justice as well, at least, as do the English.

So far as heard from, only one American has returned from the Transvaal to say that the English are right. That is the American engineer, Hammond, who was mixed up with Cecil Rhodes in the Janina rail, an outrage for which every man concerned in it ought to have met the fate of any other common brigand or pirate.

Of quite another color is a communication written by I. Wilbur Reed, at Durban, Natal, October 28, and published in the Chicago Inter-Ocean. The following extracts are made therefrom:

"Frankly, Americans stand no better chance of getting the facts regarding the progress of the war, the news coming as it does through English channels from an English source, than has been the case in the past with regard to the alleged evils of the Transvaal government. That news was all manufactured to order. I traveled from one end of the reef to the other every week, and spent my whole time working among the men on the mines, and never found one Uitlander who was discontented. I never found one who wanted the franchise, but talked with many who said they had been there long enough to get it, but declared they would not take it. I talked with them, questioned them, and found the opinion general that the South African Republic was the best country on the face of the earth for the workingman. And last, but not least, I could not find one individual who would admit his signature was one of the 21,000 affixed to that wonderful petition from the Uitlanders to the queen. I hunted hard to find at least one, but failed to succeed, and feel confident there were not 2100 genuine signatures affixed to that document, let alone 21,000.

"There were evils under the Transvaal government, I admit, but there were other things that counterbalanced the few that existed. Johannesburg—and that means the Transvaal so far as the Uitlander was concerned—was cosmopolitan, and with Americans holding the more important positions on the mines, it was progressive. One could hunt all over the western states in America and never find a mining town so well governed and free from crime and delinquency as Johannesburg. And this under the despised Dutch government!

"Considering the opportunities he has had and comparing them with those of the Englishmen, I consider the Boer superior of the two. He is not persecuted by any means, and I have no great love for him, but he is every inch a patriot, and as brave as any Englishman that ever lived. Englishmen were greatly shocked recently when it became known that the Dutch were commandeering war supplies, but when the Boers stopped a shipment of gold and confiscated it their wrath knew no bounds. It was "highway robbery and no civilized nation would do such a thing." Monday troops and marines marched up from the Point to the local branch of the National bank of the South African republic, here in Durban, and took possession of it and all property and securities. That, however, was a horse of another color, and 'served them right.'"

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

NOT A SWEAR-WORD IN IT
The Britt Tribune comments on a decision on a dam case in the following amusing style: "The state of Iowa gave $1,000 toward building a dam between big and little Spirit Lakes. The owners of the mill at Milford said dam it they couldn't. The state said dam it they could, and the case went into court; the mill men getting out a dam injunction. The people around Spirit Lake said they wouldn't be dammed and the state said be dammed they would. And those who didn't want to fight by a dam site had to fight just the same. Some said the fish couldn't get up the dam site, and others said that a dam site could be built with a fishway that would let the dammed fish go up so that some of them would be dammed above the dam and others below the dam. The mill owners said the dammed outlet by a mill site was dam enough and they didn't want any more dam by a dam site. Then the case came before Judge Quorton, of Algona. Quorton knew a dam site from a mill site and a milldam site more about lots of other things than some folk have got hay, and he dissolved the injunction in soft water. The dam site will now be above the mill site and the dammed fish can go where they please for all Quorton cares. After the dam fishway is put in it is hoped that the dammed lake will fill up so the dammed mud turtles can get a drink and let the Spirit Lakes run their dammed boats and stop a dam site of controversy."

To Cure Constipation Forever
Take Cassell's Candy Cathartic. 50c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS
Cabin to be Named in Honor of a Pioneer Woman—Sketches of Several.
Harriet Clark Looney in Jefferson Review.
We of the younger generation realize little of the perils and privations the pioneers endured in early times. My parents were pioneers, and I reverse the memory of those mothers who came across the plains bringing their little ones into a land of toil and danger, and cannot think one of them more deserving than another when of all it could be said: "She hath done what she could."

Inactive Bowels

Many people suffer from constipation. This invariably produces stomach, liver and kidney disease. Constipation is a dangerous disease. Cure it with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. There is nothing better. It will not shock the system and it positively cures indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria, fever and ague. Try it. It may be obtained from any druggist. See that a PRIVATE REVENUE STAMP covers the neck of the bottle.

Good Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for Every One

The Jefferson institute and gave as much money as any other did to build up Jefferson. I have this from her older sons. She was the first white woman in Chehalis valley and will be the last old pioneer to leave it. She has raised a large family and is proud of her descendants. She is 92 years of age. The others are gone—she is here to appreciate the compliment had the cabin been named for her.

Grandma lives in the past and present. She never forgets "Pioneer," who has been here 51 years and never thought a family reunion or birthday party complete without him.

I knew Mrs. Parrish in my girlhood days, for she lived with her daughter in Salem. She was a lovely Christian woman and they were devoted to her. She went to visit a daughter in California and died there 15 or 20 years ago. She could not have lived in this vicinity over 30 years.

I am thinking of the pioneer women I knew—Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Conser, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Walter, Mrs. Gunnsales, Aunt Mira Doty, Grandma Roland—why, I can shut my eyes when I think of HER and see one of the clearest faces that "ere the sun shone on." They are all deserving.

This society names each separate Cabin after some pioneer woman, but the Native Daughters are not organized to judge who were the deserving mothers of the past generation of pioneer women, but to preserve the history and do honor to the memory of those, most of whom have long since journeyed to another country "from whence no traveler returns."

Warde Coming.
The story of The Lion's Mouth which will be presented by Frederick Warde together with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Brune at the opera house, Saturday evening, is undoubtedly an important piece of dramatic writing. It is of really fine literary quality, the diction being rich and smooth, while the metaphors and similes with which it abounds sparkle with the true lustre of a master creation. It is even claimed that the play is actually perfect in construction. Each turn of the plot windings its coils firmer and tighter around the hero and heroine, until a climax is gradually reached at which there comes a suspense that has been growing from the beginning of the play and is powerful in its intensity.

Some Evaporated Fruit.
J. G. Steinbrenner, of Astoria, was in this city yesterday, with some samples of prunes dried in his new patent evaporator. One of the samples was dried in 10 hours and the other in 16 hours, and dried down 90 pounds green to 25½ pounds dried. Mr. Steinbrenner says that prunes only dried down one-half. He expects to place the new dryer on the market soon.

The town of Sumpter recently sold 450,000 worth of 6 per cent 30-year bonds, which will be expended in the construction of a new system of waterworks.

An excelsior plant is expected to be in operation at Eugene about February 1. It will use about 2000 cords of balm each year.

McGregor's new box factory is rapidly progressing, being completely covered, says the Astoria News.

A Hindoo believing in the transmigration of souls, ate no animal food, because in destroying even a worm he might be destroying the body occupied by an ancestor. A traveler coming upon the Brahmin taking his vegetable meal, told him it was impossible to avoid destruction of animal life and, to prove it, focused a microscope on the fruit the Brahmin was eating. That pious person drew back horrified at the living forms he saw. What did he do? Throw away the fruit? Not he! He smashed the microscope and went on with his meal.

Dr. J. F. Cook, the Botanical Specialist, Succeeds Where Other Fail.
To whom it may concern:
This is to certify that Bertha P. Connor, of Mt. Angel precinct, Marion county, Oregon, has suffered from a cancerous growth in the left ear for about three years. The growth was cut out twice and burned out once by Albany Physicians, but the growth came back as bad as ever, and pained her so badly that she had to be taken from school. After three weeks' treatment by Dr. J. F. Cook, of Salem, Oregon, the Botanical Specialist, the growth entirely disappeared, and at this date, four months since treatment was begun, the growth has not reappeared, and the ear has entirely healed, leaving only the scar inflicted by the Albany doctors.

I hereby certify that the above statement is absolutely true, and that Bertha P. Connor, the person mentioned in the affidavit, has resided in my family since early childhood, bearing the relationship to me of niece.
