

RAGLANS VERSUS NAMELESS

Ball Teams Will Play First Game of Series Tomorrow in This City

The Albany baseball team will be in the city tomorrow and commence the first series of five games with the Raglans. The new Albany team, while it will have several of the old Foreigners in the line, has been reorganized since its last appearance here under the old name of Vancouver, and when the local fans arrive at Athletic Park tomorrow they can make up their minds to see some fast and snappy ball.

Since the last game here Manager Fay has secured Guy Wilkins, a brother of our good-natured Joe, and he will occupy the box one day at least during the series, and at other times may herd the horse hide out in the garden. Otherwise the team will remain as in the last series. Fay's finger is giving him considerable trouble, and it is stiff as a wedding collar. He will play his old position as short, however, and the people are glad to see him back again.

Albany has young Raymond, recently from the Los Angeles team, who expects to show the Northerners some new things about the game, but they are from Missouri and will not take his word for it. It must be an ocular demonstration, for nothing short of that will satisfy the doubting Thomases. Sullivan, another California leaguer, is with the Nameless bunch, and is said to be a good one. Sues, who had trouble with the local team, is now a Prebleite, and will get a warm reception (?) when he strikes the diamond.

The grounds are in poor shape, but the boys are at work on them today, and will have them trimmed up a little before the game is called tomorrow. Water is needed to keep the dust down, and some arrangements may be made to sprinkle the infield, at least.

A large excursion will come down from Albany on Sunday on the steamer Pomona, and many others are arranging to come on the morning train. The game on Sunday will be called at 2:30 o'clock, in order to enable the boat excursionists to start on their return trip at 5 o'clock.

An Albany paper reports that, before leaving that city last week, Manager DuShane, of the Eugene team, set a new suit of clothes that Albany would be in first or second place within a month. If that story is true it means that the Raglans will have to hurry to keep the lead, but then they are able to do it, with any kind of luck, and that is all they care about.

Juniors Were Ahead.
The Junior Alerts and the High School ball teams crossed bats for six innings last evening at the North Salem grounds, the score being 7 to 5 in favor of the former. A decision of the umpire was unsatisfactory to the latter, and they walked out of the game, and did not play the remaining innings. Some excellent work by the opposing pitchers, Keeton and Blaco.

So far as they go, Schilling's Best take doubt and difficulty out of getting your table supplies.

POTATO DEALERS COMBINE

Oregon Scud Handlers Will Make Californians Pay Better Prices

The potato dealers of Oregon propose to make the Californians pay for their spuds, and have formed a pool. The larger dealers of the "fruit" have entered into a compact, and the price is expected to climb up a notch or two in a short time. As the residents of our neighboring state depend almost entirely on Oregon for their supply of luscious Burbanks, they may forget what their favorite food tastes like, in the event that they think the price is too steep for their pocket books. The Oregon dealers are not alarmed, and say they have a "skinch." Of course, what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, and local people will feel the extra inroads on their purses.

McIlwain Strictly In It.
In P. S. Knight's brick block, on Court street, that gentleman is making some substantial changes and improvements for the benefit of the Capital Bakery, of which Chas. L. McIlwain is proprietor, manager, baker and chief factotum. When it is all done they will have two first-class ovens, instead of one, and a large pastry room adjoining an ice cream parlor. In this latter department Mrs. McIlwain will have charge. The pastry of this bakery is becoming so popular that a special room has become necessary to handle the business. Their bread business is also growing very rapidly. When Mr. McIlwain opened up he began with 270 loaves daily, but is now averaging 1326 loaves per day. This is a very rapid growth, and speaks volumes for their product, but they propose to keep up the output to meet the demand. An additional clerk has been put into the bakery, a man on a wagon and three omen in the shop. Billy Steinhaur, who knows everybody, and where they live, is in charge of the delivery service. Mr. McIlwain is a master baker, and all his friends will be glad to congratulate him upon his growing success.

Will Hold Local Meet.
The track team of Willamette University held a meeting yesterday afternoon and elected W. C. Judd captain of the team for the ensuing year. Mr. Judd is one of the foremost athletes in the school, being a member of the basketball and football teams, as well as a trackman.

The meets with Albany and Columbia having been called off it was decided to hold a local meet in place of these, and to this end a committee was appointed to divide the athletes and student body into two equal sides. This meet will be held during the commencement week.

Willow County Prisoners.
Sheriff J. C. Shackelford, of Willow county, and three deputies arrived last night and delivered to the penitentiary W. D. Alley, sentenced to two years for polygamy and James L. McComb, sentenced to seven years for assault with intent to kill. McCamp had a fight with some special deputies at Innaha, and wounded two of them. Alley married a woman in Innaha and after the wedding another woman appeared from California and proved that she was his legal wife.

Started for Reservation.
Three runaway Indians from the Chemawa Indian school were captured in Union county and brought back yesterday. The runaways are Norbert Moses, Cyrus Meeker and John La Bonty. It seems that the redskins became weary of school and ran away to go to work on a beet farm. While there, Moses had a fight with another employe, and severely beat him. This led to the location of the boys, and their capture.

Trainload of Wood.
Another trainload of fir wood is on the down-town switch being unloaded for the power house and the brewery. It comes from Jefferson and other points in the upper country, and requires considerable handling before it reaches the place of consumption.

HEARST PAYS THE FREIGHT

Idaho Primaries Cause the "Yellow Kid" to Spend Much Money

The Boise News says of the primaries in Idaho:
The Democratic primaries to select delegates to the county convention are being held in the various precincts this afternoon. Caucuses were held in every precinct Saturday evening and a full set of delegates nominated. It transpires that the anti-instruction people got decidedly the best of it. In a number of the precincts the Hearst people who went into the caucuses have bolted the regular nominees and put up another ticket and a merry fight is on.
At this writing there is no way of telling who has the better of the fight. The Hearst people are very bitter and declare they will annihilate every voter who runs counter to the undemocratic idea of corruption funds in primaries.
The anti-instruction people are doing nothing, believing that the primaries should be conducted in a manner to convey the free and untrammelled opinion of every Democratic voter, and having no campaign fund contributed by the "Yellow Kid" candidate. The Hearst workers candidly admit that they are paid for it.
You are invited to try the ice cream and cake to be served by the young ladies of the Central Congregational church Y. P. S. C. E., in the store room opposite Epley's store on East State street, Friday afternoon and evening.
