

J. L. STOCKTON & CO.

The Store Keeps Growing

In the confidence of everyone who has occasion to visit it. The mere telling how the store is, etc., wouldn't be interesting. The public comes here to look and buy, and our printed announcements are devoted to telling the news as it is found here, and it's always fresh, bright and interesting as the store and its contents.

The American Policy

Of small profits and a quick turn-over is what keeps the wheels of trade spinning here. Buy right and sell cheap. Keep the stock turning. It is the perpetual pushing of trade that keeps the factory fires burning and fills the working men's dinner pails. It also helps you to good goods at low figures.

go together. We give particular attention to these complications. The nervous exhaustion which results from strain upon the delicate muscles of the eye can only be understood by a careful student of the nervous system. We have been giving this particular study our attention with results which seem marvelous to those benefited with our new system and specially ground lenses for these complications. If you have tried various opticians and had no results satisfactory to you don't give up until you have seen us.

At The Fair

You are cordially invited to attend our exhibit and look over our fine assortment of vehicles and machinery. Salem's public will be especially interested in the vehicles, for this is the line in which we pride ourselves, surreys, buggies, runabouts, driving wagons, buckboards, and everything that the buying public demands for pleasure, with or without rubber tires, as well as delivery wagons, backs, farm wagons and everything that the business needs in the mercantile field. In the pavilion, too, you'll find our White Rotary sewing machines, and we want you to stop and inspect them. They're different from others.

Country Girl Monday Night

Miss Margaret Fischer the talented young actress, and her own metropolitan company, will appear at the Grand Opera House all of next week, commencing Monday night, September 14th. Miss Fischer is well-known to the theatre-going public of Salem, and will be remembered as "Babe," of the Fischer-VanCleve Repertoire Co., who played here two years ago. She is a Salem girl, having spent most of her life here, and has the reputation of being the most versatile actress on the stage, for her age, being only 16 years old. She is supported by a well balanced company, presenting a high-class repertoire of late and standard successes, introducing new and funny specialties between acts. The opening bill will be the beautiful rural comedy drama, "The Country Girl," followed by such well-known plays as "Triss," "Utah," "Homespun Hearts," "The Flag of Truce," "A Woman's Honor," etc. They carry their own uniform band and orchestra, giving a street parade and concert daily. Reserved seats will be on sale at the Grand Opera House Monday morning at 9 a. m. Popular prices will prevail.

Taken Under Advisement.

The motion of the defense in the case of the State of Oregon against Wm. Brannin, for a new trial, was argued before Justice of the Peace Horgan late yesterday afternoon, and taken under advisement until this evening, when the court will decide the matter.

Forest Reserves Not Needed.

Some of the pioneer citizens who were here Thursday made some statements as to the flora of this country forty to fifty years ago that will be surprising to many. They say that there is more timber and brush now than then and the area of wild vegetation is actually greater. The country back of Phoenix, which is now largely covered with brush and saplings of good size for fuel, is said to have been open and parklike with big pine trees. On most all the foothills they say there is more vegetation now than when they came to the valley. They think there is a better natural condition to conserve the water than then and evidently do not look upon extensive forest reservation as desirable, or at all necessary. That is the opinion we received from two or three very intelligent old gentlemen who came here fifty years ago and are among our foremost citizens today.—Ashland Tribune.

Garden of Eden.

Some time ago a resident of Colorado Springs, at the entrance to the "Garden of the Gods," wrote to the Salem Commercial Club for some printed matter descriptive of this city. Secretary Judah sent him a little pamphlet labeled "The Garden of Eden," and the result is that the gentleman from the Garden of the Gods has come to Salem and bought a nice little $3000 home. The Commercial Club can give the name of the man who was brought to this city at the expense of a two-cent stamp on the part of the Commercial Club.

What Became of the Lace.

A Mrs. Newton of Geneseo put two fine lace collars out on the lawn in front of her house to dry one day last spring. When she went to get them an hour later they were gone. She was sure nobody stole them, because she was sitting beside a window at the front of the house at the time, and would have seen anybody entering the yard. The next day she put another collar out and watched. A robin flew down from an apple tree near by and carried off the collar. An investigation was made, and the other collars were found woven into the bird's nest in a crotch of the apple tree. There was also a small lace handkerchief in the nest. The bird was doing the "fine-art" nest building and its mate set up a big outcry and pecked fiercely at the man in the tree when the nest was being pulled down.—Boston Transcript.

Home Industry AND Home Capital.

The Salem Brewery Association is Composed of Citizens of Salem who Spend Their money here.

We are investing $35,000 in making this brewing and malting plant one of the most thoroughly up-to-date on the Pacific Coast, and propose to make the quality and reputation of Salem beer equal to any on the market. Within a few days our own beer will be on the market. After two weeks we will be running full capacity. We have added new vats, new cellars, new cooling apparatus, new brew house and new machinery throughout. No old apparatus re-modeled. We are rebuilding one of the latest improved malt houses. Our ice plant has been doubled in capacity. We deliver ice to any part of the city.
