

MALARIA

An Invisible Enemy to Health

Means bad air, and whether it comes from the low lands and marshes of the country, or the filthy sewers and drain pipes of the cities and towns, its effect upon the human system is the same.

These atmospheric poisons are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood, and the foundation of some long, debilitating illness is laid. Chills and fever, chronic dyspepsia, torpid and enlarged liver, kidney troubles, jaundice and biliousness are frequently due to that invisible foe, Malaria. Noxious gases and unhealthy matter collect in the system because the liver and kidneys fail to act, and are poured into the blood current until it becomes so polluted and sluggish that the poisons literally break through the skin, and carbuncles, boils, abscesses, ulcers and various eruptions of an indolent character appear, depleting the system, and threatening life itself.

The germ and poisons that so oppress and weaken the body and destroy the life-giving properties of the blood, rendering it thin and watery, must be overcome and carried out of the system before the patient can hope to get rid of Malaria and its effects.

S. S. S. does this and quickly produces an entire change in the blood, reaching every organ and stimulating them to vigorous, healthy action. S. S. S. possesses not only purifying but tonic properties, and the general health improves, and the appetite increases almost from the first dose. There is no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic or other mineral in S. S. S. It is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy. Write us about your case, and our physicians will gladly help you by their advice to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases sent free.

THE SCUTTLE BUGABOO.

A Willamette valley paper, which is imbued with the conviction that the sun sets somewhere near the abiding place of Banker Furnish, since his man Friday went through the country well "furnished," shouts, "If the Philippine question is not an issue in this campaign, why did the late Democratic convention expend so much time and talent in defining its position on the question?"

We are in about as much danger of losing the Philippines as we are the city of New York, but, admitting it is a question in the campaign, the governor in the state will have about as much to do with the proposition as he will have to the granting of franchises in Cape Colony. Let us elect a Republican legislature and Republican congressmen, if we want to, but this can be done all right, thus securing the Philippines to the Queen's taste, and at the same time administer a much-needed and too-long-delayed rebuke to the "affiliated gang, always unscrupulous and always corrupt," which seeks to down an independent farmer for the benefit of a banker, solely because he is believed to be an "organizer."

The Philippine bugaboo will not fool the farmers of the state very much, not on your tinfoy!

REBUKE MACHINE METHODS.

A Portland paper, which has evidently been "furnished," declares in tearful tones that Furnish must be elected because the duty of appointing a United States senator might devolve upon him. Gracious goodness! What a contingency is this! Only once in the more than forty years' history of the state has a senator served as an appointee of the governor. The chances, therefore, are too slim, too deucedly slim, for a repetition of such a likelihood, to justify anything bordering on a general scare in anticipation of such a dire calamity. At least, the probabilities are too remote to operate as a bar against the necessity at this time of rebuking the machine methods of the "unscrupulous and corrupt gang of affiliated grafters,"—once confined to Multnomah county, but now extending over the whole state. No, indeed!

WORKING THEIR JOB.

The many new bureaus of "industry" created by Congress of late years have a way of working their jobs that is interesting.

When one of these survey of special department grafts gets ready its list of stuff to have it printed, they send out cards to people to apply to their congressmen for certain documents. This shows a demand on the part of the people for information which the bureau was created to supply.

There is now a great demand created for a geological survey on some Alaska islands that will not be ready for months. The mails are rushed with franked letters from congressmen saying it is not ready.

Members of Congress would be saved a great deal of useless work if this too-ready officialism were not so quick to extend its importance.

THERE IS BUT ONE LABOR CANDIDATE.

Of course, the Republican politicians always swing in for Populism and labor organizations, and even Socialism. No one can turn quicker and get in to line for a popular movement as swift as your Republican office-chaser. The Jefferson Review unmasks the claim of the Republican candidate for state printer thus:

"The Roseburg Plaindealer says organized labor is going to be recognized in this campaign, and it should be. That is our opinion also, Brother Conner, but if we are correct, and, of course, the Review and Plaindealer cannot both be in error, where will your candidate for state printer get off at? James E. Godfrey, the Democratic nominee, has been a friend to organized labor always, and a union member for years, but how about Whitney? Has he ever said even a friendly word for organized labor until after he was nominated for state printer? Did he defeat the organization of a typographical union at Albany in 1897? It is just possible the friends of organized labor in Southern Oregon would like a little information on this subject, and, of course, the Plaindealer is willing to give it."

ALMOST A NON-PARTISAN CONTEST.

The feeble opposition that Democrats are putting up against the Republican county ticket does not make the campaign in this county very lively. The quietness is remarkable.—Salem Statesman.

It is a fact that many prominent Democrats are going to vote the Republican ticket in this county in part or the whole, recognizing that this is an off year and that there is no politics in it. They say they want an united and harmonious delegation to work for the interests of Marion county. In the same way there will be a large Republican vote and especially among business men for Chamberlain and Godfrey. There is a great deal of business and very little politics involved in these offices, and as it is an off year the people believe in breaking machine methods and promoting healthy conditions in state affairs.

PEOPLE LIKE AN INDEPENDENT PAPER.

A prominent old-line Republican of Union county orders The Journal, and compliments it in the following words: "The Journal's bold and independent course in advocating the election of men to office who are in the interest of reform, and showing you are not afraid to attack the Great Scott in his den, makes it a paper that all voters should read."

The Journal's course in supporting Geo. E. Chamberlain for governor has not met with a single criticism from any business man or taxpayer.

The Journal takes its course and makes its fight for a good program, and it is extremely sorry that the Republicans put up a man for governor who is unable to stand for a plain business program.

The Journal would have been only too glad to support the whole Republican state ticket with such a man at the head of it. And so would all decent Republicans, and that without being paid to do it.

The above letter is only one expression out of many to the effect that Republicans endorse an independent paper. The program advocated by The Journal in Marion county has the endorsement of all the people.

The Journal's program in state affairs would harm no one and relieve the taxpayers of about one-half their state tax.

The people are not afraid of that kind of newspaper influence.

They are afraid of the domination of the Oregonian, as it has manifested itself for some years, and in this campaign, and should turn it down emphatically. It is not fair, just or independent. It is not unselfish.

Evidently Mr. Furnish's promise to give the Republicans a campaign they would not be ashamed of did not pan out. He did not prove to be a performer, but has to have the warhorse of Clatsop to do the snorting and prancing and pawing up of the earth.

"UNLIMITED CAPABILITIES."

Everybody remembers that editorial in the Oregonian the next day after the Republican state convention entitled "A Remarkable Career," in which it declared not only in substance, but in the plainest of words, that Mr. Furnish was the ideal statesman whose matchless qualities were not to be described in one day by any one man, nor at any time in any one language. The descriptive powers of the average man could not hope to rise to the occasion. While under the spasm of its bubbling admiration, the Oregonian declared, "The man who has done what he has through sheer force and will has capabilities and a future to which it would be hard to set a limit."

Great guns! But now comes the painful part of the story. Day by day and week by week the Oregonian has gradually, but regularly, in a way that is commented upon by everyone, withdrawn from the skies of euphonic adulation, and now, so far as the paper seems to indicate, the "Wonderful Man" from Umattilla is assuming the every-day form of common clay. We regret this very much, for the man of "unlimited capabilities" is hard to find, and easily ranks far above such men as Lincoln, and we feel it our duty to place Mr. Furnish in his guard, for the only other man whose "capabilities were unlimited" was finally crucified on account of that fact.

A man of that peculiar cast of intellect and power should be careful to not display all his qualities at one time. It is dangerous to the deity thus exposed, and unnecessarily tempts the thoughtless multitudes.

Perhaps it is with the thought of Mr. Furnish's safety that the Oregonian has abandoned calling special attention to his "unlimited capabilities," and has left the field to Fulton, Ballery, et al.

SCHOOL YARDS BEAUTIFIED.

State Superintendent Olson, of the public schools of Minnesota, has just issued a circular letter for distribution in all the schools, in which he makes a strong plea for the garden, and shows how easy a matter it is to beautify the school yards, and make a beautiful flower garden and playground out of what is nothing but a bare spot of ground. Superintendent Olson says that school gardening may be classed as a fad by some, but at the same time he is free to admit that the fad that takes children out into the open air, into the sunlight and brings them in contact with Mother Earth and nature, is less objectionable than the fads that keep the boys and girls confined indoors in learning carpentry, sewing, or something of that sort. It is Mr. Olson's idea to introduce into the schools elementary instruction in agriculture and horticulture, and he believes that the few minutes a day devoted to this matter will improve the child morally, mentally and physically.

Country Life in America, one of the new periodicals which has recently come to us during the epidemic of new magazines, contains an article in the current number on this question of school gardens, in which it describes the work that was done in this direction in four Eastern school districts, where the yards were nothing but plots of clay and sand, hampered down into a stone-like hardness. The children were interested in the movement, and, under the direction of the teacher, spaded up the yards, mixed the needed fertilizer, planted grass seed and flowers, and, by giving the matter a little care each day, they had school yards that were a matter of pride to every one of them. Unattractive fences were covered with vines, castor beans, etc., new shrubs and trees were set out, and the whole yard was made a park. It might not be amiss to say, by the way, that what others have done in this direction Salem can also do.

SENATOR SQUIRE FARRAR.

This republican candidate for the state senate was first in the convention, and stands first in the hearts of the farmers he has had the closest dealings with for the past 40 years. As a hop buyer he has the reputation of being one of the fairest men who handle samples. He has never repudiated a contract because he got the worst of the bargain.

He has never refused a delivery on

This medicine will purify the blood, restore the appetite, make the liver active, and positively cure Flatulency, Belching, Headache, Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Constipation. Try a Bottle and be convinced.

any technicality, and has never been accused of taking advantage of any man on a sharp bargain.

A man who can buy hops as long as the senator has and not fall into any of these pitfalls of the business that is so full of them, must be a good all-round business man.

This is not saying that Squire Farrar is perfect, but it is about as severe a test of a man as can be made—absolute honesty in the hop business.

The farmers can trust such a man with their affairs in the state legislature.

If Geer and Ford would pull together they could come nearer landing the next senatorship than any Portland combination. But then Marion county politicians have always fought each other, and let Portland men get away with the prize.

Judge Goodell, one of the pillars of the Republicans in Dr. Smith's ward, says since Governor Geer has run for populism he will not get 3000 votes for senator in the state. The governor will get nearly that many in Marion county.

The Oregonian has dropped all editorial argument for Mr. Furnish's election to the governorship of Oregon and the Philippines. It must feel that it has a more potent argument than it can put up.

Andrew Carnegie has given another batch of libraries, ranging in value from $20,000 to $75,000 each, and he is now on the briny deep, going to Skibo.

Friday night Greater Salem will get a more on at the city hall.

SCROFULA.

"Scattered consumption" is a good way of describing this disease. It is in fact a real consumption of the little glands under the skin.

Scott's Emulsion cures it. Scott's Emulsion is good for all kinds of consumption but especially good for scrofula.

It heals the sores—but doesn't stop there for the weakness and loss of flesh is the worst part of scrofula.

Scott's Emulsion feeds and strengthens scrofulous children.
