HORSE THIEVES AT WORK

Eastern Oregon Horses Are Tracked to Marion County

Pendleton, Ore., Aug. 6.—Within the past three weeks twenty three head of horses have been stolen from the vicinity of Pendleton, two of them having been untied from a hitching rack in that city and ridden out of town. "Jack" Sparks and Earl Rockwell, Birch creek farmers, tied their horses to a rack on Main street and went to the court house on business. When they returned their horses, saddles, schapps, spurs and overcoats were gone. Search resulted in finding no trace, and at least they decided that it was a case of theft, and three days after notified the authorities of the occurrence.

A few evenings later their horses, returned home from the direction of Pilot Rock, minus saddles, bridles and all other accoutrements, and also showing signs of hard riding. The thieves evidently rode the horses away to get the saddles. No clew has been found.

Thomas Kerr, a farmer of the Cold Springs country, northwest of Pendleton, has lost 22 head, which he trailed by clever detective work through Crook country, across the Cascade range and into the Willamette valley, where they were sold to farmers near Hubbard. The thieves left little clew behind them, but officers are now scouring the county for some evidence that will prove their identity. John Thorn, a farmer of the Holdman district, lost two good horses this week and it is believed they were stolen.

MARION SQUARE CONCERT

The Military band, under the able leadership of Prof. McElroy, discoursed excellent music last evening at Marion Square. The ladies of the Improvement League sold ice cream and other toothsome viands and a great crowd was present to enjoy the evening's entertainment and assist the enterprising ladies in their good work.

Monday night the band will play at Willson Avenue, the change being necessary on account of the carnival on Tuesday evening.

Struck the Road With Intention of Taking a Spin

Albany, Ore., Aug. 6.—Chief of Police McClain yesterday afternoon made a good catch when he arrested Miss Marietta Lewis, of Corvallis, in Albany and held her pending the arrival of Chief of Police Lane, of that city. The young miss, who is but 14 year old was masquerading in her brother's clothes and, as she had a close haircut, she looked for all the world like a handsome boy when taken in by the officer. The girl became dissatisfied with her home, and thinking that her parents did not treat her right, determined to strike out in the world and cast off home restraints. She secured a suit of her brother's clothing and dressed in this left home at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, walking down to this city. At noon when her father returned to the house from his work and the girl did not appear search was instituted and the police notified. A telephone message from Chief of Police Lane to this city, started the Albany chief out to look for the girl and in a few minutes he located her satisfied himself that he had the right one, and took her to his office. Miss Lewis readily acknowledged that she was the one wanted and said that she was had become dissatisfied with her home life owing to the treatment received there.

Chief McClain at once notified the Corvallis people and the girl's father Plutarch Lewis, came to Albany to take back his daughter. She was held however, until the Corvallis officer came after her. The girl was last evening taken home by her father and the Corvallis chief of police. She expressed great regret at the step taken and was glad that her escapade had not been more disastrous, for she suddenly realized the great dangers she had escaped by being overhauled. The girl comes from a good family, has always borne a fine reputation, and it was only a spirit of mischief that she left her home to see the great world, without counting the cost. On arriving in Corvallis last night she promised faithfully to not leave home again.

GREAT STRIKE PARADE

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 6.—The striking employees of the stock yard district and their sympathizers the total estimated to number 30,000 paraded this morning over a route in the vicinity of the yards ending at Oswalds grove, where a picnic was held. A platoon of police and a band of 40 pieces headed the procession which was subdivided into divisions, each with a band and police escort. Thousands jammed the streets along the line. The features of the parade was the vast number of women and children in line.

FINE STORE OPENS

Concert and Entertainment Provided This Afternoon and Evening

Today the beautiful new store of M. Bredemier, proprietor of the Yohama tea store was thrown open to the public at 2 o'clock and all afternoon a crowd of admiring people have thronged the place.

The store presents a magnificent appearance, with its splendid array of dishes, statuary and glasses, with palms placed here and there. In the rear room, is what appears to be an immense show case, which is in itself a room and contains the cut glass and statuary. The soft lights make the cut glass show up brilliantly and the wares need not to be handled to show their beauty. Mrs. W. F. Weniger presides over this department.

McElroy's orchestra discoursed popular music during the afternoon from the balcony in the rear of the store. Miss Antonia Kerl presided at the punch bowl and serves to all visitors. This evening the same entertainment will continue and the public are invited to come and inspect the store.

Money Very Slow.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 6.—Chicago bankers complain that the packing-house strike is having a most serious effect on the local money market. Millions of dollars that under normal conditions of business would be used in Chicago banks and threaten to depress interest rates.

The packers are very heavy borrowers under normal conditions not alone in Chicago, but all over the world. They carry loans and notes amounting in the aggregate to nearly $100,000,000. Of this sum about $40,000,000 is carried by Chicago banks, and since the beginning of the strike business has contracted so much that instead of borrowing, the packers are paying off loans and taking up notes.

A prominent local banker estimates that the packing companies had paid off $1,000,000 of their loans in Chicago since the beginning of the strike, and that they were beginning to retire their obligations at the rate of $4,000,000 a week.
